RADIO-FILM DEAL FAILS

R.C.A., Fox and Zukor Break

[illegible] Spokesman States War of Competition to Open at Once

[illegible] Executives Quoted in Sweeping Denials of Merger Attempt

[illegible]AGO, June 26. (Exclusive)—[illegible] deal is off and the [illegible] is on between the Fox and [illegible] film interests and the Radio [illegible] of America, whose rep[illegible] dispersed today after [illegible]-day conference at the Drake [illegible] where a merger of the radio [illegible] motion-picture industries was [illegible].

"We are going ahead with our [illegible] program more competi[illegible] than ever," said Leon J. [illegible], liaison man for the Ra[illegible] Corporation. "We are going to [illegible] and build theaters and what [illegible] we can't swallow into [illegible] organization we'll dynamite out [illegible] field."

PANTAGES COVETED

[illegible] J. I. Schnitzer, presi[illegible] of Radio-Keith-Orpheum, the [illegible] subsidiary of the Radio [illegible], announced that $50,-[illegible] is available to put Radio [illegible] into first-run theaters. One [illegible] first steps in the fight for [illegible] of theaters, according to Mr. [illegible], will be the acquisition of [illegible] Pantages circuit of more than [illegible] theaters, in addition to the [illegible] holdings of the entire [illegible]-Orpheum circuit by the Ra[illegible] Corporation.

[illegible] denial from David Sar[illegible], executive vice-president of [illegible] Corporation of America, that [illegible] merger overtures had been [illegible] by R. C. [illegible]LLOW, NOT MERGE

[illegible] statement was made to [illegible] of executives gathered [illegible] conference and was that [illegible] the Fox and Paramount or[illegible] refused to sell to us. [illegible] been reported we sought af[illegible] these companies. This [illegible] true. We sought to buy them [illegible]. Radio is too big to [illegible] picture field without be[illegible] dominating factor."

[illegible] concerning denials of [illegible] negotiations, Rubin[illegible] said: "Often banking inter[illegible] control of the industry start [illegible] negotiations without [illegible] in the active manage[illegible] of the industry."

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] See the Lindberghs are flying west. They have their camping outfit with 'em. If somebody lands in your back yard and you smell bacon frying it won't be a soul but Annie and Charley. He is the first aviator to carry his own cook. Lucky for aviation that he picked that sensible girl. Where would we have been if he had married some girl that thought her husband was too valuable to fly?

See where Fletcher, our Ambassador to Rome, is retiring. He always struck me as being about the best man we had in that service.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FORD SELLS RAILROAD

Buyer and Price Not Revealed

Defunct Ironton Line Bought in 1920 and Made Into Profit Earner

Terminated Venture Marked by Many Successful Innovations

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—The stock of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad has been sold by Henry Ford and members of his family to C. D. Barney & Co., it was learned today. The purchase was made on behalf of an undisclosed principal.

SUCCESSFUL INNOVATIONS FEATURE FORD CONTROL

DETROIT, June 26. (AP)—Announcement today of the sale of Henry Ford's Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad to an undisclosed group of investors marked the termination of the motor magnate's venture in the railroad field.

Mr. Ford obtained the railroad in 1920 for a total investment of $5,000,-000, after the line had struggled along for thirty years with many receiverships. In 1924, it was disclosed, the railroad earned $4,201,-883 for its purchaser.

EARNED PROFITS

Mr. Ford's administration of the road was a series of successful innovations. At the outset, instead of inaugurating a policy of rigid economy he increased expenditures for maintenance of way, equipment and wages, and made the

Bay City Society Women Die

Mrs. Henry J. Crocker and Mrs. Louis F. Monteagle Victims of Wreck

Mrs. Fannie McCreary Hurt; Drinking Laid to Driver of Other Machine

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (Exclusive)—Two women high in the ranks of society in San Francisco and California were killed instantly and a third of equal prominence was so seriously injured she may die when a little roadster, driven by a young man who later was pronounced intoxicated, collided, late today with the automobile in which they were driving in Menlo Park.

The dead are: Mrs. Henry J. Crocker, widow of a prominent San Francisco banker and member of the Ives family, pioneers of California, and Mrs. Louis F. Monteagle, wife of Louis F. Monteagle of San Francisco and mother of Kenneth and Paige Monteagle, young sportsmen.

Mrs. Fannie Crocker McCreary, daughter of Judge Clarke W. Crocker of Sacramento, was hurt badly.

HIT BY SPEEDING CAR

Shortly before 3:30 p.m. the three women entered Mrs. Crocker's automobile, driven by her chauffeur. They intended to drive to Palo Alto to get a friend and return to San Francisco.

A few minutes later, as the Crocker car entered an intersection, a small roadster driven by Carl Flannigan, 25 years of age, an attendant at the Palo Alto Base Hospital, approached.

Some witnesses estimated the speed of the roadster at forty-five to fifty miles an hour, and others placed it as high as sixty to sixty-five miles an hour. Without halting at the "stop" signs on Middlefield Road, an arterial highway, Flannigan crashed his car head-on into the Crocker machine.

Mrs. Monteagle was thrown completely out of the back seat, her body hurtling across a stone wall, and crashing to the ground behind the wall.

Mrs. Crocker was hurled into a telephone pole and crushed between the pole, car and stone wall.

Mrs. McCreary was pinned in the wreckage.

"PARTLY MY FAULT"

P. W. Spencer, the chauffeur, was only slightly cut and bruised, and Flannigan was uninjured except for a few scratches.

Sheriff McGrath quoted Flannigan as admitting the accident was "partly my fault."

Mrs. Crocker was one of the few wealthy women in San Francisco who managed her own affairs. Every day she spent a few hours in her office supervising the handling of the large estate left by her husband and administering charities. Her husband, who died in 1912, was a cousin of William H. Crocker.

MRS. CROCKER'S SON TAKES TRAIN FOR NORTH

Harry Crocker, son of Mrs. Henry Crocker, killed in a traffic crash in San Francisco yesterday, left Los Angeles on a Southern Pacific train last night, prepared to take charge of his mother's funeral arrangements. Crocker received word of his mother's death shortly after he had left the Chaplin studios, where for several years he has been associated with Charlie Chaplin as general assistant. He gave up a banking career in the Bay City to come here and learn the motion-picture business, and since his advent into it he has become a familiar figure at all the important social affairs of the film colony.

BELT HOLDS AVIATOR IN FIERY SHIP

Son of Sewer Pipe King Burned to Death and His Passenger Fatally Injured

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) June 26. (AP)—Held to a blazing plane by a safety belt, Francis Phillips, 21-year-old son of the late John M. Phillips, so-called "Queens Sewer Pipe King," burned to death under the eyes of 200 persons today as his plane overturned in landing and caught fire.

Conscious for several moments as the flames roared around him, Phillips shouted instructions and then entreaties to the mechanics and flyers who were making vain efforts to quench the fire and reach him.

Phillips's passenger on the death ride, Henry R. Goldsmith, was fatally injured and burned. He died late tonight.

The plane, a little two-seater, had just taken off the field and was about thirty-five feet in the air when its motor failed. Phillips apparently attempted to turn it to make a landing on a smooth stretch, but the plane nosed to the ground and burst into flames.

Goldsmith was thrown several feet clear but burning oil ignited his clothes. The safety belt held Phillips helpless.

Ambassador Striking Figure in His Evening Dress at Royal Court in Buckingham Palace

LONDON, June 26. (AP)—The simple dignity of the ordinary American evening dress worn by United States Ambassador Dawes tonight made him a striking figure at the third royal court of a brilliant social season held at Buckingham Palace.

The dress he chose instead of the customary silk knee breeches prescribed by court custom and adopted by his two immediate predecessors was accentuated by the brilliant uniforms and glittering medals of other diplomats representing nearly every country in the world.

As he stood in the diplomatic circle with Mrs. Dawes after they had paid their respects to Her Majesty, Queen Mary, the tall commanding figure of the general was the cynosure of many eyes.

WOMEN PRESENTED

Eight American young women were presented by Ambassador and Mrs. Dawes. They are Misses Frances M. Barclay of New York, Rosemary Baur of Chicago, Dorothy Chase of Waterbury, Conn.; Natalie Coe of New York, Pauline Fenno of Boston, Lillian Sanger of New York, and Mrs. Edward F. Hutton and Mrs. Aymar Johnson, both of New York.

Her Majesty stood in a beautiful gown of green and gold in the midst of the great ballroom in front of a single golden throne. The King still is recuperating from his recent illness at Windsor Castle. The Queen wore a diamond crown and the famous diamonds known as "the lesser stars of Africa" and also the Order of the Garter.

PRINCE THERE, TOO

As at the first court this year the Prince of Wales walked at his mother's side in the procession from the drawing-room to the ball-room and then took his place in the royal circle, while the debutantes were ushered forward one by one to curtsey to Her Majesty. The Prince stood chatting with Princess Ingrid of Sweden and others of the royal circle. He wore the scarlet uniform of a colonel of the Welsh guards while the Princess was charming in a dress of soft pastel shade.

The gowns of the American debutantes, several of which were sepecially designed in Paris, attracted much attention. All wore the regulation head dress with three feathers.

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) June 26. (AP)—Capt. Frank M. Hawks's monoplane was groomed and fueled tonight for a take-off at 4 a.m. tomorrow on a flight in which he hopes to break three records. Weather data received by Roosevelt Field officials show conditions favorable on the New York-Columbus-Kansas City route to Los Angeles.

Hawks plans to fly to the Coast, refuel and return immediately to New York in an effort to better the east-to-west and west-to-east records (the latter held by himself) and also the round-trip time.

HEAVY GALE BATTERS AT BYRD CAMP

Most Severe Blizzard Since Antarctic Autumn Sweeps Little America

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1929, by Los Angeles Times, New York Times and St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) June 25. (Exclusive)—The worst blizzard we have had since last fall—our fall, is blowing today. The wind has climbed steadily since morning to a gale that shakes the chimney pipes and rattles the stoves.

It is driving about the loose snow which has fallen recently making a smother in which things only a few yards away are invisible.

Harrison went overland from his house the other day for, being a meteorologist, he is sufficiently interested in the weather to tempt it occasionally when most everyone sticks to the tunnel. He missed the large house and wandered two or three hundred yards to the east before realizing he had overshot his mark. Then he turned and by the light on the radio tower which Commander Byrd had put there for just such an emergency he found his way back again and finally stumbled over the house.

The entrance was almost entirely concealed by snow but he managed to dig his way in and came in with his usual nonchalant manner but covered with snow. The light is sixty feet high and some feet above the drift so that it is visible for a long way when objects on the ground are hidden from sight by the whirling curtain of snow.

San Francisco Gasoline War Breaks Anew

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (AP)—The gasoline price war, apparently settled two months ago, broke out again in this city today, when a score of independent dealers, aroused by the asserted price-cutting tactics of oil company-owned stations, announced a reduction of 2 cents a gallon to 18 cents.

The Retail Service Station Owners' Association, although disclaiming responsibility for today's development, admitted it would probably vote a general price cut throughout the city within twenty-four hours.

Officials of the large oil companies denied underselling the market and declared they would maintain the present 20-cent price until "forced to lower it by circumstances."

The Mexican government has not considered it inconvenient to grant this permission, which is in accordance with Mexican law as well as international custom, which permits the citizens of any country to establish themselves honestly in another."

MILTON PIKE JAILED ON BRIBE-TAKING CHARGE

Offered to Change Testimony in Davis Case for Cash, Says Graft Trial Defendant

Milton Pike, former Spring-street tailor whose testimony and diary comprised some of the important evidence in the graft trial of former Dist.-Atty. Keyes, was arrested yesterday and locked up in the County Jail on charges of accepting money to change his testimony in the forthcoming trial of Harold (Buddy) Davis, ex-deputy District Attorney, on charges similar to those in the Keyes case. The Davis trial is scheduled to start next Monday. The complaint was sworn to by Davis and bail was fixed by Municipal Judge Ambrose at $15,000.

The arrest of Pike, whose true name is Mario Amundsen, was made in a downtown hotel by two traffic officers who were called in after Pike is asserted to have received $320 in marked bills. The money was recovered from the tailor's pocket according to the arresting officers.

From the hotel where his arrest took place Pike was taken to Central Police Station and booked on a felony charge and then rushed to Municipal Judge Ballard's court. Davis who appeared with Paul D'Orr, his counsel, swore to a complaint against the prisoner without taking the matter up with the District Attorney's office and a warrant was issued. The prisoner then was taken before Municipal Judge Ambrose, bail fixed and arraignment set for July 3.

STATEMENT BY D'ORR

In a statement to the press Mr. D'Orr declared that the chain of incidents which ended with Pike's arrest had its inception some four days ago when Fred L. Packard, a former Julian Oil Company employee and a State witness in the Julian fraud cases, called on Davis and informed him that Pike and another State's witness against Davis had approached him with an offer to testify in Davis's behalf at the coming trial. Packard informed Davis that Pike would be glad to meet him and discuss the matter, D'Orr said.

"I advised Mr. Davis at once to go with me to Judge Doran and then to Mr. Maltman of the Attorney-General's office," said D'Orr. "We also placed the whole affair before a number of local attorneys. This was done so that no one who might be interested in the case could accuse us of attempting to bribe Pike.

"After we had laid the affair before the proper authorities, Mr. Davis went ahead and had conference after conference with Packard, who was working with us on the matter, with Pike and one other of the persons interested in the Davis case.

"Pike made his offer to sell out and promised for a certain sum of money to stand on his rights and refuse to testify when called by the State against Davis or to make a statement in favor of my client when he was called to the stand by the prosecution.

"The price for this was to be $1000.

DICTAPHONE TRAP

"Yesterday afternoon the affair came to a head and with Harry M. Hull, chief of the criminal department of the Nick Harris Detective Agency, listening at the door and Ben Smith, court reporter, installed at the end of a dictaphone, Davis, Packard and Pike met in a downtown hotel. Pike again went over the matter with Mr. Davis in the presence of Packard and then the money was passed. In all, Pike was given $320 in marked money, the first installment on $1000. As he left the room he was placed under arrest by two officers we had called in from the street and the money was recovered from his pockets.

"Today when we have assembled all of our facts and evidence we will call upon the District Attorney and turn over to him everything in our possession. I am sure that Mr. Fitts will give the matter his prompt attention and will see to it that justice is done."

Mr. Davis refused to comment on the matter following Pike's arrest and indicated that his attorney would do the talking. "I am sure that justice will be done in this matter," was his only remark after

FITTS WILL SIFT CASE

Arrest of Pike is Surprise

Investigation of Charge Against State Witness is Ordered

District Attorney Pledges Prosecution to Limit of Guilty Persons

A most searching investigation of every detail connected with the entrapment, arrest and incarceration of Milton Pike on charges of taking a bribe to change his testimony will be undertaken by the District Attorney's office, according to Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

Information of the arrest of Pike came to the District Attorney late yesterday afternoon after the complaint had been issued, and while the prisoner was awaiting arraignment. It was a complete surprise, and Fitts immediately started investigators on the case.

The District-Attorney sent for his chief deputy, Robert P. Stewart, who is in charge of the prosecution of the case against Harold L. Davis, and after a conference issued the following formal statement:

"I have just learned of the arrest of Milton Pike on an affidavit filed by Harold L. Davis, former Chief Deputy District Attorney, who goes on trial Monday morning on a charge of receiving a bribe. Pike is under subpoena to testify against Davis at the trial, and is one of the witnesses turned over to this office by the 1928 grand jury.

"According to Mr. Davis, Pike attempted to extort money from him. I have not had an opportunity to investigate this matter, but will do so immediately.

"If it develops that Mr. Davis, or others in combination with him are using this method to harass State witnesses against him and to obstruct justice, appropriate action will be taken. Likewise, if it develops that Mr. Pike is guilty of the charge, this office will use every resource in his prosecution."

"FRAME-UP!" CRIES PIKE

Arrested ex-Tailor Says They're "Getting" Him for His Part in Keyes Case

Charging that his arrest is part of a "gigantic frame-up" and that he is being "railroaded to prison" for his testimony in the bribery and conspiracy case against former Dist.-Atty. Asa Keyes, Milton Pike, arrested yesterday on a charge of taking money to change his testimony in the Davis case, asserted a few moments after his arrest that he can explain the entire transaction, and the reasons for his meetings with Harold L. Davis and others.

"This is one of the most gigantic frame-ups ever attempted," Pike declared as he waited in the courtroom of Municipal Judge Ballard for the issuance of the complaint and the service.

"I am being made the goat, and suppose the skids are now greased to send me to prison. And it is all brought about through my appearance against Keyes, Getzoff and others in the bribe cases.

"I should have gotten out of this town long ago. I should have known these fellows well enough to know that they would eventually get me."

PIKE'S STORY

In his explanation of his meetings with Davis and others Pike said:

"I have been trying for several months to get a complete copy of the names and addresses of the stockholders of the Julian Petroleum Corporation. I wanted this list of names for advertising and mailing purposes. I have tried for some time to get financial backing to open a tailoring business in Los Angeles without success. I am now planning on writing a book that will give a complete history of the ramifications in the Julian bribery and conspiracy cases. This book I expected to be a fuller expose of the crookedness that I observed than I gave on the witness stand.

"I expected to write a letter to each former Julian stockholder and tell them about the book, and ask them to buy a copy. This I believed would bring me good financial returns.

LIST WANTED

"Through a Mr. Packard, who I understand is a former auditor or book-keeper for the Julian concern, I met Mr. Davis. Packard I knew was close to Jack Bennett, and I thought that with Packard's help, and aided by Davis I might secure a correct list. Bennett gave me a list sometime ago, but I found that it was not correct.

"Packard promised that he would aid me in securing the list, and also introduced me to Davis. I knew that I was to be used as a witness in the coming trial of Davis, and I

he had sworn to the complaint against Pike.

THE CHARGE

The complaint and warrant under which Pike is being held is Section 138 of the Penal Code and is headed "Taking or offering to take a bribe." It reads: "Every person who is a witness, or is about to be called as such, who receives or offers to receive, any bribe, upon any understanding that (1) his testimony shall be influenced thereby, or (2) that he will absent himself from trial or proceedings upon which his testimony is required, is guilty of a felony."

Pike following his arrest declared that he had been "framed." He said that he had several meetings with Davis and had given him a lot of "bunk" about his case. He admitted that the arresting officers had taken the marked money from him, but declared that it had been placed in his pocket by Packard.

Later in the evening when questioned in the County Jail by Blayney Mathews, assistant chief of detectives in the District Attorney's office, Pike admitted that he had taken the money in question. According to Mathews, Pike told him that he had been handed a roll of bills by Packard just as he was leaving the hotel room and that he had placed the money in his pocket. He did not explain what he took the money for and held he did not know the exact amount of the roll.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts, although in possession of few facts surrounding the astonishing case, declared that he will make a full investigation of the entire affair and place it all in the hands of the grand jury. The various investigations will probably be put under way today.

Superior Judge Doran when informed of Pike's arrest last night declared, "Mr. D'Orr and Mr. Davis came to me in my chambers several days ago and informed me of the asserted actions of Pike. They went over the matter with me and informed me at the time that they had taken this step to have the entire affair of record. They informed me at the time of what they intended to do and that an arrest would probably follow."

SCENE IN HOTEL

The actual arrest of Pike was made by Patrolman C. E. Walker and Traffic Officer J. T. Hamilton, on duty at Fifth and Olive streets.

Walker's report of what happened was substantially as follows:

Shortly after 2 o'clock in the afternoon, he was approached by an assistant manager of a large nearby hotel and told that "a fellow in room 7121 wanted to see an officer."

"When I got up there I found Attorney Paul D'Orr and Thomas Reynolds in the room," said Walker. "They told me that two men would soon appear that would be guilty of attempted extortion, and should be arrested.

"After a few questions I decided that as long as there were two suspects I should have some assistance and obtained Officer Hamilton from the corner to help me. Attorney D'Orr furnished me with a type written list of the numbers of four $50 and six $20 bills that he said we would find on the men we would arrest. The first number on the list of fifties was L1119227A-12L, and the others ran in almost the same series.

"We were placed out of sight in a room down the hall from the one in which we later learned Davis was and told to wait. At that time we did not know the name or have any other identification on the man we were to arrest. After some time had passed, Harry Hull, of the Nick Harris Detective Agency, hurried into the room and said that our man was in the hall.

"We walked out and there was Pike.

"'What have you got on you?' I asked him.

FIND MARED MONEY

"He never said a word but just pulled out a roll of bills and handed them to me. I examined them and the numbers checked with the typewritten list D'Orr had given me.

"We took Pike down to the City Jail and booked him for suspicion of extortion. When we searched him we found that he only had 6cents in addition to the $320 he is asserted to have extorted from Davis. He gave his age as 34 years and his address as the St. Regis Hotel. He also had some keys, a bank book and a watch and chain.

"After we had had him in custody for some time, Pike declared he had been 'framed' but he didn't give us any details."

Informed that Davis had gone to Municipal Judge Ballard's court to swear out a complaint, the two arresting officers took Pike to the judge's court soon after they had booked him at Central Station. The complaint, signed by Davis, was ready when they arrived and Pike almost immediately was shifted to Municipal Judge Ambrose's court for arraignment.

Breaking the continuity of a case on trial at the time in his court, Judge Ambrose called Pike's name and the defendant stood up.

"Have you read the complaint and do you understand what you are charged with?" the court asked him.

"I do," replied Pike.

"You understand that you have the processes of the court and the opportunity to secure an attorney to defend you?" continued Judge Ambrose.

Pike declared that he would like the opportunity to get an attorney.

The court then asked Officer Walker what he knew of the facts of the case, and the policeman replied that he knew very little but had the marked money in his possession that he would like to give to the court as evidence in the case.

HIGH BAIL FIXED

Judge Ambrose instructed that this be done and then set Pike's time to enter plea on July 3, next, at 9:45 a.m. He fixed bail at $15,000.

Immediately after the arraignment Pike was taken to the County Jail, also in the Hall of Justice, and there locked up. Pike said he does not know who he will retain as his attorney.

PIKE PRINCIPAL IN KEYES CASE

Arrested Tailor One of Main State Witnesses

Also Scheduled to Testify Against H. L. Davis

Milton Pike, arrested yesterday on the complaint of Harold L. Davis, former Deputy District Attorney, was one of the important witnesses for the State in the trial of former Dist.-Atty. Asa Keyes, convicted with Ed Rosenberg and Ben Getzoff on bribery-conspiracy charges in connection with the "fixing" of the Julian Petroleum fraud cases. He was perhaps second in importance as a prosecution witness to Jacob Berman (Jack Bennett,) confessed co-conspirator who turned State's evidence to become a witness against Keyes, Getzoff and Rosenberg.

It was Pike's story to the grand jury, corroborated by that of Joseph Sherman and John Rettinger, fellow-employees with Pike in the Spring-street tailor shop of Ben Getzoff, which originally led to the indictment of Keyes, Getzoff, Rosenberg, Jack Rosenberg, Ed's brother; Dave Getzoff, son of Ben, and Charles Reimer, investigator for Keyes, on the conspiracy charges. The cases against all but the first three were dismissed in the course of the trial. Keyes, Ben Getzoff and Ed Rosenberg were convicted by a jury. Keyes and Rosenberg were sentenced to one to fourteen years in prison and are now in jail pending the outcome of their appeals. Getzoff was given probation on the strength of his confession of his part of the conspiracy, made subsequent to his conviction, and because of his poor health.

BASED ON DIARY

Pike's story to the grand jury and on the witness stand in the actual trial was based almost wholly upon a diary which he said he kept while employed in the Getzoff shop. This diary, a bulky document transcribed from the backs of business cards and scraps of paper, consisted of a circumstantial, day-to-day account of meetings which Pike said he witnessed in the tailor shop between Keyes and his agents, Getzoff and the Julian fraud case defendants, chiefly Bennett and Ed Rosenberg. Ben Getzoff acted in the role of chief "fixer" of the Julian and other cases, a part to which he subsequently confessed, and the State built up its case upon the story of Bennett, who said he paid Getzoff large sums to be given Keyes in return for the sort of prosecution that would result in acquittal, upon Pike's story of the meetings at the Getzoff establishment and upon the testimony of other witnesses having knowledge of many costly gifts made to Keyes by Getzoff, Bennett, Rosenberg and others.

STORY CORROBORATED

The Pike diary, corroborated by Sherman and Rettinger, covered a period of several months before and after the acquittal of the Julian case defendants. In it Pike related having witnessed, with the aid of a long mirror, almost daily meetings of the conspirators in the back room of the tailor shop and of conversations overheard therein. Much of the diary's contents was not of itself incriminating except in conjunction with other circumstances brought out by the State. In fact, Keyes himself admitted frequent visits to the tailor shop and the receipt of gifts which he said he supposed were merely friendly offerings from Ben Getzoff, whom he supposed to be a wealthy patron of his.

The introduction of the Pike diary as evidence was bitterly fought by defense attorneys, and only admitted after the court ruled that the witness might use it to refresh his memory. Pike was the first important witness called by the prosecution, and his direct examination oc-used this in stringing them along so that I might get the list. I had several meetings, and talked with them about many things, including the coming trial, my testimony before the grand jury and at the Keyes trial."

Questioned more closely about his meeting at the hotel yesterday, Pike said:

"I went to the room by prearrangement, and after some conversation I walked out of the room. Here two police officers placed me under arrest, and I had the money in my pocket."

"How did that money get in your pocket?" Pike was asked. "Well, it was put there, and I know who did it," he answered. "Then you didn't take it from anyone and put it in your pocket?" he was queried. He reiterated that another man, whom he named, "slipped the money in my pocket."

Pike took his arrest very casually. He seemed cool and self-possessed.

Sitting in the court room he was handed a copy of the complaint, which he read very carefully—then read it again. He smiled at the charge related, and then turned to his questioner and asked: "How big is the penalty for what they have charged here?" He was told about "twenty years," and this seemed to cause him some amusement. He laughed aloud.

KEYES WILL RENEW BAIL PLEA TODAY

Attorneys Will Present Petition on Ill Health to Appeals Court

Basing their petition on an affidavit signed by eight physicians, Attorneys Paul Schenck and Milton Cohen today will go before Judges Craig, Thompson and Work in the District Court of Appeals and ask that former Dist.-Atty. Asa Keyes be released from the County Jail on bail pending adjudication of his appeal.

The affidavit will set forth that Keyes's health is so poor that unless he is released so that he may be given the proper medical care it will be permanently impaired. It is signed by Drs. F. S. Dillingham, E. L. Commons, H. A. Rosencranz, W. B. Dakin, R. A. Spicer, Benjamin Blank, W. Haworth and C. W. Cook.

It is believed the court will consider the petition and then set date for oral argument on it, at which time the attorneys will ask the physicians to take the stand and introduce oral testimony in support of their affidavit. The petition indicates the amount of bail will be left to the discretion of the court.

AMERICA AVOIDS TANGLE OF DEBT

Stimson Holds to Hands-Off Reparations Policy

Interest Lacking in Dawes Plan Substitute

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—The adoption of a hands-off policy by the United States government in the operations of the proposed international bank of settlement for German reparations is assured for the present at least.

Reiteration of the attitude of the American government on this question was made today by Secretary Stimson. The State Department head said there were no recent developments to change the government's position, which he stated on May 16, last, was that it does not desire to have any American official participate in the collection of German reparations through the bank or any other agency.

SUGGESTION NOT FAVORED

Recent suggestions from abroad that an official of a New York Federal Reserve bank be designated to participate in the management of the international institution have evoked little response in high administration quarters in Washington.

Even such indirect representations as would be involved in the proposed bank plan would not likely be undertaken without the advice and consent of Congress and for the present, at least, there is no reason to believe that President Hoover will ask Congressional action.

Nor is it expected that the United States will have even an official observer at the forthcoming conference of the interested powers to consider the acceptance of the Young plan agreed upon at the recent experts' conference in Paris. Numerous suggestions have been put forward both here and abroad that Ambassador Dawes in view of his experience in the evolving of the Dawes plan might be designated by the American government as an unofficial observer at this gathering.

INTEREST LACKING

The view of administration officials appears to be that in the working out of a substitute for the original Dawes reparations settlement the American government is without a sufficient immediate interest to warrant further active participation in a question which is regarded as primarily affecting the European creditors of Germany.

One step in the reparations settlement, however, does confront the administration. This is the negotiation of a new agreement with Germany under which there would be a deduction up to 10 per cent of the total cost of the maintenance of the American Army of Occupation on the Rhine. This cost has been fixed at $250,000,000 and Germany already has paid some 25 per cent of it. Other nations which have made claims for Rhine army costs, however, have been paid between 80 and 90 per cent of their claims. The only other interest which the United States has in the reparations question is that of the claims of American nationals under the awards of the mixed claims commission.

PIKE PRINCIPAL IN KEYES CASE

cupied a day and a half, with a half-day for cross-examination. Later he was recalled to the witness stand after a large part of his testimony had been corroborated by Bennett, Sherman, Rettinger and other witnesses, and he told of incidents that had been brought out by these witnesses.

TESTIMONY UNSHAKEN

Pike during his long hours on the stand kept the little "brown diary" on the witness stand before him and referred to it almost constantly. His testimony pictured the tailor shop at 609 South Spring street, where he was employed, as the almost daily meeting place of the defendants, the hours of their arrival and departure, scraps of conversation and in one instance be told of the passage of a check between the defendants. It proved to be an almost day-by-day account of meetings from May 24 to June 21, 1928. Pike was subjected to a bitter cross-examination, but his testimony was practically unshaken. He referred to his written memorandum book when answering the questions, and if he did not find an entry covering the dates would reply that he did not remember. He admitted that his birth name was Mario Amundsen, but that he had changed it when 16 years of age and taken the name Pike, which came from a relative. The name Milton he selected himself. He also told of his marriage in Los Angeles in June, 1924.

Atwater Kent's Yacht Burns and Goes Down

WOODS HOLE (Mass.) June 26. (AP)—Atwater Kent's fifty-foot schooner yacht Areletha burned and sank half a mile off Wingneck Light in Buzzard's Bay near here tonight. Atwater Kent, Jr., son of the radio manufacturer, and his captain both were rescued uninjured by a Coast Guard patrol boat.

The Areletha sank in fifteen feet of water in the channel after fire which, apparently started from gasoline in the engine room, had burned a hole in the bottom.

Nine Mounted Rangers Sent Into Yosemite Wilds to Find Teacher Lost Three Days

YOSEMITE, June 26. (AP)—A corps of nine picked mounted rangers today started scouring mountainside and canyon for trace of Miss Bernice Trussell, 31-year-old San Jose public school dramatic director, who has been lost for three days in the labyrinth of densely forested hills in the Illilouette Creek basin.

With Miss Rose A. Ward of Los Angeles, Miss Trussell hiked three days ago to Glacier Point. Returning over the eleven-mile trail in the darkness the two young women wandered from the beaten track and lost their way.

Miss Trussell became exhausted, Miss Ward said, and begged to be left and have aid summoned to her. Miss Ward did not reach Glacier Point until late yesterday. When searching parties returned under her direction to help her companion the San Jose schoolteacher could not be found.

Chief Ranger F. S. Townsley, following a conference with Superintendent C. G. Thompson, sent out nine mounted rangers—picked for their knowledge of the country and versed in tracking—to search for the missing woman, who is believed to have become frightened and attempted to find her own way in and become more completely lost.

No fear is felt, Townsley declared, that Miss Trussell has met with accident or injury. He believes she will be found weakened from exposure, exhaustion and hunger, but otherwise unharmed.

Paramount has been cried for the last year. This evening, however, Jesse Lasky, vice-president of Paramount, said:

"I know nothing about any negotiations with R.C.A. in Chicago; I have never heard of any such proposed merger." When questioned about R.C.A.'s allegedly aggressive competition he remarked briefly: "We will protect our interests, naturally."

David Sarnoff, executive vice-president of the Radio Corporation, disavowed Leon Rubinstein's statements made in Chicago, asserting he does not know who Rubinstein is and Rubinstein is not authorized to speak for the Radio Corporation.

"There are no negotiations between Radio Corporation of America or Radio-Keith-Orpheum and Famous Players or Fox or any other motion-picture company for any amalgamation," he declared.

Mr. Sarnoff also is chairman of the board of Radio-Keith-Orpheum.

Elmer E. Bucher, executive vice-president of R.C.A. Photophone, the corporation making the apparatus used by R.-K.-O., the motion-picture producing company, said he had not heard of the deal and did not know Rubinstein, the man quoted as spokesman for R.C.A. in Chicago.

dying railroad pay handsome profits. Employees were not only paid wages above the usual union scale, but were made actual partners in the undertaking. They were offered certificates in the railroad which by 1924 were paying an annual interest of 12 per cent.

The railroad formed an important link in the huge Ford production system. It moved manufactured products across nearly all the larger east and west trunk lines between Detroit and the Ohio River and in addition tapped the coal fields of Southern Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, thus assuring the Detroit plants an uninterrupted fuel supply. Electric engines were introduced and freight service speeded up. Today the total mileage is approximately 529 miles.

ROADS MERGED

In 1925 Mr. Ford started negotiations to combine the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton and its subsidiary, the Detroit and Ironton, into one operating unit. Permission was granted the latter road to issue $500,000 of capital stock and $3,850,000 of first mortgage bonds, to be used in the acquisition of railroad property of the Ford Transportation Company, formed in 1923 to make extensions. The plan was proposed by the Ford interests after the Interstate Commerce Commission had denied an application for an actual merger of the two railroads.

Wh in 1926 the Commission placed a tentative valuation of $11,826,300 on the railroad, Mr. Ford protested through his attorney, setting forth that the proper valuation to be used for rate-making purposes and a "fair return" was $23,06[illegible],208.

TODAY MAY FIX FATES OF FLYERS

Spanish Premier Asserts Search Will Develop in Most Likely Region

MADRID, June 26. (AP)—Premier Primo de Rivera believes that one more day will determine so far as man can the fate of Maj. Ramon Franco and his three companions who left Cartagena, Spain, last Friday, for New York and never reached the Azores.

"Tomorrow's searching should be considered nearly conclusive one way or the other," he said at a Cabinet meeting, "ending the enormous anxiety and uncertainty of all Spain from official circles down."

What little hope remained he thought lay in the fact that the smaller naval units and the British airplane carrier Eagle were due to search tomorrow the area considered most likely to have been the grave or haven of the Spanish airplane.

Another flurry of hope came tonight when the Premier received what purported to be a report from the British Admiralty that one of its planes had sighted wreckage. No details were given and a check-up with the Admiralty revealed that it had not sent such a message and knew of no foundation for such.

DEAD LINE FIXED ON GAS WASTING

Warning Sent to Operators Under New State Law

Director Hopes to Reduce Huge Oil Surplus

Court Injunction Will Be Faced by Violators.

SACRAMENTO, June 26. (AP)—California took its first step toward enforcement of the new natural-gas conservation law when Fred G. Stevenot, director of the Department of Natural Resources, today issued a warning notice to oil operators of the State.

This notice fixes the deadline for blowing natural gas into the air on August 31, by which time "operators should have ample time within which to make their plans to put a stop to the present wastage."

If not stopped the notice states, "the full force and authority of the State, under the act, will be brought into play to secure observance of its requirements."

"Approximately 600,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas is now being blown into the air daily in California, Stevenot informed the operators. "Such wastage of a valuable resource must not be allowed to continue. The law deals only with the wastage of natural gas, still, as the present enormous blowing of gas into the air is partially caused by an overproduction of oil considered far in excess of market requirements, the elimination of unnecessary wastage of gas will consequently reduce in some measure this surplus.

"The act forbids and declares to be unlawful the unreasonable wastage of natural gas. Blowing natural gas into the air is presumptively unreasonable. Enforcement of the prohibition lies in court injunction action by the State to this end, being authorized by the act either before or after an administrative hearing by the oil and gas supervisor."

London Cabinet Against Trotzky

LONDON, June 26. (AP)—The majority of the Cabinet members in the new Labor government was understood today to be against granting permission to enter England to Leon Trotzky, Bolshevik leader exiled in Constantinople.

No official decision has been reached but the question was put before the Labor Ministers.

JARDINE SEEKS HIGHER TARIFF

Increase in Duty on Sugar Given His Approval

Ex-Cabinet Officer Appears for Beet Growers

Keen Interest in Question by Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—The keen controversy over the tariff rate on sugar which has agitated producers and consumers for many weeks was taken before a Senate Finance Subcommittee today with a group of witnesses demanding upward revision of the duties.

Although four subcommittees listened to testimony on various sections of the tariff bill passed by the House, the subcommittee considering the sugar question occupied the focal point of interest in a room crowded with spectators and witnesses. The result of the day's activities found on the committee's desks a sheaf of requests for increased uities on sugar, wool, hides, iron and steel and a host of miscellaneous commodities.

JARDINE BACKS RISE

At the hearing on the sugar tariff, the witnesses were given a severe cross-examination and the Senators showed clearly that they regarded this levy as one demanding more attention perhaps than any other in the bill. Heading the group of witnesses was William M. Jardine, Secretary of Agriculture under Calvin Coolidge.

Jardine, who said he is interested in helping the beet-sugar growers, declared the House rate would permit an expansion in the growing of sugar beets, which he described as a nonsurplus and good "rotation" crop now produced by 100,000 farmers in fifty-seven States.

Any duty that would bring 6-cent sugar, he said, would permit western beet-sugar factories to pay from $8 to $8.50 a ton to the growers of sugar beets and the farmer thus would be benefited.

PLANT PEST FOUGHT

Great progress already had been made, he continued, to eradicate a fly which attacks the sugar beets and a plant disease that was prevalent in the cane-producing State of Louisiana. With increasing Federal appropriations for this eradication, he added, more encouragement would be lent to increased growth of both cane and beet sugar.

Democratic members of the committee declared the production of sugar in this country had not increased since the high duties placed in effect in 1922. Jardine said the government, which was responsible for farmers going into sugar-beet raising, especially on reclamation projects, could and should do more to help the industry.

FARM BILL APPROVED

Replying to questions by Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, the former Secretary said the export debenture plan "was one way of making the tariff effective on surplus crops if you can guarantee benefits to the farmer," but that this guarantee, in his opinion, had not been assured. He thought the recently enacted farm bill would go a long way toward lessening the farmer's plight.

W. R. Ogg, assistant Washington representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, urged a world sugar duty of 3.75 cents, with no 20 per cent preference to Cuba as is now allowed under Cuban-American trade treaty, and an application of the rate against the Philippines and Porto Rico, whose products enter the United States duty free. The world rate proposed in the House bill is 3.40 cents.

MOLASSES BOOST URGED

Ogg described the proposed sliding scale tariff for sugar as an "experiment" which, if tried at all, should be tested out first on steel or aluminum.

He urged a 5-cent a gallon duty on blackstrap molasses, refuse-product of sugar coming chiefly from Cuba and used largely in the manufacture of industrial alcohol, on which the present duty is only one-sixth of a cent a gollon. He also advocated a rate of 9 cents a pound on maple sugar, compared with 7 1-2 cents in the bill and a duty of 6 1-2 cents a pound on maple syrup as against 5 cents.

LINDBERGHS IN AIR JOG ON HOP HERE

Colonel and Bride Spend Night in Indianapolis; Field Opening Rehearsed

INDIANAPOLIS, June 26. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arived at the Mars Hill Airport here at 8:20 p.m. tonight after a flight from Columbus, O. They will spend the night here.

Col. Lindbergh is making an inspection of the airports along the air-rail route of the Transcontinental Air Transport Company. He probably will fly to St. Louis tomorrow.

Mrs. Lindbergh was greeted at the airport by Mary Ann Ketcham of this city, a classmate at Smith College.

Col. Lindbergh had no comment to make on the death here this afternoon in an airplane accident of James A. Perry, president of the Curtiss Flying Service of Indiana, Inc., who had expected to welcome the colonel.

Dress rehearsal flights in the transcontinental air-rail service of Transcontinental Air Transport will continue today in Los Angeles in preparation for the official opening of the line on July 8, when Col. Lindbergh is scheduled to take the first tri-motored transport plane off of the field at the Grand Central Air Terminal, bound for New York.

A plane will hop this morning from the Glendale terminal as one of several flights now being carried on both ways between here and the East.

Officials of the line and air and rail officials and relief pilots are making the trips to familiarize themselves with the cross-country air lanes.

French Consul in Berlin Fired on by Woman

BERLIN, June 26. (AP)—M. Binet, French Consul here, had a narrow escape from death today, when an excited Lithuanian woman fired at him several times in the French Consulate.

A porter caught the woman's arm and the shots went wild, lodging in the ceiling of the room.

The woman, who arrived at the consulate with her husband and child, asked M. Binet for money to travel to Lithuania, saying that she had lost her leg in Paris after a bungled operation in a state hospital. She therefore claimed compensation from the French government.

Consul Binet pointed out to her that he was not the proper person to receive such an application. The woman immediately burst into wild threats, drew a revolver and fired at him several times.

Child Kidnaped as Hostage for Return of Son

SEATTLE, June 26. (AP)—Surprised by police when he kept a rendezvous with Mrs. Hattie Patty, William St. Julian, tattoo "artist," admitted that he had kept 8-year-old Francis Patty for the past four days as a hostage for the return of his own son, Jack, who had been living at the Patty home.

Until yesterday police had given little credence to Mrs. Patty's report that her son had been kidnaped, believing that some relative or friend had the child.

Rival Business Opening Curbed

This thing of selling out your business and then setting up another shop in the neighborhood in violation of your contract is all wrong, Superior Judge Schmidt found yesterday, in deciding the case of the General Paint Corporation vs. Edward and Walter Seymour.

Attorney A. J. Getz had asked the court for an injunction to prevent the Seymours from doing business in violation of an asserted agreement made between them and the paint company to which they had sold their business. Judge Schmidt granted the injunction.

FLETCHER MAY SUCCEED VARE

Ex-Ambassador to Italy to Seek New Career

Contested Senatorial Seat Declared His Aim

Breach With Hoover Seen in Recent Resignation

WASHINGTON, June 26. (Exclusive)—Whenever the Vare Senatorial seat becomes vacant, Henry P. Fletcher of Pensylvania, whose resignation as Ambassador to Italy has been accepted by President Hoover, may become a candidate. This is the expectation of his friends here, who believe that he is leaving diplomatic service in order to become more active in political affairs in his home State in time to be available as a Senatorial contender.

There is also a suggestion that if President Hoover had seen fit to have named him either as Secretary of State or as Ambassador to Great Britain or France he would not have tendered his resignation at this time.

Mr. Fletcher accompanied Mr. Hoover on his South-American trip between the time of his election and the inauguration.

SOUGHT NEW HONORS

As the result of the relationship established between Mr. Hoover and Mr. Fletcher there were frequent reports that the latter might be named as Secretary of State. Mr. Hoover, however, selected Henry L. Stimson, with whom he had very little contact up to that time. In choosing an Ambassador to Great Britain, the choicest plum in the diplomatic service, Mr. Hoover passed Mr. Fletcher, who on the basis of long service might have been considered as entitled to the promotion, and named Charles G. Dawes, who never had been considered as especially friendly to the President. Senator W. E. Edge, Republican, New Jersey, is understood to be slated for Ambassador to France.

It is believed that Mr. Fletcher had an ambition to close his career of more than thirty years in the diplomatic service by serving either as Secretary of State or Ambassador to Great Britain or France. Failing to receive any of these appointments he is said to have decided to turn to the Senatorship.

SEAT STILL UNCERTAIN

The Vare seat remains in an uncertain status. William S. Vare was elected in 1926 for the six-year term ending March 4, 1933. He has never been seated, but the Senate also has never taken final action in his case.

As the situation now stands, Mr. Vare's successor will be elected in any event not later than November, 1932, and possibly sooner if the seat becomes vacant. There is little chance that Mr. Vare ever will be seated.

It was indicated at the White House today that President Hoover soon will announce the selection of ambassadors to Italy and Japan.

CONFLAGRATION HITS RANDSBURG

Delano Theater Fire Starts After Firemen's Party

RANDSBURG, June 26.—Fire swept through this Mojave desert mining community early today, left twenty-two buildings in ruins, for a time shut off telephone communication with the outside world and was stopped only when volunteer fire fighters resorted to dynamite and blasted several small buildings in its path.

The conflagration was the most serious experience here in fifteen years, old-time residents reported, and caused damage variously estimated at $40,000 to $50,000. Among the structures burned were the Armand and Silver Streak hotels, the largest buildings in the community.

Structures destroyed and their owners were Armand Hotel, two-story frame building owned and operated by J. J. Chambers; Silver Streak Hotel, two-story frame building owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Tim O'Connor; Palace Pool Hall, Garrity's restaurant, owned and operated by Tom Garrity; barber shop of R. FIREMEN CALLED BACK FROM THEATER PARTY

DELANO, June 26.—Just an hour after the local volunteer fire department had closed a hilarious "womanless tea and style show" in the Delano Theater here last night, fire of undetermined origin swept through the interior of the building, causing damage estimated at more than $12,000 and bringing the department's erstwhile "bathing beauties" and mannikins back on the run to extinguish the blaze. The fire was one of the most serious here in recent months for a time threatening the entire business district. The damaged building, constructed of reinforced concrete, is only 9 years old. The theater is owned by Frank Panero. A $10,000 organ suffered greatest damage. The interior was entirely destroyed and whether any of the remaining portions of the organ can be salvaged is not known.

Parents of Six Reconciled in Judge's Office

"Why should a mother of six children want a divorce?" Superior Judge Rosenkranz admitted he couldn't answer this question when Mrs. Josephine Summers and Richard William Summers appeared before him yesterday.

Attorney W. J. Clark of Alhambra, employed by Mrs. Summers, agreed to act as mediator. He and the couple and the judge went into the judge's chambers and all came out smiling.

"This is a great day for the Summers family," said Judge Rosenkranz. "The mother is going to forgive and forget and the father has promised to do better. The case is dismissed."

Mrs. Summers had accused her husband of drinking too much and leaving her alone at home. She was in court seeking alimony as a preliminary to divorce proceedings.

JULIAN DEFENDANTS AIDED

Judge Pope Tells Prosecutor Court Will Examine All Evidence to Remove Unjust Stigma

Dismissals in Julian usury cases hereafter will be granted only after an examination of all available evidence by the court, Municipal Judge Pope ruled yesterday in refusing to grant the motion of City Prosecutor Nix to dismiss charges against Cecil B. De Mille, motion-picture producer. Nix told the court that he has no evidence of usury against De Mille and never has had such evidence.

Judge Pope ordered Nix to bring all of his evidence in the case into court for its perusal and withheld final ruling on the motion until July 15, next.

"When these Julian usury cases are brought to the point of being set for trial before such a motion to dismiss is made there is a stigma left on the name of the defendant that cannot be removed by merely granting a motion to dismiss on the statement of the prosecutor," Judge Pope declared. "It is a gross miscarriage of justice to have a public official throw such a stigma on the name of any person and then come into court with this statement. It should not be possible under the law.

"I have no doubt that many innocent defendants have been wronged by being charged with usury in these cases, and if they have been so wronged, I intend to examine all of the evidence in the case and so state from the bench, as I believe it is the duty of the court to do all in its power to right such a wrong.

"No dismissals in these cases hereafter will be granted by this court until after the records have been brought in and examined to determine whether there is, or ever has been, any evidence of usury."

Trial of Johiel Katzev, accused of three counts of usury, was continued yesterday with Deputy City Prosecutor Brockman introducing S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Corporation, Jack Bennett and Ed Rosenberg, his principal witnesses, all of whom again refused to testify on the ground of self-incrimination, as they have done in former cases. The trial will be resumed this morning, when the State is expected to conclude its case.

Philip Grossman, who announced some time ago that he would carry the decision of Municipal Judge Bogue denying the motion to dismiss usury charges against him to Superior Court, yesterday filed a petition with Judge Shaw for a writ of mandate. The hearing on a writ of prohibition asked by Hallam Cooley, accused of three counts of usury, was continued by Judge Shaw until July 10, next.

Johnson and Haughland Going Fine in Minnesota; Jensen Takes Off

MINNEAPOLIS, June 26. (AP)—Swinging monotonously over an eighty-mile course Thorwald (Thunder) Johnson and Owen Haughland, endurance flyers, completed eighty-eight hours of continuous flying at 9 o'clock tonight. The flyers dropped a message today saying they were in good condition.

They were well past the half-way mark in their effort to better the existing refueling endurance record of 172 hours 32 minutes set by Reg L. Robbins and James Kelly May 26.

JENSEN TAKES OFF IN REFUELING TEST

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) June 26. (AP)—Martin Jensen took off at 7:32:02 p.m. (eastern daylight time) today in a new attempt to set a refueling endurance flight record in the monoplane Three Musketeers.

With Jensen were his wife, Mrs. Margaret Jensen, and William Ulbrich, who accompanied Jensen and H. B. Clarke in two previous attempts to set a new refueling record in the Three Musketters.

Clarke will operate the refueling device in a Fokker plane piloted by Emil Burgin. In the previous attempts a catapult device was used but proved unsatisfactory.

Flying-Boat Sea Crossing Planned

MINNEAPOLIS, June 26. (AP)—The revelation that a multi-motored flying boat is under construction in the East and is to be piloted in a trans-Atlantic attempt by Clarence Chamberlin next summer, was made known here today by Chamberlin while on a short visit at the Wold-Chamberlin Municipal Airport.

The plane, designed by Chamberlin and under construction at a Long Island factory, is radically different from the usual type of flying boat and will represent the products of his experience in ocean flying, he said.

Police Station Walls Rising

The first concrete for the new $125,000 Hollywood police station at De Longpre and Wilcox avenues was poured yesterday, according to Superintendent of Construction Brittain.

The city is proceeding with the work, despite the fact that the Council has yet to adopt an ordinance creating a spot zone at this point.

PLANE FALL KILLS BALL CLUB CHIEF

James Perry, President of Indianapolis Team, Dies When Motor Stalls

INDIANAPOLIS, June 26. (AP)—James A. Perry, president of the Indianapolis American Association baseball club, was killed this afternoon when an airplane he was piloting crashed at Schoen Field, Fort Benjamin Harrison, twelve miles northeast of Indianapolis.

Perry had just taken off from the army post field and his airplane was about one-quarter mile from the field when the motor stopped and the plane fell. Perry was dead when officers from Fort Harrison reached the wreckage.

Perry only recently had made his first solo flight. He was president of the Curtiss Flying Service, Inc. He had landed at Schoen Field only a short time before the accident, having flown from the Marshill Airport west of Indianapolis, where he had been awaiting the arrival of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Asserted Slayer of Elias Killed

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) June 26. (AP)—Word reached here today of the execution by Mexican rurales of Chueco Costello, charged with cattle rustling and implication in the slaying yesterday of Roberto Elias, 20-year-old cousin of Gov. Francisco Elias of Sonora. Elias died a short time after a gunbattle with asserted cattle rustlers near Fronteras, Son., himself shooting down and fatally wounding Julian Martinez, one of his assailants.

Five shots were fired into Costello's body by a rural firing squad, the report here said, and his body was left lying by the roadside between Agua Prieta, across the border from here, and Fronteras, thirty-five miles southwest.

Canadian Raid Charge Scouted

WINDSOR (Ont.) June 26. (AP)—Charges that five men attired as United States officers had a "wild party" at a St. Clair River port Monday night after hijacking fifteen cases of liquor on Canadian soil, were made today by Joseph Tibodeau, liquor exporter of Port Lambton.

Walter S. Petty, acting collector of customs at Detroit, was highly skeptical of the report.

"None of my men would pull a stunt like that," he said. "Our men don't go in parties of five. They travel in pairs. I am confident none of them would dare to cross over to Canada and make a seizure."

Kiwanians Score 'Next War' Talk

MILWAUKEE, June 26. (AP)—A program of international good-will was outlined in a report on public affairs for Canada submitted today at the International Kiwanis convention here.

"We believe that we should protest most vigorously against the publication of speculative articles about the "next war" and the possibilities as to the nations, now on the most friendly terms, who may be the antagonists," the report, drawn up by Harold M. Dixon of Victoria, B. C., chairman of the committee for Canada, declared.

YOUTH'S CAR KILLS CHILD AND MUTILATES MOTHER

Jean Haykin, 2½ years of age, was killed instantly and her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Haykin, 28, of 1004 North Ridgewood Place, was seriously injured yesterday, when they were struck by an automobile whose driver had lost control of it at Santa Monica Boulevard and Wilton Place. The driver, Joseph Babick, 19, of 966½ Everett street, was booked on charges of suspicion of manslaughter and failing to render aid to his asserted victims.

Mrs. Haykin and her child were standing at the curb waiting to cross the street when Babick swerved his car while traveling east on Santa Monica Boulevard to avoid collision with another machine going south on Wilton Place, according to the story he told police later. He lost control and the car jumped the curb, hurling the child twenty feet in the air, eyewitnesses reported, and dragging Mrs. Haykin fifteen feet.

Babick, according to the police report, leaped from the car, picked up the baby and placed her in the arms of Dr. S. R. Broadbent, who witnessed the accident. Then he became hysterical and ran. Officer Darnell pursued and captured him a block away.

The child was pronounced dead when picked up, and the mother was taken to the Dickey & Cass Emergency Hospital with both legs broken and her body covered with lacerations. Later she was removed to Hollywood Hospital.

CURTISS-WRIGHT ASSETS MERGED

Largest Air Corporation in World Formed

Stock Par $70,000,000, But Worth Vastly More

Plane Pioneers' Deal Joins Eleven Concerns

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—Merger of Wright Aeronautical Corporation and Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Company and ten affiliated companies into the largest aviation organization in the world was announced tonight.

The merger which is to be effected through the formation of a holding company—Curtiss Wright Corporation—brings together the business founded by America's air pioneers—the Wright brothers and Glenn Curtiss.

COMPANIES INVOLVED

In addition to Wright and Curtiss corporations the following companies will be taken over through an exchange of stock: Keystone Aircraft Corporation of Bristol, Pa., Curtiss Robertson Airplane Manufacturing Company of St. Louis, Curtiss Airports Corporation, Curtiss Flying Service, Inc., Curtiss Aeroplane Export Corporation, Curtiss Caproni Corporation, New York Air Terminals, Inc., and New York and Suburban Air Lines.

An exchange of stock offer will be made to shareholders of Travel Air Manufacturing Company of Wichita, Kan., and Moth Aircraft Corporation of South Lowell, Mass.

Curtiss Wright Corporation will have assets of $70,000,000, but at current market values it will rank as a several hundred million dollar concern. It will be approximately twenty times as large as the newly formed Detroit Aircraft Corporation, and in assets will be nearly three times as large as United Aircraft and Transport Corporation, which controls the Boeing group of companies and the Pratt & Whitney motor.

BASIS OF MERGER

The corporation will have an authorized capitalization of 12,000,000 no par shares, of which 2,000,000 will be Class "A" stock entitled to preferential payment of $2 a share annually, and which will be convertible share for share into common stock, callable by the company at $40 per share. The remaining shares will be common stock. Both classes will be entitled to vote.

The exchange of stock will be on the following basis:

For each Wright share one "A" share and 5 1-4 common shares of the new company will be given; for each Curtiss share one new company "A" share, and 4½ common shares; Curtiss Airports Corporation 5-12 of a share of new company common; Curtiss Flying Service, 5-6 of a common share; Curtiss Aeroplane Export, 1 3-10 common shares; Curtis Caproni, 5-12 of a common share; Keystone Aircraft, ½ of a Class A share and one common share; New York Air Terminals, one common share; New York and Suburban Air Lines, 2-5 of a common share; Curtiss Robertson for each share of new stock after the company's present preferred has been retired will receive two common shares.

OFFICERS NAMED

Clement M. Keys, president of Curtiss, will be president of the new holding company, and Richard F. Hoyt, chairman of the Wright Aeronautical's board, will be chairman of the board.

Companies to be controlled by the new company will be operated as separate units and under their present management.

Interests behind the company dominate some of the largest air lines. These include National Air Transport, operating from New York to Chicago to Dallas; the Pitcairn Lines from New York to Miami; Transcontinental Air Transport, which starts air-rail service across the country next month, and Aviation Corporation of the Americas, which operates air lines in the West Indies, Central and South America.

Flyers Arrive in Maine City for Rome Hop

PORTLAND (Me.) June 26. (AP)—The monoplane in which Roger Q. Williams and Lewis A. Yancey hope to fly to Rome landed at the airport here tonight after a flight from Roosevelt Field, N. Y. Rough conditions of the beach at Old Orchard, starting point of the proposed hop, prevented a landing there. Williams and Yancey said they contemplated no trans-Atlantic hop-off for several days.

Bishop Not to be Subpoenaed

NEW YORK, June 26. (Exclusive) Unless evidence should tend to show that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Virginia was partner or a favored customer of Kable & Co. he will not be subpoenaed as a witness in the bankruptcy hearing of that company, C. Edward Benoit, acting for the Federal trustee in bankruptcy, said today.

There is nothing to indicate that the bishop could help find any of the assets of the company, even though his individual case was interesting, Mr. Benoit added.

Appropriations Cut by Vetoes

SACRAMENTO, June 26. (Exclusive)—Gov. Young today announced that special appropriation bills approved by him amounted to $3,359,763.53, the second smallest amount of such measures on record.

Appropriation measures introduced reached the total of $26,000,000. These were trimmed to $5,000,000 by legislative action and the Governor lopped off another $1,700,000.

Out of this year's appropriation total, $413,873.79 was for claims against the State.

Memphis Raid Jails Seventy

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) June 26. (AP)—More than seventy persons were in jail here today as a result of a series of raids by Federal prohibition agents.

Forty-two agents started out early yesterday with thick sheafs of warrants sworn out by undercover agents, and by nightfall all the jails in the city were crowded. Col. A. W. Mays of Louisville, district prohibition administrator, was in charge and had co-operation of local and county authorities.

BOXMAKERS HONOR RUBLE

DEL MONTE, June 26. (AP)—Charles Ruble of Los Angeles was elected president of the Pacific Coast Paper Box Manufacturers' Asociation at the concluding session of its convention here today.

TABLE SMOKING WORRIES CHEFS

American Habit Prevents Enjoyment of Cooking, They Declare

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—The Chefs D'Cuisine Association of Chicago is all hot and bothered over the "American habit of smoking cigarettes during meals."

In a resolution, copies of which were sent to all associations of chefs in the United States, the cooks spoke of the habit as a practice which "renders the diner incapable of appreciating good culinary workmanship."

CITIES EYE BAY REGION POWER SUIT

Three Towns in Fight to Force Utilities Companies to Sell Them Electricity

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (AP)—A case watched with interest by cities contemplating municipal ownership and distribution of light and power opened before the State Railroad Commission here today.

The action is a joint drive by the cities of Stockton, Fairfield and Mountain View and the Modesto Irrigation District to compel public utilities to sell them electricity which they in turn resell to consumers in competition with private companies.

Should the commission decide in favor of the municipalities, it has been stated, the latter will be in a strategic position in the business of selling light and power.

San Francisco, for instance, now negotiating to take over one or more of the private systems here for distribution of its Hetch Hetchy power, would be relieved of the expense of building stand-by plants to meet peak-load conditions. Instead it could call on a power company in a case of emergency to furnish the extra power, and these companies would be compelled to furnish it at current wholesale rates.

Today's hearing was on the application of the three municipalities against the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Great Western Power Company. The case of the Modesto Irrigation District against the San Joaquin Light and Power Company was postponed at the request of both sides. Reason for the action was not given, but it was understood the hearing date will be reset at the request of either party.

RANGE LAND FIRE BREAKS OUT AGAIN

Blaze Blackens 70,000 Acres Destroying Grain, Orchards and Buildings

RED BLUFF (Cal.) June 26. (AP)—Fire, which started in range lands twenty miles west of here Tuesday and which was believed checked, broke out anew and tonight was raging uncontrolled after having blackened an estimated 70,000 acres.

While most of the burned-over land was range and brush, about thirty acres of grain was destroyed, several houses and barns burned and two orchards were ravaged. Thirty hives of bees were lost, while another 100 stands of bees were saved by removal from the line of fire.

The flames were eating toward the Coast Range, but the timber line had not been reached. A crew of workmen, directed by foresters, are hopeful the blaze can be checked before it penetrates valuable timber.

Seventy men were on the fire line, nearly 200 have worked on it, the crews being recruited from Red Bluff and Corning.

Eleven Bullets Find Chicagoan

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—Samuel Musich, 35 years of age, said by police to have been a racketeer, tonight was slain by two unidentified men who fired eleven shots into his body and fled.

CHILD SLAYER'S CASE OFF BOOKS

Kentucky Boy Back Where He Was Before Sentence

FRANKFORT (Ky.) June 26. (AP)—The case of 6-year-old Carl Newton Mahan, slayer of a playmate at Paintsville, appeared today to have been written off the books with the boy back where he was before a jury convicted him and a judge sentenced him to remain in the State reform school until 21 years of age.

J. W. Cammack, State Attorney-General, to whom local prosecuting authorities at Paintsville left final decision on an appeal, announced today that his department has completed a study of the case. While Mr. Cammack made no further statement, it is understood on good authority that he will take no action.

This leaves the boy in the custody of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mahan, in their Paintsville home, protected from imprisonment by a writ of prohibition issued by Circuit Judge Bailey.

That writ held that County Judge Butcher, Paintsville, exceeded his authority in treating the boy as a defendant in a criminal case and trying him before a jury May 23, a few days after he killed Cecil Hoose, 8 years of age, with his father's shotgun. The writ leaves the way open for Judge Butcher to treat the boy as a delinquent in accordance with the Kentucky law, which makes the county judge also the judge of Juvenile Court.

TAXICAB BACKFIRE AIDS BATTLE OF COGNAC HILL

DETROIT, June 26. (AP)—While a battery of taxicabs backfired wildly and a rudely awakened citizenry visioned a pitched battle between wet and dry forces on the Detroit River, 900 hilarious members of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War refought the battle of Cognac Hill over Detroit's river front streets at 4:30 o'clock this morning.

Premature Fourth of July supplies aided in the martial illusion and reports of the "rum battle" gained such credence that newspapers of Detroit and Windsor carried colorful accounts of the river "fight."

Walter S. Pettey, acting collector of customs, was kept busy all day denying there had been a battle.

The veterans were completing initiating of several score neophytes of the "trench rats," international fun-making order.

RUM-INCIDENT REPORT MADE

Stimson Gets Information on Detroit Case

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—Secretary Stimson has received from the Treasury Department a preliminary report on the incident in the Detroit River several days ago in which a rum runner is said to have fired on a Coast Guard vessel and fled into Canadian waters.

Officials of the State Department declined to comment on the nature of the report.

Officials here have said that if it were found that those who fired on the vessel took refuge in Canada or that the offending vessel was Canadian, the American government might pursue the matter further.

Woman Wins More Solace Than Sued For

CAMDEN (N. J.) June 26. (AP)—A verdict of $40,000, or $15,000 more than was asked, was awarded by a jury today to Mrs. Gertrude Hein, who sued Mrs. Emma G. Pereira of West Collingswood for asserted alienation of her husband's affections.

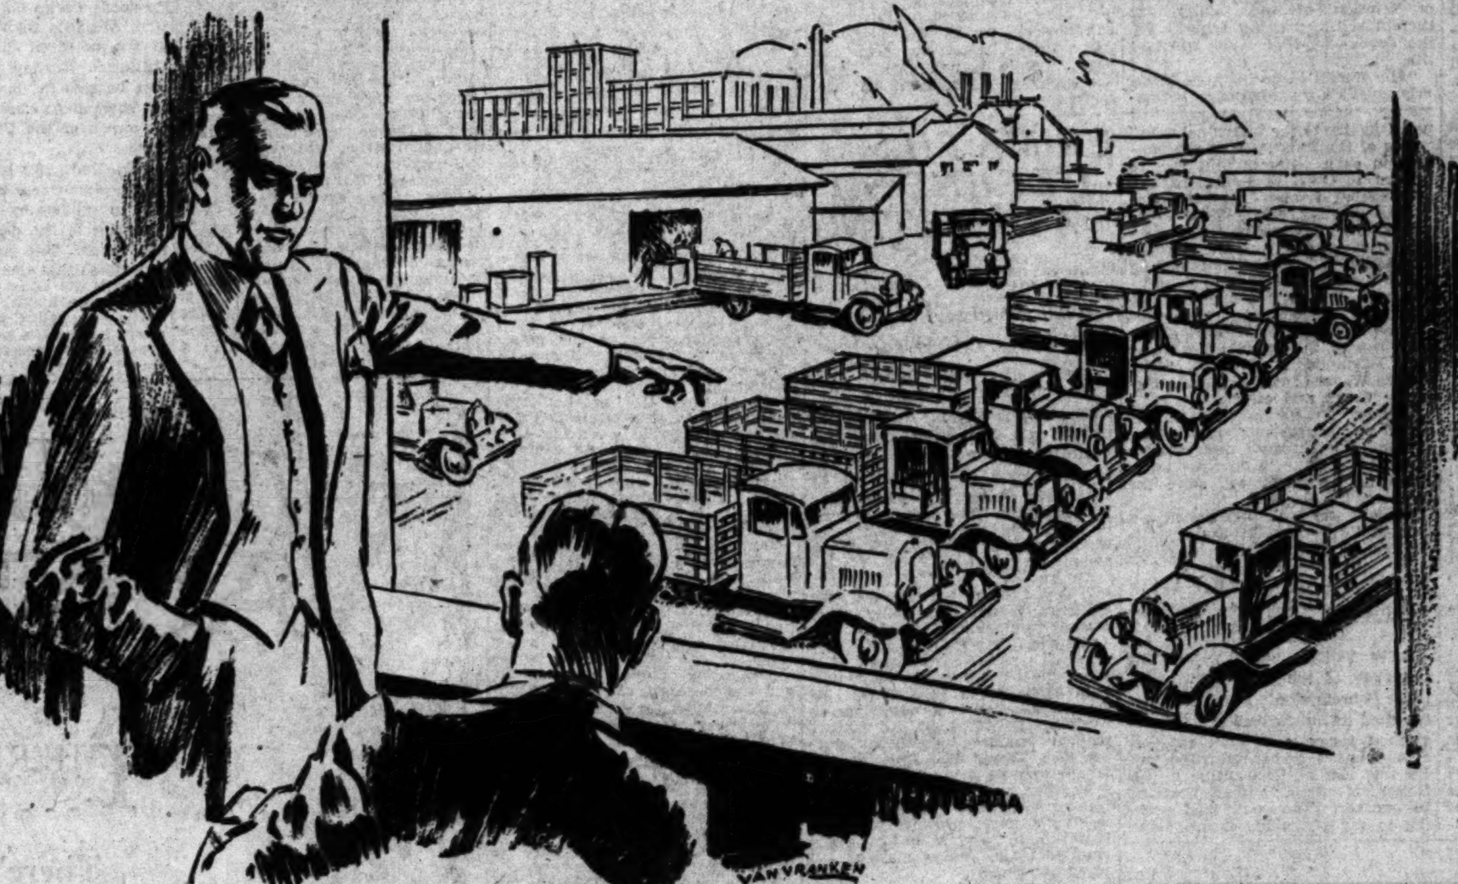
Both women are widows and neighbors. The defendant's husband died two years ago and Mrs. Hein charged that she became unduly attentive to her husband, Alfred G. Hein. He died several months ago. Mrs. Hein also charged that Mrs. Pereira had been made the beneficiary of her husband's $10,000 insurance policy.

PRIESTS REGAIN MORE CHURCHES

Mexico Turns Over Eleven to Catholic Hands

MEXICO CITY, June 26. (AP)—Eleven Catholic churches in the capital were turned over to priests today, including the national shrine of Guadalupe. The first mass since 1926 may be celebrated tomorrow.

The churches were handed over by the government after inventories of property contained in them were completed. The priests who received the properties were designated by Archbishop Pascual Diaz, Primate of Mexico, and have registered in accordance with the law. Four more churches will be turned over tomorrow.



"Do we use LOS ANGELES MADE TIRES?"

"I HAVE never given the matter any thought, but I am quite sure we don't."

"This question of whether the tires we use are made in Los Angeles came to my mind a few days ago when I met the general sales manager of the Western Firestone company, and he took me on a tour of inspection of the new Firestone factory on Firestone Boulevard. My eyes were opened to what a really great industry is represented here in the manufacture of tires, and how this industry is contributing to the prosperity of this city.

"I learned that, with the expansions now under way, the Los Angeles tire industry will represent an aggregate capital investment of $32,000,000, with a daily productive capacity of nearly 43,000 tires and 50,000 inner tubes, giving employment to not less than 10,000 people and disbursing annually a payroll of nearly $18,000,000. I have heard a lot, as you probably have, of the growing extent of tire manufacturing here, but I had no idea that it was as big as it is, or that it was playing such a tremendous part in the progress of Los Angeles.

"Any industry that is putting $18,000,000 into circulation in payrolls in Los Angeles, and is purchasing more millions of dollars worth of supplies, materials and equipment from local plants and stores, certainly deserves our support.

"Here we are with our business very largely dependent for its future development upon the growth of Los Angeles, and we have been failing to use the tires of any of the great rubber companies located here, which represent such a big factor in the city's development. From now on I want to see every one of our company's trucks and cars equipped with tires that are made in Los Angeles. By using locally-made tires we will be helping the growth of our own business, just as much as we will be helping to further develop the tire industry and make its payrolls bigger."

CRIME PROGRAM SUPPORT GROWS

Probation Association Joins Hoover Plan Backers

Wickersham Re-elected as Convention Closes

Vollmer Receives Harmon Award for Service

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (Exclusive)—Unqualified indorsement of President Hoover's law-enforcement program was made manifest at the closing session of the National Prohibition Association convention here today by the election of George W. Wickersham to succeed himself as president, and by the adoption of resolutions in support of Senate Bill No. 938.

Wickersham, Attorney-General under President Taft, recently was named chairman of the law-enforcement commission with which President Hoover expects to get at the reasons for disobedience of law and to recommend corrective measures.

PURPOSE APPROVED

Senate Bill No. 938, in addition to providing for the appointment for probation officers in Federal courts with adequate appropriations for their salaries, also approves the purpose of the Presidential crime commission and offers co-operation in all crime prevention and remedial work. As a means of aiding the general scope of the Presidential commission work, the association advocated creation of a committee to interpret to the public the new diagnosis of delinquency in an effort to create a wider understanding and co-operation of community forces toward observance of the law.

Judge Hoffman of Cincinnati, was re-elected vice-president, and three new board members named are Justin Miller, dean of law at the University of Southern California; Charles Edward Fox, chairman of the Pennsylvania crime commission, and Edwin J. Cooley, chief probation officer for the Court of General Sessions, New York City.

Judge Wilbur, ex-Secretary of the Navy, discussed new ideals in dealing with social offenses.

VOLLMER GIVEN AWARD

"We have dethroned the goddess of justice and enthroned the goddess of liberty," he asserted. "The deeper humanitarianism of the modern system is expressed in the words 'I am sorry, my son, but I must punish you.' The child of 7 no longer is measured by the same rule of justice as the adult. Greater heart and understanding have tempered justice to the individual case."

One of the final steps of the convention as a separate unit was to present to Chief of Police Vollmer of Berkeley, former Chief of Police at Los Angeles and various other metropolitan centers for pro-tem reorganization work, with the Harmon foundation award for "outstanding public service." Tributes in connection with Vollmer's contribution to police organization and crime prevention were paid by W. Burke Harmon, son of the foundation's creator; Raymond B. Fosdick, Chief Justice Waste of the California Supreme Court and others.

Vollmer, in his acceptance, declared crime problems exist in the present day because preventative measures begin "stupidly late." Scientific treatment will solve the problem, he declared.

Tonight the probation association merged its work with that of the National Conference of Social Work.

MARRIAGE SCHOOL PLANNED

Episcopal Church Will Instruct Young People to be Efficient Husbands and Wives

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (Exclusive)—Courses of instruction in modern marriage will be organized by the social service department of the Episcopal Church, according to an announcement today by Rev. Harold Holt, assistant Secretary of that department, at the department's annual conference in the Hotel Whitcomb.

The plan calls for a thorough and systematic training for prospective bridegrooms as well as brides. Such classes will be conducted by the clergy, a unique step in the social service work of the church.

In outlining the scheme, Rev. Holt said:

"The church is much concerned about the apparent break-up of the family life which is following the new organization of industry. This 'domestic revolution' must be guided into safe channels.

FAMILY ESSENTIAL

"More than any other organization, the church is interested in the preservation of the family, for therein is the primary nursery for the development of the spiritual life.

"The family to do its work properly must have permanence, permanence means proper adjustment of the relations between husband and wife; this adjustment means that men and women enter into the family relation with full understanding of all it implies. An unhappy family is as useless, from the church's viewpoint, as no family at all.

TO USE EXPERTS

"Yet vital as this need is, the church scarcely has approached the problem of preparing its young men and women for modern marriage. We plan an institute for every diocesan social service department, using experts in mental hygiene, spiritual living, sex relationships and household economics as a faculty. Out of these institutes, the clergy will develop, we hope, 'marriage preparatory classes' to give the young people a true insight into the problem and solution of the marriage relation."

STOWAWAY ON OCEAN PLANE ARRIVES HOME

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—The stowaway of the Yellow Bird, Arthur Schreiber of Portland, Me., returned to America aboard the Leviathan today with little to say about himself or his uninvited trip. He was met at Quarantine by his father, Morris Schreiber, Portland fur worker. The youth had nothing to say about his future plans.

CRIME FILM DEFENDED AT MEETING

Policewomen Reminded That Pictures Aim to Show Dishonesty Always Loses

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (Exclusive)—Defense of the motion picture as a deterrent of crime was made today before the International Association of Policewomen by Col. Jason S. Joy, representative of Will H. Hays. The motion picture, he said, consequently preaches the lesson that the criminal "can't get away with it."

An iron-clad moral of the films, said Joy, backing the assertion with statistics, is that the guilty never escapes punishment.

"Of the thirty-eight so-called underworld pictures produced last year," he said, "the crook, or villain, was killed in fourteen instances, arrested in nineteen and in five cases reformed. Of 620 feature pictures produced in America during 1928, 33 per cent contained no villain and no crime."

Another reason the motion picture is a deterrent to crime, Joy said, is that it provides an emotional outlet and a refuge where emotional experiences may be enjoyed vicariously.

Contracts Let by State Board

SACRAMENTO, June 26. (AP)—Oakland and Berkeley highway and building contractors figured prominently in bids announced and contracts awarded by the State Department of Public Works today.

Tieslau Brothers of Berkeley were awarded a $22,836 contract for the grading and surfacing of 1.5 miles of roadway at Magra in Placer county. This is to be an approach to a new overhead grade crossing.

Charles D. Vezey & Sons of Oakland were low bidders for general work on a refectory building at the Preston State School, near Ione. Their figure was $82,969.

Charles T. Boell Company of Oakland bid $12,090 for heating and plumbing work on the refectory building and the Collins Electrical Company of Stockton bid low on electrical installation with the figure $2581.

Bunko Suspect Put in Custody

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—Charged with operating a confidence game against the H. H. Lestico Publishing Company of Los Angeles, Delbert F. Sponey, certified public accountant, was arrested today.

Wheeler Reid, official of the company, swore out a warrant charging that Sponey forged a check for $1000 while auditing the books of the company and that having access to books, he obtained credit on misrepresentation.

While on the Coast, Reid said Sponey boasted he was a pal of Al Capone, gangster, and constantly sought the company of Mrs. Reid, who was known in the films as Lillian Coolidge.

Reid said he will institute divorce proceedings as a result.

Jilted Girl Sues for $1,500,000

TULSA (Okla.) June 26. (Exclusive)—Miss Muriel C. Standley, 29 years of age, former Columbia University student, filed suit in District Court here for $1,500,000 damages, asserting breach of promise on the part of R. A. Josey, president of Josey Oil Company, whose wealth is estimated at $9,000,000.

A five-year courtship during which Miss Standley and Josey traveled to Chicago, New York, Atlantic City, Tulsa, Kansas City and other points, was described by the attractive plaintiff, who says she met Josey in March, 1926, while she was taking a flyer in the oil game

Life Raft From Airplane Found

HONOLULU, June 26. (AP)—A rubber and canvas life raft, believed the last vestige of some one of the entrants in the Dole flight here from Oakland, Cal., two years ago was picked up on the beach today at Kawailoa, this island, and brought here.

Capt. James L. Griffin, local aviator who inspected the Dole flight planes at Oakland before the start of the famous trans-ocean race, said the raft was the same as those carried by several of the racing planes, particularly the Miss Doran, which never was seen after its final departure from Oakland airport.

GOAL OF SOCIAL WORK SOUNDED

National Conference Called to Order in Bay City

President Says Sentiment No Longer Upmost

Gov. Young Gives Welcome to 4000 Delegates

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (Exclusive)—More than 4000 delegates to the sixty-fifth annual convention of the National Conference of Social Work heard Porter R. Lee, president, sound the goal as well as the theme of the meeting in the opening session tonight, when he said:

"The outstanding problem of social work today is that of developing its service as a function of well-organized community life without sacrificing its capacity to inspire in men enthusiasm for a cause."

Lee stated the belief that social work must lessen its reliance on sentiment and increase its reliance on an intellectual conviction on the part of its supporters.

CHANGING WORLD

"Social work in 1929 is a developing force in a changing world," he averred. "From a movement dominated largely by motives, it has developed into a movement in which motives compete for dominance with intellectual conviction. Fifty years ago charity was the mainspring of social work. Today its driving power is a conception of social welfare.

"But because it has had the characteristics of a cause and has recently added the character of a function of well-organized community life, dangers and difficulties have arisen in trying to carry on functionalized social work with many of the habits and machinery more appropriate to a cause.

"Among the dangers of this confusion are: Overstatement of possibilities of preventive social work; too rapid development of what is known as the demonstration in social work, by which specific social services are shown to be of value to a country, without due consideration of qualified personnel and the increased cost, and failure of determining the extent to which social work results may be measured."

CAUSE AND FUNCTION

Analyzing the dual aspects of social work as cause and function, Lee held they require different combinations of human qualities. It is a case, he said, of zeal against intelligence; the emblazoned banner and the shibboleth as against the program and the manual; devoted sacrifice and the flaming spirit against fidelity, standards and methods, an embattled host against an efficient personnel.

Gov. Young welcomed the delegates on behalf of the State and Mayor Rolph on behalf of the city of San Francisco. Many of the delegates will remain in the city for several days. Secretary of Interior Wilbur is a speaker on tomorrow's program.

Labor Cabinet Meet Debates King's Speech

LONDON, June 26. (AP)—A Cabinet council was held at No. 10 Downing street today under the presidency of Premier MacDonald to discuss completion of the King's speech from the throne, which will be read before Parliament July 2, next.

As it is expected the King's speech will outline the general policy of the Labor government, it is awaited with profound interest.

The administration's attitude toward the naval strength problem, its proposals with regard to the means of seeking re-establishment of diplomatic relations with Russia and its plan for attacking the unemployment situation are almost certain to hold prominent places in the speech.

'MONKEYING-AGE' DEPLORED

Dr. Kohs of Jewish Charities Describes Present as Era of Universal Meddling.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (AP)—The world is passing through the "meddling age"—an era during which everything from the radio to the fundamentals of life are continually and consistently "monkeyed with"—so Dr. Samuel C. Kohs, executive director of the Federation of Jewish Charities of Brooklyn, N. Y., declared today in his address at the annual luncheon of the National Association on Social Work at the Palace Hotel.

"A curious manipulative humanity now populates this earth," Dr. Kohs said, "we monkey with everything. In music, in plastic and graphic arts—in literature—in business and economic spheres we take all sorts of liberties with standards. Finally in the realm of life itself, the present age is monkeying with every accepted fundamental. This spirit has definitely reflected itself in the fields of social work and child guidance. Two dangers may be specifically designated; that of standardization of human beings and that of forcing the acceptance of the doctrine that to control, curb or repress tendencies to behavior is likely to result in damage to oneself and to society."

It is unfortunate for the world, Dr. Kohs declared, that phychologists and psychiartrists cannot all agree on life's fundamentals. He urged development of a broader view of the practical understanding of human living and an understanding philosophy of life and "a tolerance of certain kinds of deviation which should be encouraged rather than thwarted."

"But after all is said and done," Dr. Kohs concluded, "only as we break down artificial social conditions which destroy human personality and distort the best that is in us, only as we bring the kingdom of God on earth will we ever be able to bring God-like man to a practical realization."

RODRIGUEZ GIVEN FULL DISCRETION

May Adopt Any Measure He Sees Fit in Regard to Border-Closing Issue

MEXICO CITY, June 26. (AP)—President Portes Gil has authorized Gen. Abelardo Rodriguez, Governor of the northern district of Lower California, to adopt whatever measures he sees fit in connection with the early night closing of the border by orders of the United States officials.

Gen. Rodriguez has ordered sixty days postponement of his announced plan to retaliate by closing the Mexican side to the passage of American trains. The postponement was ordered so that there might be time to study the situation in an effort to reach an amicable solution.

The Mexicali Chamber of Commerce has sent a message to President Hoover protesting against the border closing.

COURT QUASHES TRUCK TAX SUIT

Federal Judges Drop Action Without Comment

Plaintiffs Had Attacked New System of Fees

Discrimination Assertion Quickly Set Aside

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (Exclusive)—Another attempt of trucking companies to invalidate the State truck tax provisions of the California Motor Vehicle Act, as amended in 1927, failed in the Federal court here today. The case was heard by Circuit Judge Rudkin and District Judges St. Sure and Louderback, sitting en banc.

Plaintiffs in the suit are City Transfer Company, Watsonville; San Jose Transfer and Storage Company, and the Union Ice Company, San Francisco.

They sought to restrain collection of the tax on the ground the tax is discriminatory in that it fails to tax vehicles weighing less than 3000 pounds. The plaintiffs contended such vehicles are competing with their own heavier vehicles subject to the tax, and that this condition violates the equity provisions of the Constitution.

The Federal court, without comment, dismissed the case.

JAPAN'S HEART HOLDS TO PAST

Adoption of Western Ways Found Superficial

In Religion and Government Old Order Reigns

Writers May See Museums But Not Ruler

BY FRED HOGUE

KYOTO, June 7. (By Mail)—Every people ascribes to itself the qualities it admires, and to foreigners the qualities it abhors.

Subconsciously peoples come to resemble what they admire. Just as the sparkling diamond symbolizes the Occident the serene jade symbolizes the East.

The Occident shudders before the phantom of the "yellow peril" and the Orient before the reality of the white invasion. Here they call it the "white disaster."

When the missionaries came with their humility and their philanthropy, the East welcomed them as messengers from the heavens. But, close on their heels, came the speculators with their alcohol and their perfidy, and fighting men with their steel and lightning. The missionaries preached peace and good will, but in their train came lust, ambition and conquest.

The East received the Occident as a guest. Once admitted, the guest assumed the air of proprietor, and treated the host as his menial.

Lack of confidence inevitably followed. One does not retain a high opinion of a guest who, in departing, carries away the ice box and the grand piano.

Japan is the museum of the art, culture, religion, tradition, symbolism of fifteen vanished oriental centuries.

To this archipelago that never has been successfully invaded, that turned back the conquering hordes of Ghengis and Kublai Kahn, who ravaged Asia and Europe from the China Sea to the banks of the Danube; to this sanctuary fled the sages and the artists of China and India with the treasures of thought and culture they had been able to rescue. In the temples, palaces and museums of Japan these precious manuscripts and objects of art still are preserved—more masterpieces of vanished years than are to be found in the Vatican, Prada, Louvre and British Museum combined.

TREASURES PROTECTED

These treasures are now under the protection of the imperial government. They neither can be sold nor dissipated. Here they have found sanctuary, and here they will remain as long as the Japanese people retain their autonomy.

Egypt, Greece and Italy have been despoiled by invaders. The libraries and museums where their art treasures were assembled have been burned. Only a few fragments remain. But all that Japan has been receiving for 3000 years it still retains. No excavations are necessary. Nothing has been buried, little destroyed.

I have encountered in the shrines, temples and museums of Nara, Nicco and Kyoto, savants from the shores of the seven seas, notably from China and India. They come here to study the history of dynasties and cultures that vanished more than 1000 years ago, and whose traces have been lost in their own country, destroyed by civil wars and invasions.

PORTS CLOSED

During the Middle Ages, for the period of the 250-year usurpation of the shoguns, Japan was closed to the rest of the world, with the exception that a port was open twice a year to receive artists and art treasures from Holland and China.

Then came Perry and the restoration. Japan receives from the West and the East what it cares to assimilate. The Japanese are an elective people, and have been for 3000 years. They accept, from any source what they deem to their advantage, and reject what they do not care to assimilate.

Japan has welcomed the science of the Occident, its business methods, its machinery for mass production, its organization and weapons for warfare, its methods of hygiene and surgery; but in morals, religion, philosophy, forms of government it has not departed from the teachings of Buddha and Confucius.

The coronation ceremony conducted here in Kyoto last year was a replica of that of eight centuries ago. The costumes, the salutations, the invocations to the sun goddess were the same.

The Emperor passed yesterday through the streets of Osaka, the Pittsburgh of Japan. No factory within the city limits operated that day, lest the odor of the smoke be offensive to the divine nostrils. The railway trains were stopped at the city limits. The electric cars were kept in the barns. Neither man nor beast was permitted to move in the streets where the royal cortege was to pass.

No one was permitted to look down upon the procession from a second-story window. All were required to kneel with bowed uncovered heads while the cortege passed. Perfect silence reigned.

No native would think of carrying a cane, an umbrella or a camera that day and no foreigner was permitted to do so. The worship of the twentieth century Japanese for the reigning Emperor is that of the devout Catholic sisterhood for the Madonna. The Emperor is a Pope holding both spiritual and temporal power; and not in 1000 years has the throne been more firmly established.

HEART ORIENTAL

The brain of Japan has opened its cells to receive impressions of western material science; but the heart of Japan, oriental in every fiber, has not been touched by contact with western civilization. An outer garment of western economics covers and protects an oriental soul.

The Japanese erected a bronze monument to Perry at Yokohama, and a shrine to the Emperor Meiji at Tokio. They go to the one to admire, to the other to worship.

The group of American journalists, of which I am a unit, is touring Japan as the guests of the government, on a schedule prepared by the Foreign Office. We have been held here in Kyoto for two days, while the royal cortege passed through the streets of Osaka and Kobe only twenty miles away. We shall be carried to Kobe tonight, under the cover of darkness, and must depart tomorrow with the dawn for Shimonoseka. They will show us their factories, museums, universities, but not their Emperor.

TUBERCULOSIS VICTIMS NOW FEWER THAN CANCER

SACRAMENTO, June 26. (AP)—Cancer deaths exceeded tuberculosis deaths in California for the first time in the State's history, Dr. Walter M. Dickie, director of the Department of Public Health, told Gov. Young today.

Dr. Dickie reported that there were 6401 cancer deaths in California during 1928 and 6073 deaths from tuberculosis during the same period.

Since 1906, when the State vital statistics were first recorded, the year 1928 is the first in which cancer deaths have exceeded tuberculosis fatalities, Dr. Dickie said. He declared that in 1906 there were three times as many tuberculosis deaths as cancer deaths. He attributed the decline in tuberculosis to the intensive drive against the disease through establishment of city and county curative facilities.

CINDERELLA HAS TILT AT TRIAL

Ann Livingston Fences With Hardinge Attorney

Prenuptial Contract Gets Into Balm Case

Tulsa Girl Asks $250,000 of Rich Chicagoan

CHICAGO, June 26. (Exclusive) Ann Livingston, who missed out on a millionaire husband by a few paragraphs of a prenuptial contract, had the satisfaction today of watching that moot document made a legal football between counsel in her suit to obtain $250,000 as satisfaction for Franklin S. Hardinge's failure to marry her. Court adjourned tonight as the argument waxed hot, at the climax of her fourth day of testimony.

Cool as the well-known cucumber, Ann demonstrated under cross-examination by Defense Attorney John H. Bussian that she has an excellent memory. She further intimated by her answers to Bussian's queries, that she has a clear conscience in regard to her relations to Charles Nax of St. Louis, a newspaper man whom the defense claims was her sweetheart, and whom she maintains was merely a family friend.

ANN KEEPS COOL

Nor was her surface calm more than rippled when Bussian carried his questions back to an incident that occurred in Hardinge's apartment while he was visiting her in Tulsa and which she had found embarrassing to relate on direct examination. It proved a brief sequel to her recital of Hardinge's asserted admiration of her Venus-like proportions.

In terse phrases filled with dramatic import, the Oklahoma Cinderella told how her clock struck twelve. She was one evening an old man's darling plied with jewels and garments, and woke up the next morning a poor working girl again. How her trunks were packed for the wedding trip to the West Indies, South America, Bermuda and points beyond, but her next trip was to a spa in search of health. And she has been kept moving from one job to another since, acquiring one only to lose it when her sensational suit is mentioned.

DIVORCE TOPIC

Attorney Russian's cross-examination plunged Ann at once into the topic of her divorce from her first husband. For the next few minutes the lawyer and girl who says he was one of the moving spirits in the smashing of her romance, fenced verbally about the matter of whether she had lived with her first husband, Robert J. Puderbaugh, as she says, or not, as he claims. She insisted they had had an apartment at Little Rock, Ark., near Camp Pike, where Lieut. Puderbaugh was in training in 1918.

Then the Nax topic was introduced.

"Miss Livingston, did you stop in St. Louis on your way to Chicago and see Charles Nax?" asked Bussian.

SHE SAW NAX

"Yes, I stopped there," she replied. "I called Mr. Nax and he said he was very busy, but would drive me to the train. And he did."

She denied telling Mr Hardinge in Tulsa that Nax was her sweetheart and that she was only waiting for him to get a divorce so they could marry.

"Now Miss Livingston" Bussian went on, will you look at the prenuptial contract I am handing you, and tell us when you first received it?"

Instantly Benjamin Ehrlich, Miss Livingston's attorney, was darting toward the judge's bench with vociferous objection which was sustained by Judge Miller, but Bussian then argued that he had a right to ask a broad question. When he stated that he merely wanted to have Ann say when it was first presented to her Ehrlich consented to withdraw his objection. Court was then adjourned for the day.

It is thus left as the opening topic for tomorrow's session, and probably will constitute the cornerstone on which the defense hopes to prevent Ann from collecting her $250,000.

POET D'ANNUNZIO MAKES SONG OF HIS SUFFERINGS

GARDONE (Italian Riviera) June, 26. (AP)—A strange picture has been painted by persons familiar with the surroundings of Gabrielle D'Annunzio, Italian poet and playwright, who was operated on here Sunday for appendicitis.

The hero of Fiume, it was said, lies absolutely rigid in utter darkness on a cot in a little room adjoining the improvised operating clinic. His faithful servant, Cama, a former sailor on the famous ship Puglia and a companion in the Fiume expedition, sleeps on a rug outside the door and allows none but the nurses and doctors to approach.

The poet has composed a quatrain about his operation, which he underwent with only a local anesthetic, and he astonished his surgeons by reciting it to them in a clear, strong voice.

SICK BUSINESS CURE OFFERED

Secretary Lamont Prescibes for Distribution

Widespread Analysis Termed Wholesome Panacea

Commerce Department Will Continue Survey

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—A wide-spread analysis of the cost of transmitting individual commodities from producer to consumer was prescribed today by Robert P. Lamont, Secretary of Commerce, as a cure for distribution ailments.

Speaking before the Merchants' Association of New York, he said the only way in which "this infirmity of sick distribution can be cured is by study of specific cases of the illness, as in the practice in the field of medicine."

The Commerce Department has been investigating distribution for the last two years and has obtained much valuable information, he said, promising that the work will be continued.

Although costs of production have been continually lowered by new methods, he pointed out, the costs of distribution have been increasing, and "we are realizing that these increased costs are not due to profiteering by the middleman, but in reality to the increase in the actual cost of doing business."

Contrary to Popular Belief,
It Costs No More To Buy

For years Samson has been known and recognized as a tire of high quality. Wherever you hear tires discussed by men who know, sooner or later Samson becomes the basis of comparison. It is probably logical, therefore, that there is a general misconception on the part of the public that a tire of such outstanding quality should be very high in price. ¶ So often we hear the remark, "Yes, I've heard of the Samson. I understand it is a wonderful tire but it is too high priced for me". But such is not the case. ¶ Samson is not a high priced tire. It costs little, if any, more than ordinary tires. And the longer, more trouble-free mileage that it renders lowers the cost considerably in the long run. ¶ If you have been laboring under the belief that Samson is a high priced tire, come in and see us. You will be surprised at the low cost.

The CALL of the BURNING MASCOT

by E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

UNINVITED and unwelcome, Inspector Dickins sat in the speeding car driven by lovely Martha Dring who, he knew, had the stolen Rosenthal jewels. On the radiator a dragon-shaped "mascot" that Dickins couldn't see, flamed red. Minutes behind roared a posse from the organized underworld; from the opposite direction rushed a patrol from Scotland Yard —which barely suggests the thrills in this first of ten breathless adventures.

FEDERAL GRAPE LEADERS NAMED

Stabilization Corporation Picks Most of Corps

Way Cleared to Ask Aid for California Industry

Plans Laid to Seek Loan of $25,000,000

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26. (Exclusive)—With election today of most of the executive officers of the Federal Grape Stabilization Corporation, the way was paved for the functioning of this organization in its two-fold immediate objective of Federal farm relief and resuscitation of California juice, table and raisin grape industries.

Lloyd S. Tenny, formerly chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in the United States Department of Agriculture and vice-president of the California Vineyardists' Association, was named president. T. T. C. Gregory, San Francisco attorney, who aided in the drafting of the farm-relief bill and was one of those instrumental in the formation of the Federal Grape Stabilization Corporation, was named chairman of the board of directors and chairman also of the corporation's executive committee.

Other members of the executive committee selected are Harry M. Creach, president and general manager of the Sun Maid Raisin Growers' Association; J. L. Nagle, president and general manager of the California Fruit Exchange, and Scott F. Ennis, president of the Pacific Fruit Exchange, who takes a place on the committee as representative of the California Vineyardists' Association. One member remains to be selected, an advisory committee still is to be named, and it is expected that within the next several days a committee of seven will be chosen to go to Washington to open negotiations for the funds expected under the Federal farm-relief bill.

The most important thing to be done at once is the signing of growers to the stabilization program, it was announced. Not less than 90 per cent of the growers must be represented if the corporation is to expect success in its efforts to interest the Federal government, according to a statement issued by the directors.

A. Setrakian, campaign manager in the raisin belt, was instructed to go forth with that information.

It is planned to ask the government for $25,000,000 of the initial appropriation made after passage of the bill. This will be in the form of a loan with which the stabilization corporation will finance the entire grape crop, from the point of production to the point of consumption. By so doing the corporation will have executive control over the movement of the crop, the largest single factor in the plan to prevent future recurrence of last year's market glut and price drop, and also in the plan to keep grape distribution within the scope of the Volstead Act.

The corporation will purchase all raisin grapes at a base rate ranging from 3½ to 4 cents for the various varieties this year; 3 3-4 to 4 1-4 cents next year, and from 4 to 4½ cents in 1931.

With the organization of the personnel which will be directly in charge of future activities, Donald D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association and the Associated California Fruit Industries, will address a mass meeting of growers in the California area at Ontario next Monday afternoon. At that time Conn will tell the growers exactly what must be done if the industry is to receive financial aid from the government. The meeting will be held in the Chaffey Union High School, Ontario, at 1:30 p.m.

CAPONE ASKS FOR FREEDOM

Gang Leader Declares Police Scared Him Into Entering Plea of Guilty at Trial

PHILADELPHIA, June 26. (AP)—Alleging among other charges that the trial judge was prejudiced, attorneys for "Scarface" Al Capone, Chicago racketeer, today filed a petition asking for a writ of error in an attempt to bring about the release of their client or a new trial.

Capone and his bodyguard, Frank Cline, also of Chicago, are in the Holmesberg jail serving a one-year's sentence for carrying concealed pistols. They were arrested here the night of May 16 as they left a picture theater, were held overnight in bail of $25,000 each and on the following day on their pleas of guilty were sentenced to a year in jail by Judge John E. Walsh in Municipal Court.

The plea for a review was accompanied by an "affidavit of the defendant" alleging among other things that Capone was compelled to submit to a trial "before a judge who had predetermined his guilt and had stated that he would help convict the defendant."

Among the eight assignments of error cited in the petition it was charged that Capone was "compelled to appear for trial in a courtroom crowded by people who were prejudiced against your defendant because of inflammatory articles appearing in the newspapers against the defendant" and that the "defendant was coerced into entering a plea of guilty by reason of the hostile and theatrical display of numerous and unnecessary police officers who constantly surrounded the defendant in the presence of the jury."

FILIPINOS AGAIN CALLED MENACE

Governor's Council Discusses Immigrant Problem

SACRAMENTO, June 26. (AP)—Unrestricted immigration of Filipinos to California was brought to the attention of Gov. Young's council again today as a "serious menace" to the State's health, labor and social status.

The Filipino as a carrier of the spinal meningitis germ, presents to California a serious menace, Dr. Walter M. Dickie, director of the State Department of Public Health, told the Governor.

The Filipinos as a menace to the social and labor structures of California constitutes a problem equally menacing as the health angle, Will J. French, director of the Department of Industrial Relations, told the council. French read to the Governor a steamship company's advertisement in a Manila newspaper describing western coast States as wealthy in untold riches "demanding more and more labor."

CHICAGO BACKS UP MRS. HOOVER

City Council Lauds Stand on Mrs. De Priest

CHICAGO, June 26. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Hoover's entertainment of Mrs. Oscar DePriest, wife of the negro Congressman, at the White House was praised as "a striking example of her belief in the principles of true Americanism, which makes no distinction among citizens because of race, religion or color," in a resolution adopted by the City Council today.

"This courageous conduct on her part has produced a storm of criticism from the intolerant and the bigoted, who appear always anxious to stir up race and religious hatred," the resolution read. "We hereby express our admiration and satisfaction in the stand taken by the President's wife and the detestation of motives of her critics."

The resolution provides a copy be forwarded to Mrs. Hoover as "an evidence of the sympathy of the people of Chicago and as a pledge of their support."

JACK DALTON WEDS "ANNIE"

Former Outlaw Married in Plane to Woman Who Befriended Gang Many Years Ago

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) June 26. (AP)—Reunited after thirty-three years of separation, Jack Dalton, 60 years of age, former Oklahoma outlaw, and "Cattle Annie" Burke, his boyhood sweetheart, were married in an aerial ceremony here today.

Dalton drove here in a dilapidated truck from Arizona and the couple took out a marriage license this morning. They left immediately for the airport, where they were taken aloft in a cabin plane for the ceremony. The wedding service was conducted by Justice Ritt.

"Cattle Annie" Burke gave her age as 45 and her residence as Kingman, Ariz.

Throughout the Southwest the story is told that when passes were scouring the country for the Dalton gang in 1896 after a jailbreak at Guthrie, Okla., it was "Cattle Annie," a young daughter of the West, who carried information and food to the hidden bandits.

Today Dalton related that lack of food would have put an end to their hiding early in the game if it had not been for the loyalty of the woman he married.

Later in the year of 1896 the entire Dalton gang was rounded up and sentenced to the penitentiary for participation in the robbery of a bank at Coffeyville, Kan. Dalton lost all track of the girl who had befriended him until a few years ago. Since they then have been corresponding.

Jack Dalton reformed, he said, after he had been pardoned and released from the penitentiary. For many years he has been an ardent spokesman for law and order. His bride is a rancher in Arizona, and the couple will return there to make their home.

GOLD DRAIN STIRS BANK OF ENGLAND

Governor Will Cross Sea to Talk With Financial Leaders of New York

LONDON, June 26. (Exclusive)—Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, is contemplating an early visit to New York. The object of his trip is not stated, but it is said that both the Bank of England and the British Treasury are worried about the continued flow of gold to New York. So far the Bank of England's reserve has not been dangerously affected, but it may be at any time, as the fluid reserve of gold over the requirements to guarantee the note issue really is small.

The bank also is alarmed at the recent tendency of private capitalists to transfer their holdings from pounds to dollars. This is said to have become slightly more marked since the advent of the Laborite government.

Since Mr. Norman's failure on his last visit to America to obtain a renewal of the late Benjamin Strong's policy of unvarying support of the Bank of England when he was Governor of the Federal Reserve System, there has been much uneasiness about the tendency of the American money market and the recent high price of money in New York has caused genuine alarm.

Law Can't Make Folks be Moral, Ashurst Thinks

DES MOINES (Iowa) June 26. (AP) Senator Henry F. Ashurst of Arizona, addressing the Iowa Bankers' Association at convention here today, declared that Congress is making "the great mistake of trying to make people good, rich or wise by legislation."

"The church, home and schools of our nation alone can correct the morals of the people," he said.

Pistol Shooter Invades Church

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—A man armed with a pistol invaded Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church early today and fired two shots at the priest, Reverend Father J. Keenan. The bullets missed their mark but one wounded Richard Murphy, who was kneeling at the altar. The assailant, identified as Charles Foster, then turned the weapon on himself, inflicting a slight scalp wound. The shooting took place during 6 o'clock mass.

SURVIVOR TELLS OF PLANE CRASH

English Channel Fatalities Laid to Crack-up

LONDON, June 26. (AP)—H. Willard Tatham, American survivor of the ill-fated channel air liner City of Ottawa, today testified at the Air Ministry's inquiry into the plane's loss, relating his experiences with one of the life belts.

Tatham, whose right arm was still in a sling, said he saw no pamphlets or notices in the liner's cabin in telling the passengers what to do with the life belts. All he remembered was Flight Engineer R. Barrett telling them not to inflate the belts until they were out of the plane.

He was certain the machine did not make a flat descent on the water. The impact was terrific and he was thrown violently forward, receiving injuries to his arm. Immediately after the cabin was submerged and he found himself under water.

Barrett later told him, he said, that what caused the trouble was the ship cracking up. Otherwise all would have got out safely. But, as it happened, the emergency exit was of no value.

MURDER SUSPECT TRIES SUICIDE

Attempt to End Life in San Diego Jail Fails

Accused Bandit's Hearing Delayed to Friday

Sheriff Orders Prisoner Kept Under Guard

SAN DIEGO, June 26. — Marty (Silent) Colson, jointly accused with Lee Cochran of robbery and murder in connection with the money-car hold-up of May 20, last, will be guarded night and day until his trial, following his attempt at suicide by slashing his wrists in his cell at the County Jail this morning, Sheriff Cooper stated today. The suspected bandit-slayer severed blood vessels in both wrists with borrowed safety razor blades an hour before his cell door was opened at 7:30 o'clock this morning. He lost considerable blood from the cuts but was considered out of danger when the flow was staunched.

Because of the suicide attempt coupled with the absence of two defense attorneys, continuance of the preliminary hearing was postponed to Friday at 10 a.m. The hearing had been scheduled to open today at that hour. Cooper learned of the attempt at suicide from Jailer Harry Hubbell shortly after 9 a.m., and immediately ordered a special guard placed over Colson. The suspect, who has been held solitary in a cell at night, has been allowed to mingle during the day with other prisoners in the cell tier, will be under surveillance night and day for the remainder of his stay in the County Jail, the Sheriff decreed.

Neither Cochran nor Jerry Kearney, the latter an asserted accessory after the fact, whose testimony Friday incriminated both Colson and Kearney, it is believed "past redemption," was told of what Colson had done. Their wives, freed on their own recognizance Friday on the strength of Kearney's "confession," learned of the suicide attempt through the newspapers.

Both women, Mrs. Agnes Grace Kearney and Mrs. Marien Cochran, still face accusation of having been accessories after the fact of the murder-robbery, and were on hand at 10 a.m., in anticipation of the scheduled Township Court hearing. They did not visit their mates at the jail this morning, Kearney and Colson being kept to their cells pending further order.

City Charter to Recommend Council Plan

SAN DIEGO, June 26.—The Board of Freeholders is to recommend to the voters of the city that nine members be elected to the City Council and that the city be divided into three political districts. Each district will be represented by three Councilmen. Councilmen would hold office for four years and are to be paid $10 for each meeting attended, the number of meetings being limited to sixty per year. Candidates for Councilmen are to be nominated by petition. They must be residents of the city at least two years prior to election. The city is to be apportioned into districts not less frequently than each ten years nor oftener than five years.

The board expects to adopt this recommendation as a part of the new charter to be submitted to a vote of the people. This decision of the board was reported following a meeting with Prof. William B. Munro of Harvard University, who recommended such a plan.

The board decided to engage the services of Edwin Cottrell to write the new charter. Cottrell is former Mayor of Palo Alto and is former director of governmental research the Ohio University.

Besides Byrne, officers are F. S. Einhart and J. W. Lambert, vice-presidents; W. L. D. Brown, cashier, and a directorate including Chester A. Brown, A. F. Holt, J. G. Quinlan, F. R. Schroeder and F. E. Sockman.

APRICOT PICKING NEAR

POPLAR, June 26.—Apricots will soon be ready for picking in this district. The crop is spotted as a result of frost. Some trees are loaded, while others near by are practically bare. Combined harvesters are busy in the wheat fields. This crop is also light because of the frost.

HOLLYWOOD TALENT AT ENSENADA

Picture Folk to Join in Fiesta Planned for Spanish Town

ENSENADA, June 26.—Residents of this city are planning to stage a huge fiesta at an early date with a gala water pageant depicting the history of Mexico to celebrate the announcement just made that the Pacific Steamship Company has made Ensenada a definite weekly port of call for its steamers from Los Angeles and San Diego.

The plan is to invite leading stars of the Hollywood motion-picture industry to join with dons, donnas and senoritas of Ensenada in staging the affair. The water pageant will portray the arrival of the early Spanish explorers on the west coast of the southern republic.

The festivities will be timed so that the water pageant will start as either the Ruth Alexander or the Emma Alexander, which alternate on the run to this port, drop anchor at 1 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. The celebration will continue until the Admiral liner leaves the port at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Motion-picture stars of the film colony participating will board the liner in Los Angeles Harbor at 8 o'clock on Friday night and join in the festivities on arrival of the steamer.

The entire population of Ensenada is co-operating with Mayor David Zarate in planning the details of the celebration of the designation of this city as a permanent weekly port of call, which is expected to contribute greatly to the fame of Ensenada as a pleasure resort through throngs of tourists and vacationists, who will visit the community each week-end on the three-day cruises of the Admiral Line steamers.

Jury Selected to Try Sheriff

EL CENTRO, June 26.—Selection of a jury to hear the case of Charles D. Gillett, Imperial county Sheriff who is accused in three grand jury indictments of defrauding the Imperial county treasury of $20,000, was completed at 11 o'clock this morning and following a long noon recess the prosecution began presenting its evidence at 2 p.m.

Dist.-Atty. Heald in an opening statement to the jury declared that evidence would be submitted showing that Gillett unlawfully and knowingly withheld certain funds which were intrusted to his care as a public official, and had failed to comply with formal demand that these funds be turned back to the public treasury. The sums involved include money paid for the board and keep of Federal and municipal prisoners at the County Jail, bond and bail money and duplication of expense accounts.

Barnett, oil company employee, Holtville; W. T. Fugate, real-estate dealer, Calexico; William Doherty of Brawley was named as alternate.

AGED RESIDENTS ASK DAMPER ON NOISE

ONTARIO, June 26.—Fearful that they might suffer severe health impairment by the shooting of firecrackers on the Fourth of July, several aged residents of the community have requested the fire department to extend the closed areas in which shooting will be prohibited.

City Council has placed the matter of regulating the Fourth of July celebration in the hands of the fire department. Zones wherein firing the noise makers have been stipulated, but persons with heart trouble seek to have the noise makers kept out of the city districts.

Definite zoning will be made when the City Council meets Monday.

CHANGE PREFIXES OF PHONE NUMBERS

MONROVIA, June 26.—Discountinuing the use of color prefixes a new number system is being installed consisting of figures alone, according to O. A. Prest, manager of the Monrovia Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The change in phone numbers will not retard the service, Prest said, as the operators will give the connections in response to old numbers until the new system is entirely completed.

The new numbers will be formed by using the old number with an additional figure at the end instead of the designated color prefix, Prest said.

VAN NUYS AGAIN TO INCREASE MAIL AREA

VAN NUYS, June 26.—More than 1500 families will be benefited by the extension of the rural free delivery service out of the Van Nuys postoffice, when the new route recently created goes into effect on August 1, next, according to Postmaster E. D. Gibson. The route will include all of what is known as the Ventura Boulevard district, contiguous to the Van Nuys townsite, and west of Van Nuys Boulevard between Saticoy street and the hill area south of Ventura Boulevard. Hundreds of homes will be served under the new system.

SIMPLE RITES FOR HERMIT

Aged Recluse Buried Near Spot Where He Spent Years in Voluntary Exile

AZUSA, June 26.—At noon yesterday far within the dense quiet of the San Gabriel Canyon simple rites were held for Oliver P. Justice, 81-year-old hermit who was found dead Tuesday morning lying on a cot in front of his lonely log cabin by Ranger Trout, who immediately notified local authorities.

Yesterday Deputy Sheriffs Brewster and Waybright with Wallace Tiper, from White's funeral home here, left for the cabin which is located on the John Hibsch ranch at the junction of Iron Forks, fifteen miles inland from Camp Bonita.

From Bonita the trio of men, guided by two forest rangers, hiked through the hills to the cabin with the intention of bringing out the body on a stretcher for burial here. However, the body, exposed to the elements for possibly three days, was found to be badly decomposed and necessitated immediate burial.

After constructing a coffin from roughly hewn timber, the men interred the hermit in a hillside a short distance from the rustic cabin which had served as his home for the past twenty-five years, he having lived as recluse in the canyon during the past quarter century.

Before retiring to the canyon, Justice was active in civic affairs here and held the distinction of being Azusa's first City Clerk and organized and served on the first school board. He was named postmaster shortly after the postoffice was established in the early 80's.

The last time he left the canyon was in 1918, when he was subpoenaed as a witness in a murder trial.

Rangers and several friends seen frequently on the trails in the canyon kept a lookout for the aged hermit and would take him provisions on their trips to his cabin, otherwise he was alone.

Grape Men to Meet at Chaffey

ONTARIO, June 26.—Having laid preliminary plans here last week for participation in the recently signed farm-relief measure, grape growers, shippers and others interested in the industry in Southern California have been called together for a second meeting to be held at Chaffey Union High School Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The call went today for mass meeting of the sixteenth district of the California Vineyardists' Association, which embraces practically all of the Southland.

Donald D. Conn, managing director for the California Vineyardists' Association, is to be present to explain more in detail the new stabilization corporation plan, under which the grape men of California will function this season. Conn was at Washington during the presentation and discussion of the adopted farm-relief measure.

The C.V.A. hopes to get control of 90 per cent of the grape crop of California. The Southern California growers will be given opportunity to sign up on the stabilization program Monday.

According to R. R. McKennett, deputy horticultural commissioner, the grape men will not share in financial aid from the farm-relief bill unless 90 per cent of the acreage is signed.

McKennett said today, "While the program will call for any investment on the part of the grower of 3 cents per lug shipped, it will assure him a profit of 25 cents or more over what he would otherwise receive."

Veterans Meet in Convention

SAN DIEGO, June 26.—Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Department of California, gathered in Russ Auditorium today for the opening session of the organization's ninth annual encampment, following registration at the U. S. Grant Hotel this morning. A band concert was staged at the Plaza, opposite the hotel, at noon.

Mayor Harry Clark welcomed the visitors to San Diego after an impressive ceremony, when veterans and auxiliary members saluted and posted the colors and a special prayer was offered followed by two minutes of silent reflection.

Memorial services for departed comrades were held under direction of Henry Leavitt of San Francisco, past junior vice-commander-in-chief.

Committees were named late this afternoon. The session closed at 5 p.m., with saluting and retiring of colors.

With hundreds of veterans pouring into the city yesterday and today by train, automobile and boat, the lobbies of the U. S. Grant and Waldorf hotels, encampment and auxiliary headquarters, respectively, were filled to capacity today. Registration clerks were kept busy by the swarm of visitors.

EVIDENCE EXPLODES IN ARTESIA COURT

ARTESIA, June 26. — C. A. Martin today was awaiting sentence scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow, on a charge of manufacturing intoxicants. Martin was arrested two months ago, and was convicted yesterday before Judge George Gamble.

Capt. R. I. Morris of the Los Angeles liquor detail testified that Martin had carried on an extensive business of making liquor in the homes of his customers. The accused first would appear at the home of a client and sell a quantity of grape juice. A few days later he would appear again, this time with the equipment necessary for the manufacture of champagne.

A bottle of the alleged product introduced in court yesterday as evidence, exploded, showering the court with its contents.

VAN NUYS, June 26.—According to a statement of Manager C. C. Campbell of the local Pacific Telephone exchange, additional equipment, to cost about $15,000, is being installed in the exchange to keep abreast with present and future demands. Since the beginning of the year about 130 new subscribers have been added. Van Nuys telephone business has quadrupled within the last few years. A force of eighteen girl operators is now needed to handle all calls passing through the exchange each day.

CHIEF YOWLACHE GIVES CONCERT

REDLANDS, June 26.—Redland's season of outdoor concerts for the people under the stars in the Bowl near the library opened this week. Last night Chief Yowlache of Yakima opened the summer season of popular concerts and community sings with a fine program being staged by S. Earle Blakeslee of Ontario.

Chief Yowlache has his tepee on the stage and sang a delightful program of Indian songs. Hugo Kirchhofer led the community singing.

The first artists' concert will be given Friday evening. Last night there were more than 2000 in the bowl and there is expected to be a large crowd when Fritz De Brun, who won the Hollywood Bowl audition, sings, and Elizabeth Wilson, winner of the Music Federation contest for the violin, gives a program, assisted by Miss Frances Mullen, young pianist of Redlands.

BUSY BEES IN REVOLT

Hive of Honey Makers Send Riverside Man to Hospital

INDIO, June 26.—Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hazall and David Kline of Riverside decided they would bring their bee colonies to a ranch in Coachella Valley so they started out yesterday with a trailer loaded with bee hives all occupied. There was one hive too many for the trailer so it was loaded into the back end of their closed car.

As they were nearing Indio late last night the top of the hive in the back of the car came off and immediately bees swarmed all over the three occupants. The bees were in no happy frame of mind due to the continued jouncing and they immediately expressed their displeasure by stinging the occupants fore, aft and amidships.

Mr. Hazall managed to get his car to Indio where the bees were driven off and the occupants taken to the Coachella Valley Community Hospital where they were treated. Later they were taken to the Kalinda Hotel where they are recuperating.

The city's hotels are taxed to capacity and 1500 delegates are being entertained in private homes of San Bernardino, Colton and Highland.

CRAMPS COST LIFE OF BEACH BATHER

REDONDO BEACH, July 26.—An attack of cramps which paralysed his jaws and legs cost the life of Fred Wells of Manhattan, while swimming near the life line at the foot of Second street, this afternoon.

Wells who collapsed against the line was unable to call for help and his struggles were for a time interpreted by on-lookers as seasickness. Life Guard Lee Jarvis brought him ashore and he was later removed to his home.

TEACHER FACES TRIAL

Instructor of San Gabriel School Charged With Cruelty and Incompetence

SAN GABRIEL, June 26.—Charges of asserted whippings of school children and of insubordination and unfitness for his position confronted Sidney E. Calvert, dismissed principal of Lincoln grammar school, at a hearing today before the San Gabriel school board held in the Washington school. The hearing was called to hear Calvert's appeal for reinstatement. He had been principal of the Lincoln school for five years.

Charges against him date back over a long period.

The hearing consumed the entire day and will probably not be concluded until late tomorrow. G. R. Bradbury, president of the school board, is presiding. Other members of the board are Ralph G. Crane and Mrs. Lorna L. Ramsey. Calvert is represented by Attorney George E. Downing of San Gabriel. Deputy County Counsel L. K. Vobayda is representing the school officials.

The lengthy complaint against Calvert includes allegations that in March, 1925, he struck Billy Acuna, 15-year-old pupil, on the head with a stick. Other pupils on whom he is alleged to have inflicted corporal punishment during the past four years are Lupe Cabral, Alego Delgado, Edward Carpenter and Olive Chapman. The latter Calvert is asserted to have struck in the face with his hand. He is said to have used a rubber hose on the Carpenter boy. None of the punishment was approved by the school board, according to the complaint.

Calvert is also charged with failure to conform with the program of the school by not making weekly reports and with making statements that compromised the members of the board before other teachers.

Calvert today denied all the charges and said that they are the result of spite work. He claims that several years ago he pointed out asserted false records to the late Mark Keppel, then county superintendent of schools, and that Keppel interceded with the board to keep him in good standing. After Keppel's death, Calvert says, repeated efforts were made to impeach his, Calvert's, character.

Fifteen witnesses were called today for the prosecution, including Conrad E. H. Hale, local school superintendent. Tomorrow Calvert will present his defense. If the hearing results in Calvert's dismissal being upheld the case will be taken to the Superior Court, his attorney advised.

EARLE'S TROUBLES MULTIPLY

Mortgage Foreclosed on City Official's Home in Pasadena

PASADENA, June 26.—Although none of the implications of graft on city paving contracts against City Engineer Warren C. Earle have been proven, the central figure in this city's first case involving the integrity of a department head, revealed today that the finger of suspicion has resulted in foreclosure of the mortgage on his $30,500 home at 2350 East Orange Grove avenue.

Earle asserted this afternoon that, despite the avowed intention of the Board of City Directors to discharge him, he has been given no formal notice of discharge and has been told by City Manager R. V. Orbison to remain in his present position at least until completion of the investigation of possible graft on the Linda Vista-street project.

The City Engineer admitted that a mortgage company has foreclosed a mortgage on his home and that he is being forced to move. He asserted that rumors that he had paid for the home were untrue. The lots, he said, were purchased cheaply and an eastern architect prepared plans for a $12,000 home. Because statements from the builder were not sent to him regularly, he asserted the original $12,000 cost grew to $30,500 before he was aware of it. His own investment amounted only to $400, he stated.

When the first payment of $5000 on a $20,000 mortgage came due on the 1st inst., according to Earle, he was granted an extension, but this extension was canceled and the mortgage foreclosed, he said, when it became known that his honesty was being investigated.

"Mr. Orbison has told me to remain in office until after the Linda Vista investigation is completed," said Earle. "All I want is a chance to present my side of the charges against me."

"Why, I haven't even been told directly what the charges are and have been forced to get most of my information from newspapers. I have not been given an opportunity to deal directly with Mr. Orbison."

City officials assert that only technical irregularities in posting paving costs have been unearthed in the investigation and that no proof implicating Earle in graft has been revealed.

The cabin will be constructed in the hills north of the city, and it is planned to make the cabin available for all boys and girls identified with some organization in Arcadia.

The cabin in San Gabriel Canyon will be retained for future use, Scout executives said.

COUNTY TO LEASE POMONA BUILDING

POMONA, June 26. — With authorization by the County Board of Supervisors for Chairman R. F. McClellan to negotiate a lease with Mark Potter, local capitalist, for the rental of the former Pomona Implement Company building at the northwest corner of Third and Garey avenue, Pomona will soon have an adequate and modern Township Justice Court operating under increased jurisdiction about September 1, next.

The building is to be remodeled and a space of 26x96 feet will be occupied fronting on Third street, two stories in height. The courtrooms will occupy the full two stories, providing for adequate ventilation, while rooms will be provided for Justice White and his clerk; rooms for the jury and deputies being on the second floor. Offices for Constable Chambers and an increased staff of deputies will also be provided. Mr. Potter was in Los Angeles today arranging details of the lease following which he will immediately start the remodeling work.

DOUBLE CELEBRATION OF FOURTH OF JULY

ARCADIA, June 26.—Serving a double significance, the Fourth of July celebration here will mark the official opening of the municipal playground as well as commemorate Independence Day. The program as outlined will include baseball, music and fireworks.

The City Council has contributed $150 toward a fund for fireworks and merchants of the city will furnish the balance of the celebration expense.

Stark, Anaheim police judge, and Miss Roberta Bragg of Alhambra, who were wed at the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale, at an evening service. Infuriated Cow Attacks Woman

VENTURA, June 26.—Attacked by a cow which suddenly became vicious, Mrs. D. M. Williams of Saticoy had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday afternoon. She was saved from the charging animal by Charles Brown, a neighbor, who was near by and saw her danger. Brown beat the cow off and chased it away after it had knocked Mrs. Williams to the ground, cutting and bruising her. Mrs. Williams has been keeping a cow of her own in a pasture with a cow belonging to Eugene Booker.

Mrs. Williams, leaving her milk pail outside the barbed-wire fence, entered the plot to get her own animal. Suddenly the Booker cow, which was not more than ten or fifteen feet away, lunged at her. She attempted to ward it off with her hands until Brown could reach her, but was knocked down and was in danger of being gored when he arrived.

Raise Fund to Save Park

PASADENA, June 26.—With the hope of saving Carmelita Park for the public by paying the Colorado street widening assessments levied against the art and music center, private interests will raise $100,000, it was learned today.

Arthur H. Fleming, who has long been one of the leaders in the movement to acquire the park for the city, has informed the Board of City Directors that he will personally endeavor to raise the fund, the principal and interest of which would pay the street assessments over a thirty-year period.

Mr. Fleming's offer culminates efforts of a committee headed by William Thum, former mayor, which sought some solution to the problem of paying assessments which became due after a special city tax was rejected recently by voters.

Police Cars to Use Wireless

PASADENA, June 26.—If tests to be conducted tomorrow are successful, each city police car will be equipped with a 250-watt low wave transmitter which will keep the officers in the machines in constant communication with local police headquarters.

Although radio principles will be utilized, messages will be sent by means of a code of long and short "buzzes."

When a crime is commited, according to Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley, the desk sergeant will send out the call signal to the patrol car nearest the scene.

Complete cost of the system, which would replace the present call lights, would be less than $600, Kelley asserts.

POSSESSION OF DEER MEAT CHARGED

PORTERVILLE, June 26.—July 8 has been set for hearing of the case of A. M. Powell, charged with having deer meat in his possession at his cabin on the Tule River, near the copper mines. Powell was scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace A. M. Lumley, but through his attorney, John T. Fuller, entered a plea of not guilty and asked for a jury trial.

The complaint was issued by Ray Bullard, ranger at Camp Nelson headquarters. Powell was given his liberty on his own recognizance.

VENTURA, June 26.—An unmasked bandit last night held up and robbed A. A. Franklin, Ventura contractor, as he sat in a parked car on San Miguel Strand at Pierpont Bay. The man, armed with a pistol, which he thrust into Franklin's side, took $27 from Franklin and made his escape in the darkness.

THE 2,000 employes of The Chicago Daily News are proud of their new home. Twenty-five shining stories of steel and stone it stands at the cross roads of America's second greatest population center as a fitting monument to service rendered by The Chicago Daily News in the past. ORDERS FOR STEEL KEEP ON UPGRADE

Most Producers Enter Midyear Season With Record Volume

CLEVELAND, June 26. (Exclusive)—Iron Trade Review this week says: Most steel producers are coming up to midyear with the best order books in their history for that period. Not since 1920 have so many departments of the industry embarked on the third quarter with July output substantially sold and considerable August tonnage earmarked.

Specifications and shipments of finished steel continue to turn down moderately, under seasonal influences, but third-quarter contracting is brisk, considering the general price situation and the forerunning record six months. Compared with a year ago, third-quarter commitments of many consumers show an increase.

Contracting for third-quarter pig iron is more active, many automotive foundries now being in position to foresee their needs more clearly. In some cases these requirements are within 20 per cent of the second-quarter melt.

Base prices on heavy finished steel are generally firm with delivery a paramount consideration in many cases.

In semifinished the markets at Pittsburgh, Youngstown and Cleveland appear to be settling to a $35 base, though some makers—chiefly those with little material to sell—hold to the advanced level of $36 for sheet bars, billets and slabs.

This week steel corporation subsidiaries have eased off three points to 99 per cent while independent producers are down two points, to 92 per cent. The entire steel industry is averaging 95 per cent this week against 96 last week.

Failure of semifinished steel makers to hold their advance has lowered the Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products 12 cents to $36.84.

Kansas Natural Gas Companies Called for Quiz

TOPEKA (Kan.) June 26. (AP)—The Public Service Commission today made public an order directing an investigation on its own motion of rates, charges, regulations and practices of all public utilities and common carriers engaged in the purchase, transportation, sale or distribution of natural gas in Kansas.

A hearing relative to the investigation was set to begin in the office of the commission in Topeka, July 29. The hearing, it was announced, was to be adjourned "from time to time and from place to place as may be found necessary and convenient by the commission."

Fifty-one public utilities were made respondents to the proceeding, and directed to appear at the hearing. Each was ordered to prepare and present a detailed inventory of all its property used in rendition of its services as a gas utility, and to present a detailed statement showing revenues and expenses during the year ending June 30, 1929.

The order, dated the 25th inst., said the investigation was for the purpose of ascertaining the reasonableness of the rate schedules and other matters to be investigated, and for the purpose of entering, "if found necessary," such orders as may be reasonable, fair, just and nondiscriminatory.

Plaintiffs are reported to own a majority of common stock.

TRUSTS FAVOR RAIL ISSUE

New Manual Shows New York Central as First Choice of Greatest Number; Edison Popular

BY EARLE E. CROWE

For investors looking for guidance in the selection of common stock investments, the portfolios of the leading investment trusts in the country disclose some interesting and valuable hints. This compilation, made in the new volume of Keane's Manual of Investment Trusts, places the standard rails at the top of the list, with three out of the first six ranking stocks.

New York Central Railroad, as shown by this manual, is the favorite of the investment trusts, even outranking American Telephone and Telegraph, heretofore regarded as the outstanding choice of seasoned investment issues. The manual shows that forty-six trusts own New York Central, one trust alone holding shares with a market value of $1,000,000.

UNION PACIFIC SECOND

Next in rank is another railroad, the high-priced Union Pacific stock. Forty-three trusts report holdings of Union Pacific, both preferred and common, with the latter stock in the great majority. The American Capital Corporation of Los Angeles is listed as one of the holders of Union Pacific common.

In third place is American Telephone, the company that has more stockholders than any other. A total of forty-one investment trusts has invested in American Telephone shares, according to the information furnished Keane's Manual.

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe shares are held by thirty-seven trusts. This railroad is one of the most conservative of the steam carriers, and its shares have held a high investment rating for a long period of years in reflection of stability of earning power.

Along with Atchison comes General Electric, the giant of the electric equipment industry, to which has also been attracted a total of thirty-seven investment trusts. The attractiveness of General Electric to investment trusts is enhanced by its holdings of Radio Corporation and other units in the electric and allied industries.

TEXAS RANKS HIGH

One oil company, the Texas Corporation, has a place in the first six, thirty four trusts having chosen this stock among their list of investments. In view of the popularity of many of the Standard Oil stocks with investors, it is rather surprising to note that an independent has won the call from the investment trusts. Texas Corporation, in which the Fisher Brothers are heavily interested, is one of the largest units in the industry.

Among the Standard Oil stocks, Standard of California is the favorite, outranking Standard of New Jersey, the largest of the Standard group. Twenty-five trusts report holdings in the California company, against twenty in the Jersey company.

Southern California Edison and Pacific Gas and Electric are both highly regarded by the trusts, although the Southern California utility has considerable of an edge over the northern company. Thirty-two trusts have Edison investments, compared with nineteen in Pacific Gas.

Future employees will be eligible for the same protection after one month's employment. The full amount of the policy will be paid by the Travelers' Insurance Company of Hartford, Ct., to be designated beneficiary in case of death of the employee, or to the employee in event of his permanent disability because of accident or sickness.

MacMarr Stores, Inc., announced yesterday the formal acquisition of the Pigley Wiggly Puget Sound Company and the Tacoma Piggly Wiggly Company which brings the total chain of MacMarr-operated grocery stores to 1050 units, of which 600 are in California and the other 450 located in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

Piggly Wiggly Puget Sound Company, organized in 1925, operates at present thirty-eight stores and a warehouse in Seattle, while the Tacoma company was formed in 1923 and now operates nineteen units with a warehouse at Tacoma. Sales of the two chains in 1928 amounted to $3,857,000 and their addition will bring the annual sales of the MacMarr system to about $55,000,000, it was stated.

The removal of approximately 3500 head from the Pacific Coast territory is expected to have a strengthening effect on the Coast market.

Orrick, vice-president, and Luke Hubbard, director of the corporation and secretary of the Brininstool Paint Company of Los Angeles, a subsidiary of General Paint, will go on the board of directors of the Finch corporation, it was reported.

Under the terms of the stock exchange as authorized by the State Corporation Commissioner, General Paint Corporation will exchange 2785 shares of its B stock for the outstanding 6152 preferred and 7219 common shares of the Finch corporation. General Paint Corporation will receive net tangible assets of approximately $52,288 by the purchase which is at the rate of $18.75 per share of B stock.

L. S. Finch, president of the Finch Chemical Corporation, will be in charge of the lacquer department of the General Paint Corporation. GROSS SALES STATED

Gross sales of the Finch concern last year were in excess of $275,000. Finch brands are widely known in the industrial field on the Pacific Coast in connection with automobile, furniture and airplane lacquers and the General Paint Corporation plans to expand this business to the midcontinent territory.

The Finch Company has representatives in San Diego, San Francisco, Oakland, Portland, Seattle and Tacoma and these will be consolidated with the General Paint Corporation's sales offices. The L. S. Finch Chemical Corporation was organized in October, 1924, when it acquired certain assets of the Finch Chemical Company, which was formed in 1920 and was the pioneer manufacturer of lacquers in Southern California. The L. S. Finch corporation was capitalized at $200,000. It operates a plant and a store in Los Angeles.

General Paint Corporation was incorporated in Nevada in October, 1928, to acquire the physical assets, properties and stock, except directors' qualifying shares of the California Paint Company of Oakland, established in 1865; Hill, Hubbell & Co., of San Francisco, established in 1907; Jones & Dillingham of Spokane, established in 1889; Rasmussen & Co. of Portland, established in 1885; Seattle Paint Company of Seattle, established in 1899, and the Western Pacific Paint Corporation of Los Angeles, established in 1927, and its subsidiaries, Magner Brothers Paint Company of San Francisco, and Bradley-Wise Paint Company, Brininstool Paint Company, and Technical Oil and Paint Company, all of Los Angeles.

Consolidated net sales of General Paint Corporation in 1928 totaled $6,799,728. Its assets at the close of 1928 were listed at $4,684,097. In addition to paint manufacturing plants operated on the Pacific Coast and at Tulsa, Okla., the corporation runs pipe wrapping plants in Wisconsin, Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

The company has just perfected a new projection machine for motion pictures that will not only cover a much larger screen area than now conventionally used but which will reflect three dimensions, width, length and depth, to audiences. A $10,000,000 contract has been signed with Fox Film Corporation for installations of the new projector in its chain of theaters, according to reports.

CO-OPERATIVE SUCCESSFUL

Minnesota Dairy Marketing Enterprise Handles $47,000,000 Annually at Minimum Cost

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) June 26.—Land o' Lakes Creameries, Inc., is one of the most successful farmer co-operatives in the United States. In fact it is one of the most successful industrial enterprises in the Northwest.

Eight years ago A. J. McGuire, then associated with the extension division of the University of Minnesota, and a life-long student and believer in co-operation, started the movement to get the co-operative creameries of Minnesota to join hands in a big marketing organization through which all the product of these co-operatives would be handled.

It took three years before the association got under way, but in November, 1924, the organization began to function.

In 1925 the total sales were $17,000,000. They doubled in 1926. In 1928 the total sales had reached $47,500,000. This year the totals will go well over $50,000,000.

Less than five years old, this organization today handles more than 90 per cent of the high-scoring butter in the United States. It handles all the output of 480 creameries in Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and South Dakota. In addition it is handling the surplus of about twenty co-operative creameries in California and Idaho.

The cost of marketing is the important thing. The record for last year shows that this cost just .27 of 1 cent per pound. With butter selling at 45 to 50 cents a pound this figure of about 1-4 of 1 cent a pound is nominal.

The headquarters in Minneapolis are a beehive of industry. The directors, largely farmers, meet on the tenth of each month and set the price of butter. Checks go out on the fifteenth to the 92,000 farmers in the organization. The organization handles—in addition to butter and cream, eggs—milk powder and poultry.

"Our sales are now approaching $1,000,000 a week," said Mr. McGuire.

"We pay the creameries about 80 per cent of the value of the cream sent to us under bill of lading, and the remainder is sent out out on the fifteenth of the following month. Our farmers are prosperous, intelligent and enthusiastic. Co-operation not only gives the farmer a larger part of the sale price, but it makes him a vital factor in the business of the nation."

All the receipts, less the expenses, are returned to the members in proportion to the business done, as the company has no capital stock.

So important have the breeding, handling and feeding of fur-bearing animals become in the Northwest that the University of Minnesota held its third annual fur farmers' short course this week.

The early fur wearers, all wealthy people, used only genuine furs. Today more than 100,000,000 cheap furs are used annually.

Take rabbit fur as an example. Dyed, this skin is known as arctic seal, bay seal, northern seal and sealine. Dyed to imitate fox, it is sold as Baltic brown, red and black fox, or fox hare. Dyed to imitate leopard, it is called Baltic, French and Russian leopard. Rabbit pelts are used in more than fifty types of fur.

The greatest wild fur producing area in the world lies within a 600-mile radius of St. Louis. More than

AUCTION OF ALTON RAIL LINE PENDS

Federal Court Asked to Order Lien Foreclosure Totaling $40,000,000

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—Federal Judge George A. Carpenter has taken under advisement the report of a master in chancery recommending the foreclosure of mortgages totaling $40,000,000 on the Chicago and Alton Railroad. It was within the province of the court to order sale and reorganization of the road, and such action has been predicted.

One of two mortgages concerned in the case has received no interest payment for seven years, according to the report, while the other has been without interest payments since it was placed on the road in 1912.

The first mortgage, held by the Farmers Loan and Trust Company of New York as trustee was for $22,000,000 at 3½ per cent interest. The second, for $18,000,000, called for 6 per cent interest, and is held by the United States Mortgage and Trust Company of New York.

A mortgage for $45,000,000 placed on the road when it was purchased by E. H. Harriman, New York financier, in 1899, was not concerned in the action since the interest of 3 per cent has been paid regularly. At the time Harriman purchased the road it was known as "the cleanest road financially in the country" and for many years paid a regular 8 per cent dividend.

The railroad went into the hands of receivers involuntarily August 30, 1922. The circumstances were blamed then on the coal and railway strikes. William G. Beird, for many years president of the road, and Attorney W. W. Wheelock were appointed receivers and still are serving in that capacity.

St. Louis continues to maintain its leadership as one of the great fur markets of the world.

INTERNATIONAL NICKEL

With the acquisition of Mond Metal, the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., controls more than 90 per cent of the world's nickel supply. It is the sole producer of monel metal. The main operating property of the company is now in the Creighton mine in Sudbury district, Ontario, but the Frood mine is expected to be in production during 1930. This latter property contains large copper values in excess of monel metal requirements.

The selling policies of the company are progressive, and in the early future it is expected that development of copper production for the market will be an important factor.

Consolidated net income in 1928 was $12,399,000, which was about double the $6,064,000 in the year before. World Output of Autos Sets New High Mark

WASHINGTON, June 26. (AP)—World automobile production set a new record in 1928. The Department of Commerce announced today that the total production last year was 5,203,139 machines, an increase of 1,044,173 over the 1927 figure.

Combined output of the United States and Canada was 4,601,141, an increase of 1,020,761. Decreases were reported for England, Spain and Denmark.

"This indicates that the industry is approaching what might be termed a stabilized condition, that is, each year an increasing percentage of production is being absorbed in the form of replacements. United States and Canadian exports alone, totaling 586,498, almost equal the combined production of the balance of the world, which numbered 601,998.

"The production of passenger cars, trucks and busses in the United States and Canada during 1928, which was the highest ever recorded, amounted to 4,601,141. While this was a gain of 1,020,761 over 1927, the 1928 production was only 95,280 in excess of 1926.

Edison Again Dominates Local Trading as Market Activity Improves

Displaying a notable increase in activity security prices on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday turned highly irregular and as the losses about equaled gains it appeared that trading was of a selective character. While the oils turned softer a number of sharp advances were recorded on other sections of the board which appeared to substantiate the belief that a large portion of the buying was for investment account thought to be taking advantage of present levels.

Southern California Edison again jumped into the spotlight and, on a variety of speculative rumors, advanced a full point to a high at 64, leading the turnover of all stocks on the board. The close was at 63 1-4, up 1-4 net. The original preferred of the same company was no less spectacular with a jump of 1 1-4 points to a high at 65 1-4 which it held to the end of the session.

Douglas Aircraft, linked with United Aircraft and Transport in merger rumors was the second most active trader of the list. However, selling orders outweighed the demand with the result that the stock dropped off a full point to 36 3-4. John Bean was a strong spot, up 1 3-8 points to 51 1-4.

Security-First National Bank made a sharp recovery of 1 3-4 points to a high and close for the day at 126 3-4 while Californa Bank weakened 1 3-4 points to 130 1-4. Mortgage Guarantee, selling exdividend, scored a sensational rise of 8 points to a new high at 208. The stock is usually inactive and has not been traded for some time.

Wheat Futures Unchanged on Shifting Mart

CHICAGO, June 26. (AP)—After many rapid changes, down and up, wheat prices today closed under extreme tension, but at almost the exact level of twenty-four hours before. Rains regarded as of much benefit to the spring wheat crop in Canada tended to pull values down, but on the other hand domestic wheat crop advances Southwest and Northwest alike were decidedly pessimistic. Lowest estimates yet received were current as to the result of 1929 wheat production, both in Kansas and Oklahoma.

Wheat finished nervous, unchanged to ⅛c lower, with corn ⅛@1⅛c up, oats unchanged to ⅜c off and provisions unchanged to a setback of 12c.

The sharpest bulge in wheat prices today came shortly before the close, and accompanied estimates from a Kansas milling concern that wheat yields in Kansas and Oklahoma this season would not exceed 115,000,000 bushels and 35,000,000 bushels, respectively, for the two States referred to. Moreover, it was stated that on account of excessive rains Southwest, mold is being found in wheat shocks. Meanwhile, dry weather complaints from North Dakota were emphasizing earlier adverse reports from South Dakota. The quick ensuing upturn in prices, though, lead to a big selling rush, and the market tumbled back in a hurry.

Forecasts of rain tonight in Canada and in domestic wheat districts south of the Canadian boundary had much to do with late pressure to sell on advances in price. Earlier, too, special significance was attached to the fact that rains furnishing relief from drought were reported in Saskatchewan province, Can., as well as in the province of Alberta. The former province is the heaviest wheat-producing section of Canada, and until now appears to have had hardly half the average rainfall for this time of the season.

Western Nebraska wheat crop conditions attracted considerable notice today, dispatches from there telling of high winds and dearth of moisture. Messages from South Dakota said another week without rain would mean that large areas of that State would barely make seed.

Commission houses were persistent buyers today of December delivery of corn, as a consequence, that delivery rose to a new high price record for the season. Oats values were eased by favorable oats crop advices.

Provisions inclined downward, sympathizing with hog values.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Irregular price fluctuations characterized yesterday's trading on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange with a small volume of operations indicating a disposition on the part of the public to await developments. No definite trend was manifested at any time.

Maddux Air Lines led the activity of the market and firmed up another 1-4 point to 12 3-4. International Projector attracted a speculative following with a further advance of 1 3-4 points to a new record high at 29. The stock closed at 28 1-2. The action of this issue was accompanied by rumors that rights are likely to be offered stockholders.

With the exception of Fokker Aircraft, which dropped 1 3-8 to 50 3-4, all other exchanges were confined to small fractions. Lockheed strengthened 1-2 to 17, Magnavox 30 cents to 4.30, after touching a high at 4.60, and Kemper Radio moved up 15 cents to 2.85.

Sales totaled 156,793 shares, valued at $289,785.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—Spectacular performances by the convertibles which made large gains on record turnovers as stocks soared, overshadowed the bond market completely today.

The advances ranged from ¼ to 42 points and were recorded by the public utility and railroad obligations which may be exchanged for shares. American Telephone 4½s turned over to the unprecedented extent of $4,700,000, par value, and behind them came the Atchison 4½s with a volume of $1,726,000 principal amount, and International Telephone 4½s with $1,400,000.

The best gain was made by Norfolk & Western convertible 6s, up 42 points to 234, a new high, on a turnover, however, of only $6000, par value. Next came Public Service of New Jersey 4½s, up 12½ points to a new peak at 236.

Others establishing record prices were the Atchisons, closing at 126 for a 4-point gain, the International Telephones, finishing at 142, a gain of 3¼; Missouri Pacific 5¼s at 113½, up ⅛, and New Haven 6s at 128, up ¼. The American Telephone issue, closing at 135½, after rising as high as 136¾, had a net advance of 2 points, but the bonds were nearly 7 points under the high, established when the security was listed in May.

Southern Pacific 4½s with warrants, and American International 5½s, also convertible, gained ¼ and 1½, respectively, on large transactions, especially in the second-named issue.

A few of the oils, notably the Humble issues and Standard of New York 4½s, sold off. Foreign sugars made a general advance, which in the case of Sugar Estates of Oriente 7s, reached 4 points.

United States government securities again climbed fractionally, but buying was unimportant in all except the Fourth Liberty 4¼s, the Treasury 3⅜s and the Treasury 3¾s. Japanese government 6½s were best taken in the foreign list, holding to yesterday's close.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

SECURITY-FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF LOS ANGELES, TRUSTEE

EXEMPT FROM CALIFORNIA PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX, IN THE OPINION OF COUNSEL

Mr. F. W. Marlow, President of the Company, has summarized his letter to us as follows:

PROPERTY Coast & Valley Properties, Inc., a California corporation, will acquire title to a number of parcels of land in Los Angeles County, including eleven tracts located in or near Burbank and Owensmouth in the San Fernando Valley and approximately 295 acres of choice coast property located directly north of the Palos Verdes Estates and bordering on the Pacific Ocean. Of the 1102 lots in the San Fernando Valley, 913 lots have been sold at prices aggregating $2,427,369.67, the balance due on the land sales contracts and first trust deeds being $1,261,764.17. The properties in the Burbank area contain 960 of the 1102 lots and have been improved with streets, sidewalks and curbs, water, gas and electricity.

The coast property of approximately 295 acres contains over 2362 feet of beach frontage and will be known as the second parcel of Hollywood Riviera. The original parcel of about 300 acres of Hollywood Riviera (which does not come under this bond issue) has been in the process of sale for only a little more than one year, but during that time about 65% in value and 75% in area of the tract has been sold, with sales aggregating in excess of $4,500,000. While the new acreage has not as yet been formally opened, advance reservations totalling about $250,000 have been made. Excellent transportation facilities are provided by the Roosevelt Highway, the Coast Highway and Redondo Boulevard.

SECURITY These bonds will be the direct obligation of the Company and will be specifically secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct mortgage on 1086 of the undeeded lots in the 11 tracts in the San Fernando Valley and on the approximately 295 acres at the beach; and by assignment and pledge of contracts of sale and 16 first trust deeds with unpaid principal balances aggregating $1,261,764.17. The real property which will secure these bonds has recently been appraised by two well qualified appraisers, Mr. W. A. Avey and Mr. O. A. Vickrey. Based upon the lower of these two appraisals, namely $3,391,234.95, this offering represents a 41.28% loan against the property.

PLEDGED CONTRACTS About 96% of the principal and interest to be collected on the said $1,261,764.17 contracts and first trust deeds shall be placed in the Sinking Fund and Interest Fund, respectively. On all future sales, about 96% of the interest collections shall be placed in the Interest Fund and about 48.8% of the sales price of each lot shall be placed in the Sinking Fund, the remaining approximately 51.2% of the sales price being available for sales, advertising and general corporate purposes of the Company, for fees and expenses incidental to the deeding of lots and transferring of title, and for deposit into certain improvement funds.

RELEASE PROVISIONS All of the real property to be mortgaged may be released from the lien of the trust indenture under careful restrictions covering such releases. Based upon the minimum sales prices of unsold property originally provided in the trust indenture and the principal amount of contracts of sale and first trust deeds to be initially pledged, it is estimated that the release of all of the mortgaged property would require the payment of a minimum of over $3,300,000 to the Trustee for the retirement of bonds through the Sinking Fund, or more than 2¼ times the amount of this bond issue.

SINKING FUND The Company will covenant to retire, through the Sinking Fund or otherwise, this entire bond issue at or prior to maturity. It is calculated that principal payments to be received on the land sales contracts and first trust deeds which will be initially pledged will operate to retire these bonds a great deal more rapidly than is required under the Sinking Fund schedule.

PURPOSE The proceeds to be derived from the sale of these bonds will be used by the Company to pay, in part, for acquiring title to the approximately 295 acres of coast property, to pay existing indebtedness, to further improve its properties and for other corporate purposes.

All legal proceedings relating to the issuance of these bonds are subject to the approval of Messrs. O'Melveny, Tuller & Myers, Los Angeles, for the Underwriters, and Messrs. McAdoo, Neblett, O'Connor & Clagett, Los Angeles, for the Company. Books and accounts of the Company audited by Messrs. Arthur Andersen & Co., Certified Public Accountants.

STOCKS RENEW UPWARD SWING

borrowings made necessary by the expiration of stock-purchase "rights." Buying operations today again centered in the high-grade industrials, rails and public utilities, but opinion was divided as to whether this represented an enlarged investment demand or merely a maneuver on the part of large operators to center their operations in those issues in order to revive speculative confidence in the general market.

Except for the publication of another series of favorable earnings statements, particularly by the Class 1 carriers, there were few developments in the day's news to influence the price movement. Merger and stock split-up rumors, however, played an important part in the day's operations. Wall street heard that United States Steel common would be split up 2 for 1 before the end of the year; that a similar split-up would take place in United Corporation; that the executive committee of the Baldwin Locomotive Company would recommend a 4-for-1 split-up in the common stock tomorrow and enlarge the capitalization further to permit the acquisition of new companies and that Wright & Curtiss would enter into a huge aviation consolidation.

OPENING BRISK

The market started off at a fairly brisk pace, several blocks of 5000 to 15,000 shares changing hands in the early trading, but heavy profit-taking developed in the late afternoon and cut down, or wiped off, many of the early gains. Final quotations were irregularly higher, with a number of recent favorites such as American Can, Chrysler, General Motors, Packard Motors and Radio closing a point or more lower. Columbia Carbon and Brooklyn Union Gas each dropped about 5 points.

General Electric advanced to a new high at 317 5-8 and then dropped back to 313 1-4, up 4 1-4. United States Steel common crossed 190 to the highest price recorded on the increased capitalization and then eased to 188 7-8, up 4 points net. New high prices also were established by such widely assorted issues as Allied Chemical, Allis-Chalmers, International Telephone, Public Service of New Jersey, Westinghouse Electric, Auburn Motors, Kinney Company, National Dairy Products and Timken Roller Bearing.

RAILS ADVANCE

One of the interesting features of the session was the brisk demand for Pirelli Company, sponsored by the Morgan and National City interests. Coppers and oils were among the few important groups to show no outstanding points of strength.

In the rail group, new highs were recorded by Atchison, Pennsylvania, "Big Four," Chesapeake and Ohio, Union Pacific and Norfolk and Western, but the gains were not fully maintained. Missouri, Kansas and Texas changed hands in large volume, approaching to within a small fraction of the year's high of 55, and then easing to 53.

Commodity markets drifted lower. Wheat dropped about 3½ cents a bushel in the early trading, but made up most of its gain on buying, influenced by bullish Argentine crop reports. Corn showed little change on the day. Cotton closed 50 cents a bale higher to 50 cents a bale lower after a firm opening.

Foreign exchange trading was quiet, with no important changes in rates.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—Public utilities stepped back into the spotlight in today's advancing curb market. A score of power stocks, specialties and investment trusts were pushed into new high ground, as traders took less than passing note of call money which held at 10 per cent all day.

The advance was stimulated by favorable news developments and earnings reports and rumors of new consolidations. Holding of steel at near capacity production and increased railroad earnings were bullish factors.

Gains in the utilities ranged up to 18 points. Central States preferred carrying warrants made the extreme advance, closing at 150. Earlier this year this stock sold at 103½. United Gas Improvement (old,) jumped 15, the new 2⅜. American Superpower new 4½, and Electric Bond & Share 4⅛, all attaining new peaks. American Superpower new at 52⅛ is more than double its low touched a few weeks back. Today's price is equivalent to 261¼ for the old stock which was split up five for one, and which last August sold at 33⅛. Commonwealth & Southern on a turnover of 123,200 shares rose a fraction to 23⅝.

Oils with the exception of Cosden, were dull as prospects of a conservative agreement are believed remote for several months. Cosden got up to 75½ and closed at 75 for a net gain of 2⅝. Last year Cosden preferred with a half common share was offered at 102. Present common represents a three-for-one splitup of the common issues with the preferred. At today's price the half old share is worth 112½.

Revival of rumors of a Wright-Curtiss airplane merger inspired an advance in the aviation group. Aviation Corporation of the Americas rose a point to 65. Dayton Airplane Engine rose 2, Niles Bement Pond 2⅞, and Travelair 1⅛, while Keystone, mentioned in the rumors, lost a fraction of its recent gain.

In the investment trust group, Investors Equity, Sterling Securities "A" and Capital Administration "A," sold at record high prices of gains of 2⅞, 4⅛ and 1⅞, respectively.

International Projector again established a new record price, climbing to 30 and closing at 29 for a net advance of a point. This company reports factories booked to capacity for the rest of the year on talkie motion-picture equipment.

Marconi International again was heavily bought, but rose only a fraction. Zenith Radio dropped 6, while Grigsby-Grunow advanced 3⅞. Newmont Mining slipped off 2⅞.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

United Gas Company

The natural gas industry now represents an investment of over $1,500,000,000 with gross revenues of more than $300,000,000 annually. However, notwithstanding its remarkable growth, this branch of the public utility field may still be regarded as in its infancy, as it is now entering what promises to be its greatest era of expansion. Expansion of the oil business, particularly in the Southwest, has brought to light enormous new gas areas.

United Gas Company, one of the principal systems in the natural gas industry, owns or controls leases or gas purchase contracts covering the gas rights on over 400,000 acres of land in Texas and Louisiana, on a considerable part of which acreage the oil rights are also controlled.

Informative data on the securities of this Company will be forwarded upon request.

Do we produce a better 6% product?

ANY GOOD BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION . . can pay you 6% ... with every safety . . up to the limits of incompetence, wastefulness or mismanagement . . . and competition is as keen in this line of business as it is in your own.

It is fairly easy to check the continuity of management success in any building and loan association. Then you can ASK their record of loan-losses. It runs mighty low for the entire building-loan industry in California, we are proud to say.

WE HAVE HAD ONE LOAN-LOSS . . through 36½ years . . in the old-fashioned MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . with a continuity of stable management . . that has brought State records to the MUTUAL OF POMONA.

We keep our small-town ideas of economy, in spite of $3,000,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve. In spite of $13,000,000 resources. Growth will never change our cautious carefulness in making loans or EXPENDITURES. Because our stockholders stand behind the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA with their fortunes at stake with UNLIMITED LIABILITY, as your measure of safety.

Our growth of $3,000,000 in the past year, with 10th floor offices in Los Angeles, shows us, we think, that business goes to that institution which is organized to produce a sound 6% thrift service in a conservative manner — at the least possible overhead expense. There are many such building and loan associations, and the MUTUAL OF POMONA holds State records among them. For your 6% service.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

In a letter to operators in all oil fields of California, Fred V. Stevenot, director of the Department of Natural Resources, has given notice that the full force of the new gas law will be invoked after August 31, to prevent wastage of gas. His notice in part is as follows:

"On May 20, by general circular to all operators, attention was drawn to California's new gas conservation law. Since that time careful study has been made of the grave situation which occasioned this legislation. In fairness to operators and lessors, affected it is deemed appropriate to advise you at this time of the steps proposed to be taken by the State. The clear purpose and intent of the law is to put a stop to the blowing of natural gas into the air, with its consequent wastage, and this leaves no discretion to the administrators of the law.

"If, after August 31, 1929, there is any natural gas being blown into the air and thus wasted in the field, it is the intention and purpose of the State immediately to proceed with all the means provided by the law to prevent such wastage.

"This notice will give the lessors and operators full sixty days' time within which to make arrangements to meet the requirements of the new statute. It is earnestly hoped that the industry will recognize the important question of public policy underlying this legislation and make it unnecessary to institute proceedings; but if not, the full power and authority of the State will be invoked on the date specified."

Water Supply Restored

Repairs have been completed on the Sheffield reservoir which supplies water to oil operators in the Palisades field, three miles west of Santa Barbara, and drilling has been resumed on the majority of projects there, according to field reports.

Several interesting tests are being made there, a short distance from the Ring Petroleum Corporation's Nugent No. 1, which was tested a week ago. Knapp & Dunlap's Hamilton-Lindge No. 1, situated about 110 feet southeast of the Olympic Oil and Refining Company's Lomas No. 1 discovery well, is coring ahead below 2175 feet.

The Edwards No. 1 well of the Exeter Oil Company yesterday was reported to have picked up the oil formation at about 2185 feet. Today it is reaming to set casing.

The Union Oil Company's Durer No. 1 and J. O. Seeple's No. 1, situated east of the discovery well, are drilling below 1500 feet.

Overlooking the Palisades tract, the Santa Barbara Fellowship well of the Channel Oil Company is drilling ahead at 750 feet.

Gas Showings

The Vaqueros formation is said to have been picked up in the Langman No. 1 of Anderson & Garrison, a test in the townsite of Goleta. About thirty feet of formation has been cored, with bottom of the hole below 4450 feet.

Recently the Pacific Western Oil Company leased eighteen acres near the Langman No. 1, and closed a working agreement to assist in continuing operations there.

Completes Walker

The Standard Oil Company has just completed its Walker No. 11 at Santa Fe Springs and it is putting out approximately 6500 barrels of oil per day from a depth of 6825 feet along with about 4,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

At Huntington Beach Standard's No. B-62 was yesterday completed for a daily flow of about sixty barrels, with bottom of the hole at 4600 feet.

Preparing Site

The Richfield Oil Company is hauling material for the Mayberry No. 1 well, to be drilled on its Mayberry lease at Santa Fe Springs. Derrick will be constructed at once. This area is regarded as proven, because of completions near by.

Four-and-one-half-inch tubing yesterday was cemented in the G.P. No. 1 at Santa Fe Springs. This project is said to have picked up rather good showings at about 6832 feet.

Poso Creek Completion

The Texas Company's Vedder No. 2 at Poso Creek, which was recently completed, is putting out 369 barrels of 16.3 deg. gravity oil per day. It started coming in two days ago at about 1697 feet, and eventually settled down to steady production.

At Santa Fe Springs Texaco is constructing a derrick for Weaver No. 8, to be drilled on a location near the intersection of Clark street and Telegraph Road. Just across the street location has been made for Foix No. 7. Reports are that both will be drilled to the O'Connell sand.

On a 2000-acre lease about two miles north of Signal Hill Texaco's Montana No. 1 wildcat is drilling ahead at about 900 feet.

Wildcat Plugged Back

George F. Getty, Inc., has plugged back to about 2800 feet in Becker No. 1, a wildcat at Summerland, and is preparing to make a casing test, according to reports. It was drilled to 5040 feet without picking up a favorable formation, although considerable gas was in evidence.

At Santa Fe Springs Getty No. 21, which failed to get a water shutoff in the Clarke sand at about 7021 feet, and which was recently plugged back, is drilling ahead at 6162 feet. Getty No. 19, a former producer, which sanded up, was recently plugged back and is drilling ahead at about 5824 feet.

New Completions

The Pan-Cal Oil Company's No. 3 at Signal Hill, which was recently completed, is flowing about 2500 barrels of oil per day. Dabney-Johnson Oil Corporation has brought in its No. 12 well for an initial output of about 200 barrels of oil per day from a depth below 5300 feet, and the Delaney Oil Company's Holton No. 1 is yielding approximately 245 barrels of oil per day.

Permits to Drill

Of twenty-four permits to drill issued this week by the State Mining Bureau, four are for Santa Fe Springs, two for Signal Hill, one each at Seal Beach, Inglewood, Orange county, Los Angeles county in the Simi distdict; eight in Santa Barbara county, two on the Kern River Front, two at Kettleman Hills and one in the Coalinga field. The total number of new wells this year is 689, as compared with 478 at this time last year. Following are the permits:

Santa Barbara county—Union Oil Company's Carpenter - Wellman Community No. 2, General Petroleum Corporation's Olympic-Community No. 1 and No. 2, Olympic-Lomas No. 2, Doyle Petroleum Corporation's No. 1, Max Pray's No. 2, Altadena Oil Company's No. 2, Wilshire Annex Oil Company's Crawford No. 1 and No. 2 and Texas Company's Weaver No. 8 at Santa Fe Springs, General Petroleum Corporation's Rimpau No. 1 in Orange county, Texas Company's Montana Land Company No. 1 in Los Angeles county, Standard Oil Company's Investment No. 1-60 at Inglewood, the Elmer Company's No. 2 at Santa Fe Springs, Otis Hoyt's No. 5 at Signal Hills, Standard Oil Company's San Gabriel No. 23 at Seal Beach, Petroleum Securities Company's Davis-MacMillan No. 1 at Signal Hill, Pan American Petroleum Company's Tapo No. 42 in the Simi district, General Petroleum Corporation's No. 33 and No. 26 at Kern River Front, Standard Oil Company's No. 87 and No. 21 at Kettleman Hills, Section Thirty Oil Company's No. 2 at Coalinga.

Messages of approval of the administration of Mayor Cryer, which expires on the 30th inst., and best wishes for his future happiness and success, were conveyed to the Mayor yesterday from the Civil Service Commission and the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation.

The Civil Service Commission sent the following letter, signed by all five commissioners:

"Dear Mayor Cryer:

"You have served the city during a period of unprecedented development and you have encountered many difficult problems because of that rapid growth. We believe that the many and outstanding achievements of your administration reflect great credit upon you and that, as time passes, there will be increasing realization of the benefits which you have obtained for the welfare of the citizens of Los Angeles.

"We offer our sincere congratulations because of the progress which has been made in every department, including the Civil Service, and we offer our very best wishes for your future happiness and success."

The Board of Public Utilities and Transportation's message was in the form of a resolution, passed unanimously, as follows:

"Resolved, that the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation go on record unanimously approving the administration of Hon. George E. Cryer during his incumbency as Mayor of the city of Los Angeles, and

"Be it further resolved, that a communication be forwarded to the Mayor advising him of the adoption of this resolution, and also the fact that it has been a great pleasure to serve as commissioners of said board during his tenure of office as chief executive of the city government."

Bandits Make Speedy Raids

Bandits late last night made two swift raids, holding up a theater and a service station, with small rewards for their risk. In both cases cars were used for the getaways. Three men figured in the hold-up of the Ritz Theater, 5214 Wilshire Boulevard. Two of them remained in a car while the third, with a gun, held up Miss Catherine Profit, the cashier in the theater's ticket booth. They escaped after taking $100.

A lone robber with a gun held up E. J. Ruperpus, attendant at the Pan-American service station, Venice and Harvard boulevards. The bandit drove in asking for air, and then held a gun on Ruperpus while he robbed him of $25.

FITTS AIDES TO QUESTION CAPT. SOHST

Admiral Benson Master Will be Queried Here on Escape of Tallman

Further investigation of the murder of Mrs. Virginia Patty was taken up by the District Attorney's office yesterday when orders were issued to question in detail Capt. Sohst of the steamship Admiral Benson upon its arrival here Sunday, pertaining to the escape of W. L. Tallman, suspected of being the slayer. Tallman is supposed to have escaped on the Admiral Benson on the day the body of Mrs. Patty was found.

The steamship is due to arrive in Los Angeles Harbor Sunday night. Assistant District Attorneys Hammon and Shelley, who caused the indictment of Tallman before the grand jury, have obtained permission from the steamship officials to have the captain of the boat visit their office Monday. It is the intention of the deputy prosecutors to go into more minute details of Tallman's disappearance from the ship.

Belief that the suspect left the Admiral Benson and boarded a near-by British ship was expressed in the police department when radiograms were sent to the steamer Parthenia which is on the Atlantic bound for Liverpool. The Parthenia was docked a few hundred yards from the Admiral Benson on the 4th inst., when Tallman was last seen. It left the harbor at 11 o'clock the same night. The ship passed through the Panama Canal on the 17th inst.

The ship is due in Liverpool on July 4 and officials of the Donaldson Line have been requested to hold Tallman if he is on board. Chief of Detectives Cline, who cabled the company in London has not had a reply as to whether the suspect was on board the ship.

Sleeper Bus and Airplane Hook-up Starts

Inaugurating the Pickwick nite coach service between Los Angeles and San Francisco, that company's new twenty-eight-passenger coach was christened by Marvel Crosson, aviatrix, and Alice White, actress, at Grand Central Terminal yesterday before starting on its initial trip north.

To illustrate the hook-up of airplane and bus Miss Crosson had piloted a Pickwick plane from Van Nuys to the terminal at Glendale. Following the christening twenty passengers boarded the coach for San Francisco.

Officials of the Pickwick company announced that daily trips between San Diego and Seattle will be made by coach and airplane, each way requiring twenty-three hours and ten minutes. Passengers may board a Pickwick plane at San Diego at 5:20 p.m. and arrive in Los Angeles in time to board a nite coach leaving here at 6:30 p.m. The coach will reach Mills Field at 8 a.m. the following morning and from that point a Pickwick plane will take passengers to Seattle, arriving at 4:30 p.m.

The new nite coach, equipped with sleeping compartments, was designed and built by Dwight Austin, chief designer and superintendent of Pickwick's body department.

Autoists May Teach Police Traffic Duty

Captains of police and detectives joined Chief of Police Davis yesterday at a round-table conference with two officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California to devise a new system of investigating traffic accidents that will result in a reduction of fatalities and injuries. The Automobile Club was represented by E. B. Lefferts, traffic engineer, and Ivan Kelso, chief counsel.

Lefferts suggested that seventy-five men be picked from the department and turned over to the Automobile Club for intensive training under its auspices, the training being designed to enable the men more expeditiously to fasten blame and make arrests in all traffic crashes.

At the conclusion of the session Chief Davis declared he would take the matter under advisement.

PACOIMA HAS PLAN TO GET INDUSTRIES

PACOIMA, June 26.—With the hope of bringing industries to this district of San Fernando Valley, the local Chamber of Commerce has appointed a special committee to map out a zone for industrial plants and present to the Los Angeles City Planning Commission. According to J. M. Tucker, secretary, plans also have been started to obtain a fire station for this district, to be manned by paid firemen to take the place of the local volunteer force. When fires occur in this area hose carts have to be called from San Fernando and Van Nuys, each town being several miles away.

Se Discute el Discurso del Rey en Consejo de Ministros

LONDRES, Junio 26.—Hoy se celebró un consejo de ministros en el número 10 de la calle de Downing, bajo la presidencia del primer ministro MacDonald, con el fin de discutir el discurso del trono, que habrá de leer el monarca ante el parlamento el próximo 2 de Julio.

En su alocución parlamentaria, el rey delineará seguramente la política general del gobierno laborista, y, por lo tanto, se espera con gran interés esa pieza oratoria.

Con toda seguridad, figurarán de modo preeminente en el mensaje del trono, los puntos siguientes: la actitud de la administración respecto al problema de las fuerzas navales; los medios que la misma propone para reanudar sus relaciones diplomáticas con Rusia, y sus planes para hacer frente a la grave cuestión de la escasez de trabajo.

Dawes Hace a un Lado el Pantalón Corto

LONDRES, Junio 26.—La sencilla dignidad del traje de frac común y corriente con que se presentó esta noche el general Dawes, embajador norteamericano, hizo de él una figura conspicua en la tercera recepción de la corte celebrada en el Palacio de Buckingham.

El vestido que adoptó, en vez del pantalón de seda a la rodilla, que ha llegado a ser de rigor en la corte, y que usaron sus dos predecesores inmediatos, formaba acentuado contraste con los brillantes uniformes y coruscantes medallas que lucían los demás diplomáticos, representantes de casi todos los países del globo.

La alta, imponente figura del general Dawes era el blanco de gran número de miradas. Presentó a ocho jóvenes norteamericanas, que debutaban esa noche en la corte de Saint James.

Su Graciosa Majesta Británica vestía elegante traje verde y oro, y se hallaba de pie en medio del gran salón, frente a un solo trono dorado. El rey todavía se halla convaleciente del mal que le atacó hace poco en el Castillo de Windsor. La reina ceñía corona de diamantes, y llevaba los famosos brillantes conocidos por el nombre de "las estrellas menores de Africa". Portaba asimismo la Orden de la Jarretera.

Se Posponen las Medidas de Represalia en Baja California

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Junio 26.—El presidente Portes Gil ha autorizado al general Abelardo Rodríguez, gobernador del Distrito Norte de la Baja California, para que tome las medidas que juzgue oportunas en relación con el cierre de la frontera a hora temprana de la noche por las autoridades de los Estados Unidos.

El general Rodríguez ha ordenado que se aplace por sesenta días su anunciado plan de ejercer represalias cerrándoles el paso a Méjico a los trenes norteamericanos. Se acordó ese aplazamiento para que hubiera tiempo de estudiar la situación y de hacer esfuerzos por llegar a una solución amistosa.

La Cámara de Comercio de Mejicali ha telegrafiado al Presidente Hoover protestando contra el cierre de la frontera.

El Coronel y la Señora Lindbergh Pernoctan en Indianápolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Junio 26.—El coronel y la señora Charles A. Lindbergh llegaron al aeropuerto del Cerro de Marte en esta ciudad hoy a las 8:20 p.m., tras haber volado aquí desde Columbus (Ohio). Pasarán la noche en ésta.

Hoy continuarán en Los Angeles las pruebas formales para poner en corriente el servicio transcontinental ferro-aéreo de la compañía "Transcontinental Air Transport". La apertura oficial del mismo se efectuará el 8 de Julio, fecha para la cual se anuncia que el coronel Lindbergh piloteará el primer avión trimotor, que, saliendo de la terminal aérea Grand Central, de Los Angeles, emprenda vuelo hacia Nueva York.

Ultimo Llamamiento para el Viaje a Hawai

Se ha dado ayer la última llamada para que las personas que quieran aprovecharse de la excursión anual a Hawai reserven sus billetes y aseguren sus camarotes en el vapor. Charles P. Bayer, gerente del servicio de campo y del departamento de exposiciones de la cámara de comercio, es quien va a conducir la excursión. Se han apartado ya billetes para 150 viajeros; los billetes restantes quedarán a disposición del público el primero de Julio, según dijo ayer el señor Bayer.

El crucero comenzará en el puerto de Los Angeles el 27 de Julio, y terminará en el mismo el 17 de Agosto. De este modo, tendrán los excursionistas nueve y medio días disponibles en las islas. Hasta esta fecha, la excursión a Hawai se había organizado dos veces por año; pero desde el año corriente en adelante será solamente anual, según declaración del propio señor Bayer.

El presidente Shannon Crandall, de la cámara de comercio, encabezará la delegación de hombres de negocios e industriales que se proponen realizar el viaje. Es éste el décimocuarto crucero que organiza nuestra cámara de comercio.

"No tengo ningún buque que abandonar", dijo Alicia ("I haven't any ship to give up", said Alice). "¿Y qué tiene que ver un buque con mi escritura?" dijo Alfredo ("And what has a ship to do with my writing?" said Fred). "Vamos a preguntarle" (Let's ask him").

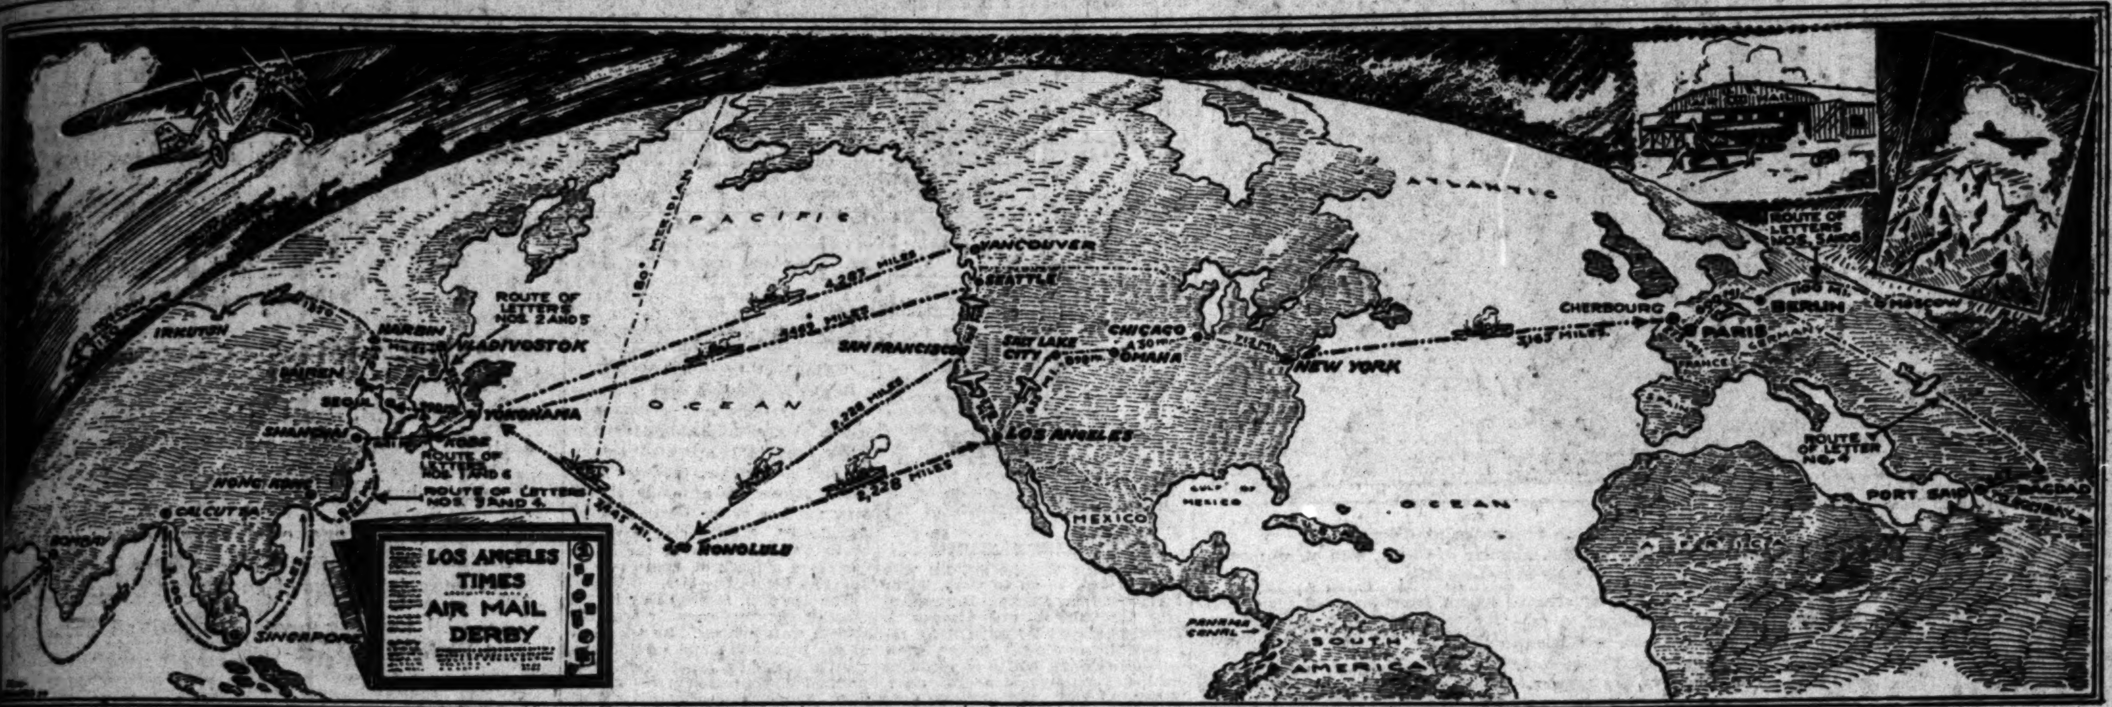
HERE ARE THE ROUTES OF THE SIX LETTERS ENTERED IN "THE TIMES" GLOBE-GIRDLING AIR-MAIL RACE

As explained in the accompanying article, three letters, Nos. 1, 2 and 3 will go westward via Seattle and Yokohama, where they will separate, one going by each of the three routes indicated by the numbered circles. The other three will go east via New York, Cherbourg and Berlin, where No. 4 will leave the others, going south via Bagdad, Port Said, Bombay, etc., reversing the route of No. 3. Nos. 5 and 6 will go from Berlin to Moscow, Irkutsk and Harbin, whence No. 5 will go to Yokohama via Vladivostok and No. 6 via Dairen and Kobe. All six letters will leave Los Angeles today at as nearly as possible the same time and all will return to Los Angeles in from thirty to thirty-five days. At the bottom is one of the six letters all ready to go. Note the directions in English, French, German, Russian, Chinese and Japanese, with the several consular visas, at the left; also the array of foreign stamps. The U. S. stamps are blocked out in accordance with the postal regulations. The other letters are similar except for the routing.



DAM POWER CONFERENCES CONCLUDED BY DR. MEAD

Reclamation Chief Starts Flight to Imperial Valley Expressing Delight at Results Here

Conferences on Boulder Dam power contracts between Dr. Elwood Mead, Commissioner of Reclamation, and representatives of various Southern California public and private power corporations were concluded here yesterday under circumstances which, according to all concerned, give promise of definite agreements looking to immediate steps for construction of the great Colorado River project.

Expressing himself as "delighted" with the progress made during his two-day visit here, Dr. Mead, accompanied by Mrs. Mead, H. P. [illegible], chief engineer of the Reclamation Bureau, and Louis C. Hill, consulting engineer, left here late yesterday afternoon by airplane for Imperial Valley. The trip was made in the Rio Grande Oil Company's chartered Fokker and was in charge of R. B. Keelen.

OPINIONS COINCIDE

The preliminary discussions between the Federal officials and representatives of the Los Angeles Bureau of Water and Power, the Southern California Edison Company, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, Southern Sierras Power Company and officials representing the State of Nevada, brought out the fact that very little basic differences exist as to the best method of administering the power phases of the dam.

Apparently the only divergence of opinion among the various interested organizations hinges on the question of whether the Federal government or an independent agency shall construct the power plant, and this question, it is said, can be settled by slight modifications of the several propositions informally presented to the Reclamation Bureau head.

The verbal proffers of co-operation and assistance made to Dr. Mead during his visit here, he said yesterday, will be submitted to him in writing within the next ten days and will be transmitted by him to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

STATEMENT OF POLICY

In the first formal statement of policy emanating from the Bureau of Water and Power, H. A. Van Norman, general manager of the bureau, said that the power conferences have demonstrated the feasibility of immediate financing for the Boulder Canyon project. "The willingness of all the public and private power-generating organizations to co-operate in the undertaking," he said, "indicates that any plan eventually adopted will be satisfactory to all concerned."

Van Norman suggested the possi-

TELESCOPE SITE SOUGHT AT CATALINA

Twenty Locations Being Tested for Technology Institute's 200-Inch Glass

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

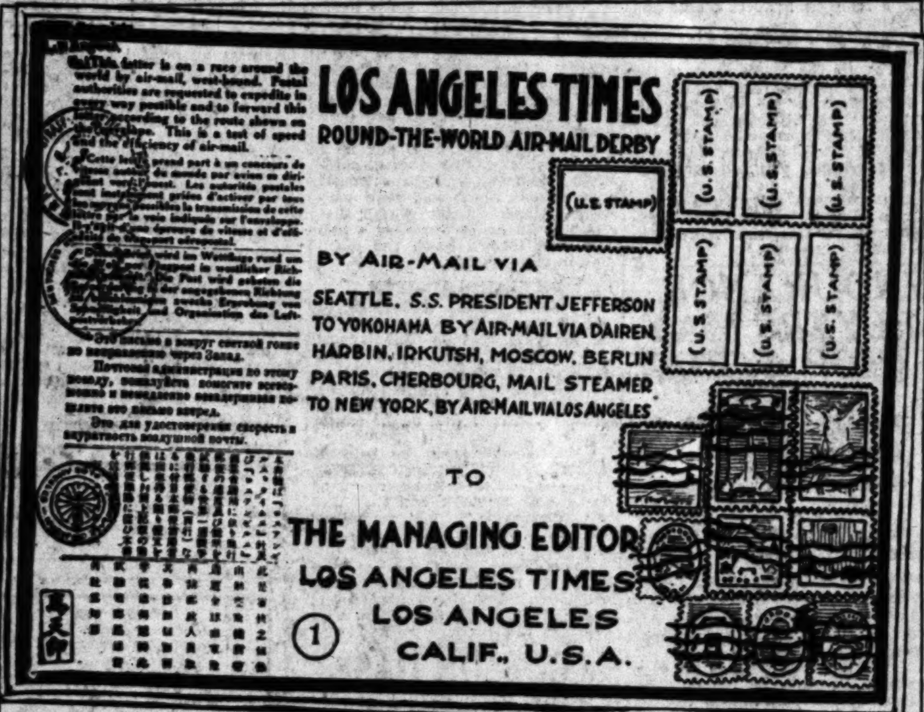
PASADENA, June 26.—Blackjack Peak on Catalina Island is among twenty sites that are being considered for the location of the California Institute of Technology's giant 200-inch telescope, it was learned today.

Observers armed with small atmosphere-testing telescopes will riddle the sky nightly from lonely outposts through the mountains as far south as the Mexican border and as far east as Arizona. Men will be assigned tomorrow to test sites for the instrument on Catalina Island and Santiago Peak, near this city.

Training their six-inch instruments upon the North Star, the observers nightly record atmospheric and other conditions affecting the use of telescopes.

"Stars 400,000,000 light years away from the earth will be seen with the aid of the proposed 200-inch instrument," asserted Wendell T. Hoag, Mt. Wilson astronomer, who addressed the luncheon meeting of the Knights of the Round Table at the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club today.

"With the 100-inch telescope on Mt. Wilson, which is the largest instrument in the world," said Hoag, "light equal to that shed by one candle can be seen 8000 miles away, but with the proposed 200-inch instrument, the same light would be visible 41,000 miles away."



This letter is on a race around the world by air-mail, west-bound. Postal authorities are requested to expedite in every way possible and to forward this letter according to the route shown on the envelope. This is a test of speed and the efficiency of air-mail.

BROMLEY TO TEST PLANE ON LAKE BED

Lockheed Monoplane to be Ready in Week for Transocean Hop

Kern Dry Lake, an eight-mile stretch nearly as smooth as glass and scene of many automobile speed tests, yesterday became an airplane testing grounds.

Lieut. Harold Bromley set down on the lake's dry bottom his new low-winged Lockheed monoplane, the ship in which he plans to attempt a flight from Tacoma to Tokio, and made preparations for the establishment of a base on the lake from which he will put his plane through every known test before taking off on the long hop to Japan.

It was 115 deg. when Bromley zoomed down yesterday, he reported.

"The intense heat of the days and low temperature of the nights at the lake, however, are what I'm looking for as part of the tests"

JACOBSON CASE DISMISSED

Frame-up Charges Against Five Defendants Quashed; False-Testimony Inquiry Hangs Fire

Charges against Mrs. Callie Grimes and the four police officers remaining defendants in the Grimes-Jacobson "frame-up" case were dismissed yesterday by Superior Judge Wilson on motion of Dist.-Atty. Fitts. The action probably ends a controversy which began on August 5, 1927, when police swept down on the Grimes home on Rose Hill and arrested City Councilman Jacobson and Mrs. Grimes on morals charges.

According to official records nothing now remains of the case with the exception of a possible grand jury investigation of the charges made by Attorney Leo Daze, representing Mrs. Grimes, that Jacobson attempted to introduce false testimony before the grand jury. The refusal to testify of Mrs. Ida Russell, Mrs. Grimes's sister, Mr. Daze and Mrs. Grimes herself, together with denials of the charges entered by the Councilman will be considered in the new investigation.

Judge Wilson dismissed the case yesterday with little comment after Fitts had made the motion, explaining that two trials had been conducted with disagreements resulting, and little could be gained by a third. In the first trial the jury was nine for conviction and three for acquittal. In the second trial the jury was evenly divided.

Mrs. Grimes, who has been in jail in default of $20,000 bail, was turned loose and the charges against the officers, Captain of Detectives Wallis, Detective-Lieutenant Lucas, Special Investigator Raymond and Patrolman Cox, were erased.

What action the grand jury will take in the investigation of the new charges against Jacobson is problematical, in the light of Jacobson's

APPROVAL OF BUDGET ANNOUNCED

Action of Mayor Sends It to City Council for Final Official Approbation

The city's $46,971,440 budget for the fiscal year 1929-1930, was approved yesterday by Mayor Cryer, as amended, and now goes to the City Council, which is expected to put its final stamp of approbation on it without delay.

While the budget represents an increase over the budget of $45,562,899 for the present year, it is expected that the tax rate will be 17 cents lower, dropping from $1.79 per $100 of assessed valuation to $1.62. This is due to the fact that while budget expenditures moved upward slowly, the assessed valuation of property in the city jumped to $2,000,000,000.

The Council revised the Mayor's

'ROUND-WORLD AIR-MAIL DERBY STARTS TODAY

"Times" to Race Letters by All Available Routes in Test of Speed, Efficiency

BY CLARENCE W. MARTIN

An international air race, scheduled to clip three days from the present round-the-world record of thirty-three days, will start from Los Angeles tonight. The best that the world has to offer in modern transport has been linked together for a globe-circling contest of speed.

In the place of courageous aviators straining their motors in a race against hours, however, the Los Angeles Times will start as the racers, six letters as the contestants in this first round-the-world air-mail derby ever held. These six letters, three eastbound and three westbound, will be dispatched along regularly established air-mail routes over North America, Asia and Europe as a test of speed and the efficiency of the air postal service of the world.

The undertaking will make history, in a modest way, since nothing of the kind has ever been attempted before. Postal authorities all over the world, apprised of the test, are watching the experiment with interest. It is not the purpose of The Times to try to set a 'round-the-world record by any extraordinary means but to make, for the first time, a continuous and comparative connection of existing world air-mail routes, with the necessary assistance of steamships and railroads to completely circle the globe in both directions and returning to the starting point. The experiment will establish the practicability of such globe-girdling air-mail routing, which has a large commercial value, and at the same time will furnish a comparison of the speeds of the several possible air-mail routes, also often a question of business importance. It is further, another recognition of and contribution to the air-mindedness of the generation, calculated to stimulate popular interest in the air mail as a means of expeditious communication.

The modern trade routes and the air-mail service of three continents and six countries, have been linked together for the race. The flight will be made by regular mail airplanes with the exception of the voyages over the Pacific and the Atlantic where the regular mail steamer service will be used.

ROUTING OF LETTERS

The six letters have been carefully routed with the co-operation of the United States postoffice authorities in Los Angeles and will bear the air-mail stamps of this country as well as the air postage of the foreign countries traversed in the flight. Staunch linen-backed envelopes, numbered from 1 to 6 will be used and each will bear in six languages the inscription:

"This letter is on a race around the world by air-mail. Postal authorities are requested to expedite in every way possible and to forward this letter according to the route shown on the envelope. This is a test of speed and the efficiency of air-mail."

This is repeated in French, German, Russian, Japanese and Chinese on the covers and the six different routes to be followed—one by each letter—have been lettered on the envelopes—starting from The Times and returning after its flight around the world to The Times.

All of the letters will leave Los Angeles today, as nearly as possible at the same hour. The eastbound letters, numbered 4 to 6, will take the regular air-mail route to New York. The three westbound letters, numbered from 1 to 3 will go by air-mail tonight to San Francisco, on to Seattle to go aboard the S.S. President Jefferson sailing from that port on the 29th inst. at 11 o'clock a.m.

In the darkness of the mail-hatch, crowded between thousands of other letters on more prosaic business errands, the envelopes will remain prisoners for twelve days while the Jefferson follows the course of the northern great circle sailing route, almost to the Aleutian Islands off the coast of Alaska and down again to Japan where they are due at sunrise on the morning of July 12. The difference of one day in the dates and the sailing time is accounted for by the international date line at the 180th meridian.

CONSULS TO CO-OPERATE

All of the letters have been armed with "courtesy visas" by the offices of the foreign consuls in Los An-

WHAT'S YOUR GUESS AS TO TIME OF FASTEST LETTER?

In view of the public interest in The Times' experiment of routing letters around the world—in both directions—by all available air-mail routes for purposes of comparison, Times readers are invited to submit their estimates of the elapsed time of the fastest letter of the six, from Los Angeles to Los Angeles, using the cupon below for convenience and addressing the filled-out blank to the Air-Mail Derby Editor, Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal. Postal regulations makes it impossible to offer any prizes for this type of contest but The Times will be glad to receive estimates from any one desiring to make them. Data upon which such estimates may be based are contained in the accompanying article and map.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

A NEW Navajo family has followed its flocks into the little valley of the Moenkopis. We paid them a visit.

They have settled in a hollow where the desert winds have torn the sandstone into strange fantastic formations.

There already was a hogan there—a cone-shaped mud tepee with a smoke hole on top and a summer bower. In the hogan were a family of four. The young husband is a handsome boy from the Indian school at Riverside. He has sloughed off the civilization of the white man again; gone back to his long hair done in a knot and wrapped with cord, his red bando about his forehead and a silver belt with huge conchas.

THE NEW BABY

His wife is a very beautiful girl—about 17, with a green velvet jacket trimmed with silver coins down the sleeves.

She has a baby two weeks old, which lies contented on an old sheepskin. When we called they were squatting around in the middle of the floor—a pan filled with their dinner. The one dish was a cake like a griddle cake, only raised to puffiness with baking powder. That and black coffee in tin cups—no chairs, no beds . . . .

Abraham and Isaac could bridge the centuries; move right in and feel at home. The Navajos have lived this same life—they and their forebears—for 3000 years or more. Only when Abraham changed gods they kept on with the old ones . . the evil spirits with red fiery eyes.

WHERE IS HAPPINESS?

At that, I think the Indians are happier than we are. If there is any white man in the world who doesn't live a harassed life of worry and unhappiness I have never met him.

I can't imagine these Indians being worried about anything. Time means nothing to them. The Navajo who should have been building a house was sitting on the ground talking and laughing with his wife.

A BRAVE STRUGGLE

On the other hand, the Navajos have met their fate bravely and unwhimperingly. They have wrested a living from the most desolate desert upon which the sun beats.

Not only that, but they have increased from 7500 in 1868, when the white people tried to kill them off, to more than 40,000—the largest of all Indian tribes. When they came back to the reservation from which they had been driven they had two sheep apiece. Now they count their flocks by the hundred thousand—2,000,000 sheep.

They are a proud, arrogant, warlike people—cousins to the Apaches. I think they will be the last people to go down and bend the knee before the civilization of the white man.

A HARD LANGUAGE

I wonder if the spoken language is not the index to the character of a people. Our English language is the most satisfactory, the most adaptable, the easiest learned and the most flexible in the world. Also it has the best swear words.

The Navajo language is so difficult that no one past childhood has ever learned to pronounce its words. The grammar is enough to drive anyone to strong drink. There are said to be more than 1400 variations of the verb to be.

In spite of its complexities it has become the trade language of the desert. When a Hopi meets a Navajo they speak Navajo—chiefly because no Navajo would ever condescend to speak Hopi.

J. DABNEY DAY LAID TO REST

Simple Services at Home and in Cemetery Mark Funeral Rites for Beloved Banker

Beneath an evergreen tree on a sundrenched plot of his adopted State J. Dabney Day, beloved Los Angeles financier and philanthropist, was laid to final rest yesterday afternoon in Hollywood Cemetery.

While hundreds stood with bowed heads in the soft sunshine of the sad hour Rev. Cortland Myers said a simple prayer and all that was mortal of the distinguished banker was consigned to earth. Thus came to an end one of the most notable careers of modern Los Angeles. Mr. Day died suddenly last Saturday afternoon at his Santa Monica beach home. He was 56 years of age.

SERVICE AT HOME

Preceding the interment funeral services were conducted at the family home, 310 South Lafayette Park Place. The body had reposed there for two days. All of yesterday morning and until the time of the funeral rites at 2 p.m. the spacious residence was thronged with friends, business associates and numbers of those who had been befriended by Mr. Day. He was known as one of the most unostentatiously charitable men of the city.

Flowers by the thousands, from lavish displays to simple bouquets filled the rooms, hallways and porch of the home. Above the casket was an elaborate blanket of gardenias, his favorite flower. More than 1000 persons, including some of the best-known figures in the business and public life of Southern California, crowded the lower floor of the house to hear the funeral service.

A strange sense of personal loss seemed to oppress all of those present. Men and women spoke in hushed voices to each other: "He was one of the noblest Christians of our time and, truly, a great force in California is gone."

FUNERAL RITES SIMPLE

The funeral rites were simple. Mrs. Day expressed the opinion that

MULE GETS HIS GOAT— BUT BULL-ET COWS IT

Literally speaking, L. P. Britton of 14644 Addison street, lost his goat yesterday, and as a result the police of Van Nuys division are looking for a loose mule carrying a rifle bullet.

The mule, Britton reported to the police, came to his ranch to register a kick and he picked on the pet Billy goat. The women folk of the family ran to the goat's rescue, whereupon the belligerent intruder abandoned the goat and chased them. This spectacle brought Britton's son, Arthur, tearing out of the house with his rifle, which scared the mule and sent it gallumphing in the other direction. The temptation was to great for Arthur, so he aimed and fired anyway. For a moment the mule did a perfect imitation of the Spirit of St. Vitus, which convinced Arthur his aim was true.

When the ruckus was over the Britton family hurried to minister to Mr. Britton's goat and found the poor ruminant dead.

AIR-MAIL RACE AROUND WORLD

"Times" to Start Unique Letter Derby Today

Eastbound and Westbound Envelopes to Fly

All Available Routes to be Utilized in Contest

geles and in several instances the consuls have cabled their foreign offices asking postal commissioners to expedite the passage of The Times Round-the-World Derby letters.

Japanese customs and immigration officials will require about an hour for their inspections upon the arrival of the mail steamer at Yokahama and barring any accident or quarantine, the first mail pouches will be landed on the quay at 10 o'clock in the morning and rattled away in lorries to the Japanese General Postoffice. Here the three letters will separate and letter No. 1 will take the Japanese air route to Dairen by way of Kobe, Moji and Seoul. From Dairen, which is located on the southern tip of Manchuria, the letter will go to Harbin and connect with the Russian soviet air-mail service to Irkutsk. The soviet air service which leads from Vladivostok on the Sea of Japan, follows very closely the route of the Trans-Siberian Railway; the main junction, Irkutsk, is 1850 miles from Vladivostok and then for 3000 miles soviet Russian planes operating on a regular air-mail schedule, will carry the missive on to Moscow to connect with the Moscow-Berlin-Paris-Cherbourg air-mail.

Back again into the dungeon of the mail hatch, but proudly bearing the postmarks of a dozen Japanese, Russian, German and French air-mail flights, the letter will be put aboard the earliest mail steamer to New York. Given a fast boat, fair weather and no quarantine, five days ought to bring the letter within sight of the Statue of Liberty and into the New York postoffice to start the last lap of the race over the mail airways of this continent by way of Chicago, Omaha, Salt Lake City and back to Los Angeles and The Times.

BY SOVIET AIR MAIL

Letter No. 2 will follow the route of the fir. over Siberia and Russia, but will turn at Yokohama, proceed by air-mail to Tsuruga on the Sea of Japan and go by steamer to Vladivostok, where it will be forwarded by soviet air-mail to Irkutsk and Moscow, on to Berlin, Paris and Cherbourg. Mail steamer again for New York and air-mail back to Los Angeles. Although this letter has one additional stretch of water to cover, it has an excellent chance of winning the race by reason of the direct connection with the soviet air-mail at Vladivostok.

The third letter will follow the route of the first two to Yokohama, where it will take the Japanese air-mail to Shanghai to catch a mail steamer for the relatively slow and extremely hot voyage down to Victoria on the island of Hong Kong; thence to Singapore, Calcutta, Bombay and Port Said, where a short rail jump will bring it to Bagdad, the terminus of the Bagdad-Berlin air-mail route; on to Paris and Cherbourg and the water trip to New York for the Los Angeles air-mail.

The eastbound letters will follow a route the reverse of that taken by the westbound ones. The flight of letters No. 4, 5 and 6 will be from Vail Field at 7 o'clock this evening, and on one of the air-mail planes of the Western Air Express, the three eastern letters will go to New York to await the first steamer for Cherbourg.

No. 4 will go from Paris to Berlin to catch the Berlin-Bagdad air-mail route down to Port Said and around to Hong Kong by way of Bombay, Calcutta and Singapore and finally to Yokohama, where it will take the first mail steamer to San Francisco

HERE'S ONE TO PUZZLE OVER

How Will International Date Line Affect Air Mail Derby?

All of us are supposed to know that the earth turns on its axis once in twenty-four hours, one day in sun time.

If two letters, or two men or two airplanes, one going east and one going west around the world, all at the same rate of speed and along the same great cycle, leave for Los Angeles on the same day and hour—will they return to Los Angeles on the same day and hour?

Or will the letter going west lose a day on the international date line and arrive one day ahead and the eastbound letter pick up an extra day on the same meridian and arrive two days later—

Or will the revolution of the earth send one faster than the other to account for a missing day—or Seattle and come flying back to Los Angeles.

Or will there be any difference at all?

No. 5 will go over a reverse route of letter No. 2, from Paris to Berlin, Moscow, Irkutsk, Vladivostok, Yokohama and over to the Pacific Coast by mail steamer and air-mail to Los Angeles.

No. 6 will go east to New York, Cherbourg, Paris, Berlin, Moscow, Irkutsk, Harbin, Dairen, Yokohama over to San Francisco or Seattle and air-mail return to this city.

EASTBOUND MAY WIN

A casual study of air-mail and steamship schedules seems to show that the eastbound letters will have the best chance of winning their race and that the northern routes will give the shortest time, but like the plans of mice and men, the racing letters will be subject to all of the hazards of world travel; they may miss steamers and airplanes, wrecks, typhoons and plane crashes may stop them and perhaps they will only end as a piece of tattered paper on some wind-swept Siberian hillside. Fortunately they do not eat, have no hotel bills to pay and arguments over foreign exchange will be limited to the value of postage stamps. But given fair winds and a stout heart the first of the letters should be flopping back to The Times in about thirty days.

Foreign correspondents of the Associated Press and of Reuter's Agency have been asked to cable The Times when the letters pass through their cities. In this way it is hoped a close check can be kept on the flying time.

Modern transport and air-mail have grown at such a rapid pace during the past two years that little accurate information on the complete schedules of the world is available. Only six weeks ago the Japanese government opened its Yokohama-Dairen air-mail service, completing the link between Japan and the countries of Western Europe. Soviet planes have flown regular schedules over Siberia and Russia for a number of years. American airplanes are used to some extent on this service and an additional plane will leave the Lockheed plant in Los Angeles in July for Vladivostok where it will go in the air-mail service.

Air-mail service in Europe is well known to many American export houses. Letters intended for Berlin, Paris, Moscow or any of a half hundred points in Western Europe may now be forwarded from Los Angeles simply by paying slightly additional air-mail postage and on their arrival in Europe will proceed to their destination by the shortest and fastest air route. United States postoffices supply a small blue "sticker" which reads "por avion air-mail" which should be applied to the face of the envelope.

The Berlin-Bagdad air route is an old one as air services go and is one of the main arteries for trade letters to the Near East and the Orient from Europe.

Stamp collectors and "cover collectors" who do not possess a good series of assorted foreign air-mail stamps and covers may add to their collection by simply addressing an envelope to themselves, worry over steamship and air-mail schedules for a day, attach international reply coupons with a request that foreign postmasters attach additional air-postage, send the letter on its way rejoicing and hope it will come back.

At any rate when The Los Angeles Times round-the-world air-mail derby is over we will have a great deal more information on international air-mail and may possibly have added a bit to aviation history.

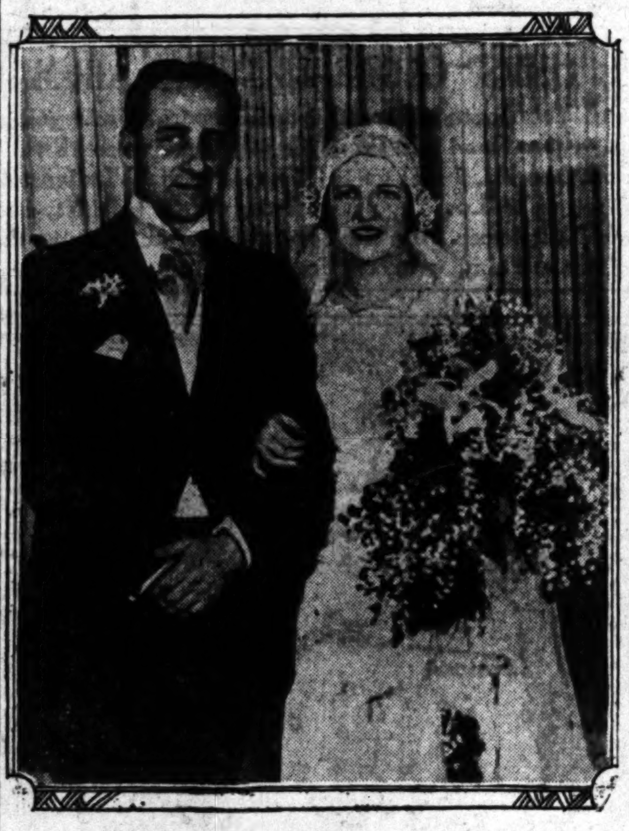
MAY M'AVOY BECOMES BRIDE

Notables of Screen Attend Ceremony



Crowds Line Sidewalks at Church

May McAvoy and her husband, Maurice J. Cleary, who were married yesterday at Beverly Hills.

BEFORE a gathering of screenland's most distinguished people May McAvoy, well-known actress, was married yesterday to Maurise J. Cleary of Los Angeles.

The ceremony, which was performed at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Beverly Hills, by Rev. Father Michael J. Mullins, took place at 4:30 in the afternoon.

The bride was accompanied to the church by her brother, Frank McAvoy of New York, who gave his sister in marriage. Preceding the arrival of the bride were her bridesmaids, Mrs. Harold Lloyd, Mrs. Robert Z. Leonard, Helen Ferguson, Edith and Irene Meyer. Lois Wilson was maid of honor.

Arnold Hangar, a boyhood friend of Mr. Cleary, acted as best man.

Miss McAvoy as she entered the church, posed for a battery of photographers awaiting her and was cheered by a throng that lined the sidewalk.

As the couple emerged from the church they were again cheered by the hundreds who waited to catch a glimpse of the bridal pair, and threatened for a moment to surge past a score or more of traffic policemen.

Following the ceremony the bridal party went to the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel where the couple received the congratulations of their friends.

Their plans for the immediate future were not disclosed but rumor has it that they will board the yacht of E. L. Doheny, an uncle of the groom's, and sail for Honolulu.

The marriage culminated a romance of more than a year's duration. It is the first venture in matrimony by either.

ENDURANCE FLYERS MAY HOP TODAY

Refueling Tests and Also Final Grooming of Ships Made at Two Airports

Planes of two scheduled refueling endurance record attempts received their final groomings yesterday in preparation for their take-offs from the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport and the Culver City Airport today or tomorrow.

Leo Nomis and Maurie Morrison at the Metropolitan Field, announced that satisfactory contacts were made yesterday between their Cessna monoplane and the refueling Buhl airsedan. The flyers probably will take to the air late this afternoon.

At Culver City Airport, William G. McAdoo, Jr., one of the backers of the flight from his field, said the endurance Buhl airsedan is ready to go but that the take-off may not be made until tomorrow.

Loren Mendell and Pete Reinhart will be at the controls of the Culver City Buhl in their attempt to outlast in the air Nomis and Morrison, while both crews shoot at the world's record of 172h. 32m. 1s., now held by Reg Robbins and Jim Kelly of Fort Worth, Tex.

ROBBINS LEAVES ON TOUR OF AIRPORTS

Reg Robbins, Fort Worth (Tex.) endurance flyer, who has been here since Sunday on a survey of local airports, took off from Grand Central Air Terminal late yesterday for the Allan Hancock Foundation Flying School near Santa Maria.

The schedule of the Texas flyer calls for him to arrive at the Oakland Airport today. He expects to visit the Bay District and return to Fort Worth. He is flying the Ryan monoplane Fort Worth, in which he and Jim Kelly set a new endurance record of 172 hours, 32 minutes and 1 second.

A second Ryan, piloted by Bud Jones, with Robert New as a passenger, is accompanying Robbins on his California tour.

Court Advises Mother How to Rear Children

Mrs. Mabel Edna Shell can keep her three children, Superior Judge Rosenkranz decided yesterday, but she must not allow her 13-year-old daughter Pauline to attend public dances, she must obtain larger quarters for the family and she must not ask the advice of fortune tellers or spiritualists on how to raise her children.

Paul Clifford Shell, the woman's husband, had asked that he be granted custody of the children following her failure to obtain a divorce in Superior Judge Baird's court three months ago. Questioned by his attorney, John F. Burton, he told the court his wife attended a spiritualist church to get advice on how to raise her children. Mrs. Shell said she went to that church to find consolation regarding her departed sister.

BRIDGE APPROPRIATION

A joint report of the Tunnels, Bridges and Viaducts Committee and the Finance Committee was adopted by Council yesterday, granting $2000 for the construction of the Kester-avenue bridge foundation.

AILING MOTHER MURDER VICTIM

Contractor's Wife Slain in Home on Sickbed

Husband Held on Suspicion Protests Innocence

Body Washed and Prepared for Undertaker

Mother of three children and confined to a sick bed as the result of the recent loss of a fourth, Mrs. Anga Wuyacich, 37 years of age, was found murdered in her home at 3010 Eighth avenue, yesterday! Her body, stripped nude, cleansed of all blood stains and with the arms folded across the breast, lay beneath a single blanket on a bed which she and her husband, George Wuyacich, a sewer contractor, occupied in a front bedroom. Police discovered a bullet wound in the left breast.

GEORGE WUYACICH

The husband, after long questioning, was booked on suspicion of murder. Captain of Detectives Cato reported he was called to the Wuyacich home by Mrs. Gertrude Latham, a neighbor, of 3008 Eighth avenue. When he arrived he found Wuyacich in the little cottage dwelling bemoaning the death of his wife, he said.

HUSBAND'S ALIBI

Wuyacich stated he left his wife about 9 a.m. to go to work. Their three children, Damica, 14 years of age; Vladimir, 11, and Slavaka, 7, already had left for school. He returned home shortly before noon, he said, with a bottle of medicine he had purchased at a drug store. Walking into the bedrom, he found his wife lying on the bed as the police later discovered her, he said. Grief-stricken, he appealed to Mrs. Latham for aid and Mrs. Latham notified the police.

A preliminary search of the premises by police revealed a second bullet hole in the wall above the bed, corroborating the report of neighbors that two shots had been heard in the Wuyacich dwelling. In the rear yard Capt. Cato dug up a handful of .32 caliber revolver cartridges and in an incinerator, found a nightdress which had been partially burned. Later search disclosed a .32 caliber revolver which had been thrown down the drain pipe in the lavatory.

DISCLAIMS WEAPON

Wuyacich denied knowledge of the weapon or shells, Cato reported, but said that he had burned the nightdress before he left the house in the morning. He gave as his reason that his wife had thrown the garment away and that he had burned it with the rest of the morning's trash.

Cato, however, said he believed that an attempt had been made by some one to cleanse the garment of bloodstains in water and that this was the reason it had smoldered out. It was given to Police Chemist Welch for analysis.

The children returning home from school at noon were cared for by neighbors. The Wuyacich family, police learned, are Jugo-Slavs who came to this country in 1910.

denial and the refusal of the others to testify.

During the second trial of the case, Mr. Daze placed Mrs. Russell on the stand and asked her if Councilman Jacobson had given her money to be used in influencing Mrs. Grimes's testimony to bring it into accord with his own. Mrs. Russell refused to answer on the grounds that it might incriminate her.

Judge Wilson at that time directed Daze to go before the grand jury and aid that body in establishing the facts. When Daze appeared, he laid claim to the privilege of attorney and client. Yesterday Judge Wilson again admonished Daze to aid the grand jury, and declared that pending the submission of proof of the charges, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Grimes and Jacobson would stand exonerated before the court of the imputations. After court adjourned, Daze said he was undetermined what procedure to follow.

Councilman Jacobson was arrested at Mrs. Grimes's Beagle-street house by a squad of raiding officers and eventually was brought into Municipal Court. The jury was unable to agree and the case was dismissed. He maintained all along that he was "framed," and while the 1928 grand jury was busy in its "clean-up," Mrs. Grimes "confessed" that the Jacobson case was a "frame-up." Then, after the indictments, she fled, and since, presumptively, has gone back on her "confession"

Mr. Day would have wished his farewell to be in this way. But an unusual atmosphere of the power of his faith pervaded the throng. That his religious influence still lives was demonstrated during the eulogy of Rev. H. O. Anderson, a close friend, when three men and suddenly announced their conversion to Christianity. They are J. Bert Easley, an official of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank, of which Mr. Day was president at the time of his death; George W. Walker, banking associate of Mr. Day, W. E. Carr of Porterville and Mrs. Pearl Terry of Los Angeles.

The services opened with a prayer by Dr. Myers, who then outlined the financier's business and religious career since his arrival in Los Angeles during 1920 to take a position as vice-president of the First National Bank. "The people of Los Angeles should be thankful for the Christian and business influence that the sincerity and greatness of this man brought to the city," he declared.

The Bible Class that Mr. Day formerly taught sang his two favorite hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross of God" and "I'm Praying for You." Rev. J. A. Vaus spoke of the great loss sustained by the city and State as a result of the death of Mr. Day. "His life was a challenge to the youth as well as the business men of the community," he asserted.

TALKS OF CHURCH WORK

Rev. J. W. Johnson, a former missionary in India and a long-time friend of the family, told of Mr. Day's work in the Baptist church in his home State, Texas. Mrs. Robert Harkness, a family friend, sang another of his favorite songs, "Shadows." After a closing prayer by Rev. Cortland Myers, the crowd passed in a mark of final respect and love before the bier.

The life of J. Dabney Day in Los Angeles was comparatively brief but replete with interest. By the force of his personality and loyal Christian integrity he rapidly rose to a position of eminence in his profession. Three years after his arrival, he was named president of the bank with which he was identified thereafter until his death. He took great interest in charitable and missionary work.

He was an official of the State Y. M. C. A. board, the State Salvation Army board, the State Sunday-school Association, and many civic bodies. He belonged to several clubs. Mr. Day's chief recreations were golf and walking.

Mrs. Day bore up bravely under the ordeal of her bereavement. "The faith of our God has sustained me under my cross that I must bear," she said softly as she took final farewell of the man who had been her companion for more than a quarter of a century.

She expressed her gratitude to the many friends who comforted her during the bereavement. "It is testimony that God sent me strength through the medium of the Holy Spirit that moved them," she declared last night.

DR. MEAD ENDS PARLEY ON DAM

Delight Expressed at Trend of Negotiations Here

Reclamation Chief Flies to Imperial Valley

of a government-built power plant at Boulder Canyon to be turned over "to a competent purchasing agency" for operation and maintenance, the operating agent to pay the government a stated rental for the power-generating privileges. This plan, he asserted, in no sense would place the Federal government in the power business and will assure a return to the government sufficient to repay the initial construction outlay within the time specified by the Swing-Johnson bill in a period of fifty years.

Van Norman predicted, as consequent to construction and completion of the Boulder project, a tremendous wave of prosperity in the Southwest, culminating, he estimated, in the addition of not less than $12,000,000,000 to the wealth of this region.

OTHER ASSURANCES

The assurances of co-operation made to Dr. Mead Tuesday by the officials of the Southern California Edison Company, including a guarantee to assimilate all or part of the Boulder power, and repeated yesterday by the Bureau of Water and Power, were conveyed also in substance to the Reclamation Bureau official by A. B. West of the Southern Sierras Power Company and by Addison B. Day of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

As a spokesman for his own State, United States Senator Pittman of Nevada yesterday said that the best interests of the people of California, Arizona and Nevada will be served if "actual operative control of all power derived from Boulder Dam should go to the party having the largest needs and the largest assets—such party unquestionably being Los Angeles."

He said that this city, or power interests here, should accept the obligation of operating the power plant and of portioning out the power to lesser users on an equitable basis.

SPEEDING UP URGED

By such procedure, in the opinion of Senator Pittman, the six-months' period in which the three States are permitted to decide the amount of power each will use can be shortened materially and work started on the main project.

"I cannot understand the need of waiting six months for Arizona, California and Nevada to determine what their power needs will be," Senator Pittman said. "A mixture of interests, each wanting control, will lead only to chaos. There should be only one licensee, so far as operation of power facilities at the dam is concerned. That licensee should be required by the government to take care of the power needs of all the others concerned. Los Angeles is best situated to be the licensee. Its needs are the largest.

"It is impossible for the various States at this time to determine what their power needs will be. Certainly, my own State of Nevada cannot determine that with any degree of accuracy. As agriculture and industry develop in Nevada water and power needs will increase. There are rich deposits of silica, borax, gypsum and other minerals in my State that will need developing and when that time comes Nevada will need the necessary water and power to develop them. But that time is not here now.

CHEAPER PROCEDURE

"It will be much simpler for the government to build a power house with 4 per cent money, than to permit it to be built with private money at 8 per cent. And, once it is built, it can wash its hands of the power business. There are those who fear that such a step would put the government into that business.

"That is all wrong, as I see it. Once the power house is completed it can be turned over to a licensee for operation under a fifty-year lease and during that period the government can get its money back. And then, as Nevada or any other rightful interest, needs power, it can go to this licensee, state its needs and get the required amount of power at a reasonable cost. And when power needs increase the supply can be increased to the interested parties."

POLICY OUTLINED

Asserting that the Department of Water and Power of Los Angeles will submit a power contract program to the Department of the Interior which the local power officials believe will "serve most completely the interests of the Federal government and the people of the Southwest," Van Norman outlined the policy of his organization as follows:

In brief, the Department of Water and Power feels that the most feasible Boulder Dam development plan would be to have the Federal government build the dam and the power plant as one structural unit and to lease to a competent purchasing agency the power plant when completed. Under the terms of such a lease, we would suggest that the agency operating the plant be required to maintain the plant, replace all depreciating parts and return to the Federal government a rental sufficient to cover all operating charges on the dam and all interest and annual principal repayment charges on the dam and power plant. No simpler plan could be worked out, so far as the Federal government is concerned. Under this plan, the Federal government in no sense would be in the power generating business; it would merely be required to administer a lease.

The proposal to have the Federal government sell or lease "falling water" rights at the dam site would not appear to be the most practicable plan. Even the most general engineering survey will reveal that it is much more economical to build the dam and the power plant as a structural unit than to build them as separate units under separate ownership and control.

The Department of Water and Power, acting in accordance with a vote of the people taken several years ago, is prepared to take all of the hydroelectric energy at Boulder Dam site that the Federal government will allocate to this city; we are prepared to take enough of this energy, in any event, to absolutely guarantee to the government a sound financing basis for the Boulder Dam project.

CO-OPERATION PLEDGED

Since the arrival in the Southwest of Secretary Wilbur and Dr. Mead there have been expressions of co-operation from well-nigh every quarter. It appears evident that there will be no difficulty whatever in consummating, within the very near future, a Boulder Dam financing plan which will be entirely satisfactory to all concerned. This means that the people of Los Angeles and the Southwest may expect to have the actual construction of Boulder Dam under way at a very early date.

The assurance of adequate Colorado River water storage through the construction of Boulder Dam removes the last factor of uncertainty in connection with the Colorado River aqueduct project. With Boulder Dam assured, Los Angeles and her sister cities in the Metropolitan Water District now are prepared to push forward with all dispatch the job of building the Colorado River aqueduct. Preliminary work on this great project now is in full swing.

All of Southern California seems to be awakened to the possibilities of a great prosperity wave that will sweep over this section when work starts on Boulder Dam. I believe every business and industrial agency here and in the East is aware of the tremendous economic growth that the Southwest will experience and is prepared to co-operate in every way with those concerned in developing the resources of the Colorado.

The construction work alone will bring untold wealth into Los Angeles and near-by cities. When the project is completed and the full development of power set in motion the wealth of the Southwest will be increased nearly $12,000,000,000.

San Francisco Hop Begins Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Le Bold

WHEN a modern young couple get married and go away on a honeymoon they do it by air.

At 8:30 a.m. yesterday Father O'Halloran of St. Brendan's Church performed the ceremony which united in matrimony Frank D. Le Bold, junior vice-president of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank, and Miss Peggy Keough. An hour later Le Bold explained to an associate at the bank that he couldn't keep a golf engagement.

At 11:10 a.m. the bridal couple were taking off at the Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, for San Francisco. At 4:15 p.m. they were registered at a San Francisco hotel.

"You see, we wanted to get away," the bridegroom explained. "It would have been too bad for us if some of our friends had known about it in time. Rice and old shoes would have been the least of it."

This morning they leave on the steamship Ventura from San Francisco for four weeks in the South Seas.

Iowa Senator's Wills Make Work for Courts

Instrument Held by Doctor Seized by Officers

Nurse Exhibits $100,000 Note Signed by Decedent

Details of a dramatic struggle over a will bequeathing the $1,000,000 estate of State Senator George L. Finn of Bedford, Iowa, were heard in Superior Judge Crail's probate court yesterday when two District Attorney's investigators identified a torn document as the one they had snatched from the possession of Dr. Frank W. Murphy in the doctor's office Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Murphy, questioned by Thomas W. Cochran and Ben Griffin, attorneys for the administrators of the estate, D. C. Finn of San Francisco, brother of the decedent, and David Burr Luckey of Santa Monica, a nephew, said he had witnessed the signing of the torn will, dated January 17. This was the day after the date on a revocation document signed by the testator, revoking all previous wills.

TO BE KEPT SECRET

"Senator Finn delivered this will to me with instructions that I hold it secret until six months after his death," said Dr. Murphy. "I was keeping it in my safe until July 18, at which time I intended to file it."

Attorneys Cochran and Griffin said they heard about the will in Dr. Murphy's possession and consulted Judge Keetch, presiding of the Superior Court. Judge Keetch asked that two detectives from the District Attorney's office be assigned to the case and these two officers accompanied the attorneys to the doctor's office. Dr. Murphy admitted having the will, they said, but refused to give it to them and started to put it back in a safe. It was then they snatched it from his hands and, according to the investigators, B. V. Burgess and W. A. Knost, it was "ripped in the scuffle."

NOTE ALSO FOUND

Besides the will, Burgess said, he found in Dr. Murphy's possession a promissory note for $100,000 payable January 26, last, signed by the decedent and payable to John M. Dickey, Senator Finn's nurse. Judge Crail ordered that this note be held in posession of the court.

"I understand the will was being used as a club to compel payment of this $100,000 note," Judge Crail said.

It was stated by Presiding Judge Keetch that the District Attorney will be asked to make an investigation of circumstances surrounding the mysterious existence of Senator Finn's will.

FORMER WILL'S TERMS

The action in probate court was to determine whether the revocation document signed by the testator should supersede a will dated March 22, 1926, which named seventy-five legatees to inherit $350,000 and left the residue to D. C. Finn and the nephew Luckey. This will disinherited Charles Finn, a brother, of Philadelphia, and left Dr. Murphy and the nurse Dickey $1000 each. Charles Finn, the disinherited brother, is a contestant in the action, asking that he be appointed administrator.

The new will divides the residue of the estate among Luckey, Jane Corwin Finn, a niece, and Daniel and W. H. Finn, brothers. Charles is left $1, and his daughter is given $10,000. This will provides that three employees of the Hotel Darby, where the decedent lived, be given $500 each. They are named as "the Filipino waiter; Vernon, the head waiter, and the deaf, red-headed chambermaid."

Under the new will the residue of the estate is divided four ways. If it had not appeared and the revocation of "all previous wills" had been allowed to stand the disinherited brother, Charles, and three other relatives would have participated equally.

The hearing will be continued today.

CITY'S BUDGET NOW APPROVED

budget by shifting some of the figures about, but did not alter the total.

NEW WAGE BOOST WAVE STRIKES COUNCIL

Another wave of salary raises, in conformity with the figures submitted in next year's budget, hit the Council yesterday and when it was over the City Attorney was under instructions to draw ordinances which will increase thirty-eight jobs by $800 a month. The raises came in reports from the special salary committee and were in groups. Much discussion followed and hardly a report was adopted unanimously, as various Councilmen shot at the reports.

The largest increases were: Chief Deputy Controller Ashley, $425 to $475; Public Works Secretary Ferris, $375 to $425; Public Works Assistant Secretary Offner, $300 to $350; superintendent of street maintenance, $350 to $425; superintendent of asphalt repair, $350 to $400.

Dr. F. B. Gage, veterinarian in the city health office, was raised from a sliding scale of $165-$175-$185 to a flat pay of $200.

Others to receive raises were garage attendants, window washers, information men and clerks in the offices of the Board of Public Works, City Planning Commission and Police Commission.

FLOODING CLAIMS MADE

The City Council yesterday received three claims for damages to property along Myra avenue, aggregating $4020, due to the flooding resulting from the asserted negligence of the contractor on the Myra avenue and Sunset Boulevard project. The claims were sent to the City Attorney for investigation and report. The claims were by William and Stella Oberyeger, 1123 Myra avenue, $1520; F. W. and Edith Bramhall, 1125 Myra avenue, $1250, and Mrs. Louise Hipolito, 1116 Myra avenue, $1250.

Today's Bible Text

If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 1 John 1:9-10.

TAKES COGNIZANCE

A judge has decided that petting in the home is better than necking in a motor car on a dark road. How does he know?

TAKING IT EASY

More than 60 per cent of all the upholstery leather produced in this country is used up in the motor industry. Those who ride must sit.

PLANE SAILING

The War Department has ordered 162 new planes at one swoop. Anyhow, it is very evident that the next war is not going to be fought in the subway.

THIS PRUNING BUSINESS

Once again there is the suggestion that the yardstick by which the world navies are to be measured in approaching disarmament could well be a Scotland Yard. Ask Ramsay MacDonald.

FRIEND AT COURT

After the trial of a prominent bootlegger had been under way in New York for several days it was found that the defendant's nephew was a member of the jury. But they don't seem to convict bootleggers in Gotham, anyhow, so what's the difference?

HEAPS OF PLENTY

There are already nearly 32,000 licensed taxicabs on the streets of New York City and a new corporation seeks to enter the field with 5000 more. The Police Commissioner is trying to figure out where he will put them. It is no trouble to bump into congestion in the taxi industry.

PERILS OF SMOKE

At least three timber or forest fires are known to have been started by cigarettes carelessly tossed out by aviators soaring overhead. Here is another hazard to be reckoned with. Most folk think that a flyer may not smoke, but in these large planes they can do most anything except play golf. Men who go flying must save their stubs for the cities.

WHO CARES?

A professor at the University of California has discovered a molecule so small that you have to group a billion of them together before you can spot them under the keenest microscope we have. A man might have 10,000,000 of them on his eyeball and then not feel as unhappy as if the tiniest cinder were lodged there. That being the case we can talk back to these dinky beings or thumb noses at them.

SAVE YOUR WHALES

Zoologists at Johns Hopkins University are leading a movement to save our whales. The destruction of these massive beasties of the deep is said to be frightful. Whales are being killed off at the rate of more than 30,000 a year. The equipment of a modern whaler is so vast and perfect that a clean-up is certain. Whale oil is used for delicate machinery all over the world, but it takes no great number of these massive marine mammals to provide the supply. There is a huge wastage and the future of the industry as well as of the whale itself is imperiled. Folks who go fishing may as well content themselves with mackerel and sardines.

THE WATERS MEET

Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York gave Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt a large flask of some light-colored liquid when the lady was boarding an airship for a journey to the coast. She was to give the flagon to Mayor Cryer. When the latter received the package he had a vague idea that the gay New Yorker might be slipping him a bottle of gin cocktails, but there was nothing to it. It was merely a bottle of water from the Atlantic Ocean, which the Los Angeles Mayor was asked to empty into the Pacific as a gesture of amity. The Mayor did so. If the bathers at Venice think that their ocean tastes funny they can blame it on this interpolation. There may be a little kick in the Atlantic.

BOULDER DAM STRIDES

The most hopeful sign that Colorado River control is actually to become a reality is the disposition, made manifest at Tuesday's and yesterday's conferences with Secretary Wilbur and Commissioner Mead of the Reclamation Bureau, of the various California power companies to co-operate with the city and the Federal government and to assure a market for the power that will be produced. Southern California, it is apparent from the offers already received, stands ready to take all or any part of this power, estimated at 600,000 horsepower, so that without regard to Arizona and Nevada, each of which is entitled to bid for one-third of it, the financing of this great project, which means so much for the prosperity of the whole Southwest, seems to be assured. The other two States, under the terms of the bill, have six months in which to decide how much of their shares they will ask for, but the guarantee from California seems to be sufficient so that the government will not have to wait for this decision. The allocation can be made later, and in the meantime the other preliminaries to actual construction may be started.

President Hoover's proclamation of Tuesday made the Boulder Dam bill effective. It was an official certification, as required by law, that six States have fully ratified the Colorado River Compact and have waived its requirement that there be seven-State acceptance. The six ratifiers are California, Nevada, New Mexico, Utah, Colorado and Wyoming; the seventh, as everybody knows, is Arizona, whose attitude is still a factor of uncertainty in the situation.

The plan of Secretary Wilbur to sell falling water, rather than electric energy, seems to meet with the approval of the local bidders for power. This plan would obviate the necessity of government construction of the power plants and reduce the government commitment to the project by $31,000,000 or more, this being one estimate of the cost of the power plants, without transmission lines, which will have to be built by the bidders for the power in any event. The joint cost of power plants and transmission lines is set at somewhere between $56,000,000 and $90,000,000.

If the Wilbur plan is adopted, which now seems probable, the amount which must be guaranteed to the government before construction may be started is reduced to approximately $70,000,000. This figure is to be arrived at by deducting in succession from the total estimate of $165,000,000 fixed in the Boulder Dam bill—the estimate was made by the engineering commission headed by Maj.-Gen. Seibert—first $39,000,000 as the cost of the All-American Canal, next $25,000,000 as a government advance toward flood control, the repayment of which does not need to be guaranteed, and next $31,000,000 as the probable cost of the power plants. The All-American Canal is a separate project, upon which the construction of the dam is in no way dependent. If built, its financing will have to be taken care of by Imperial Valley.

It is obvious that a commercial chance is being taken by the power bidders, since no present market exists which could absorb that amount of energy in addition to the amounts already produced. But, in the first place, this power will not be available for several years, and demand will naturally grow in the meantime, and in the second place, the availability of this cheap power will tend to create its own market, so that the speculation appears a reasonably safe one. Not only in industry, but in the home, is there a potential market for a vastly greater amount of electric energy than is now being used, if it is for sale at low rates. House cooling as well as house heating is now in process of development, to mention only one possibility. Loads are being built up at the present time with electric refrigeration. It is of course an increased industrial load that will add most to the growth of the community. Cheap power, cheap water, cheap fuel, access to raw materials and good transportation to markets are the lodestones which attract industry, and all of these elements are and will be present in Southern California when this energy is available.

As for Arizona, hope of bringing that State into line with the others has not been abandoned. Negotiations for a three-State compact between California, Arizona and Nevada are still pending, and if successful will induce Arizona to ratify the seven-State treaty and remove all obstacles in that quarter. If they are unsuccessful, of course, in all probability Arizona will file an injunction suit or other court action which may delay matters considerably.

Since the United States Supreme Court has original jurisdiction of suits between States, presumably such a suit would be filed directly in the high court and its speedy determination ought to be possible. It might, however, occasion a delay of a year or two, since some questions are involved which never have been adjudicated and a vast amount of arguments and data will be presented for the court's consideration. The ultimate success of such litigation, from an Arizona standpoint, seems very dubious, and the probability that the high court will sustain the right of Congress to deal with an interstate stream as it sees fit seems very high.

The construction of an aqueduct to bring Colorado River water to Southern California for domestic use is also a separate matter from dam construction. Various plans are being considered by the Metropolitan Water District, ranging in probable cost from $150,000,000 upward. Sentiment in favor of an all-gravity aqueduct, which, if found feasible, would save a vast amount yearly in operating expense, seems to be gaining. Its first cost would be materially above that of the pumping schemes, but it would prove economical, apparently, in less than a score of years.

Thus while there are still some uncertainties in the situation, very definite progress has been made and the prospect that actual construction may begin within a reasonably short time seems good.

NOT LOQUACIOUS

When liquor becomes diplomatic in Washington, it dries up.

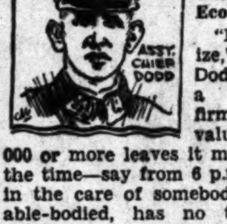
The LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

THE joyous commencement season has run its usual course. The father-and-son classmates and the grandmother graduates have been duly photographed and given their meed of praise. (And certainly they deserve a great deal, though it must be tough on some of the sons to have their dads in school with them to keep an eye on them.) But still the most remarkable graduating class—the one in which the ages of the 900 graduates will average well above 50—has received little attention.

Schools Which Saved Millions

Chief Scott of the Los Angeles fire department first got the idea for a school for night watchmen. He told Assistant Chief S. H. Dodd to organize the school, and Dodd and his two assistants, Capt. W. W. Tebbetts and Capt. J. L. Gowell, have done so. Those three men operate all of the fire department's school activities, and they have made the school department one of the most valuable things Los Angeles has. They are making the Los Angeles firemen the best trained, most scientifically informed firemen in the world. They have evolved ideas and methods of fire fighting and of salvage which are being copied in Europe as well as throughout America. They are in touch with such organizations as the Boy Scouts, in an effort to educate the public. And when Chief Dodd gets his way they will have authority to walk into any business building and arrest any man, employee or employer who is smoking carelessly!

Those three men have worked out a school for night watchmen which has no parallel anywhere.



Reckless Economy

"Do you realize," asks Chief Dodd, "that many a Los Angeles firm with a house valued at $100,000 or more leaves it more than half the time—say from 6 p.m. to 7 a.m.—in the care of somebody who is not able-bodied, has no training as a fire fighter and whose main qualification is that he is cheap?

"After we had worked out plans for this school, we sent an invitation to every firm listed by the Chamber of Commerce to send their watchmen to it. Some replied that their watchmen could not speak English! Then how would they be able to turn in emergency calls, or get the fire department or the police in a hurry?

"Off-Watch" Watchmen

"We found that many other watchmen, employed in large concerns, did not know where the nearest fire-alarm box was, or how to turn in an alarm when they found it. They did not know how to use chemical extinguishers or anything about salvage. We not only teach them these things, but how to preserve evidence which may lead to arson convictions, the causes of fires, the arrangement of goods or supplies which makes it hardest to fight fires. When this school gives a man a diploma the boss shouldn't look on him as 'that old fellow who dawdles around here at night.' Instead, he should look on him as 'that man who protects my interests while I sleep,' and should call him into conference as to what conditions in his plant might lead to fires, and pay him a good man's wage for what he does."

Gray-Haired Pupils

The School for Night Watchmen now is completing its six-month course, and though there has been only one lesson a month, each student had to take home with him an eight-page, printed, illustrated lesson on which he had to be able to stand a test at the next class meeting. But the rest of the lessons—oh, boy! They were lectures accompanied by motion pictures, with inspiring music by the Firemen's Band! They filled the watchmen's college boys with the rah-rah spirit. For many of the gray-haired students those lessons have been the big treat of the month.

What We Do With Ex-Professors

And in no school is there a more interesting group of students than the 947 enrolled in this school. Some among them have been professors in colleges! Some have been scientists! Some have been actors! Some have been authors! Age has caught them financially unprepared, and the men to whom they have applied for work have smilingly rejected them. Too many grayheads already, they thought. To keep up in this young man's age we mustn't have too many old boys. And so the old boys, many of them far abler than the young boys, have had to take jobs as night watchmen in houses which do not treat night watchmen with the respect they deserve. One man who enrolled at the beginning recently withdrew to go to Washington, D. C., where some scientific theories of his have aroused such interest that he has been offered a dignified job in a government research department!

Yet some of them didn't know how to call police or firemen in an emergency.

Come to think of it, do you?

THE DORAN CONTROVERSY

In the Police Commission's letter to Judge Doran in reply to his criticism of that body for reinstating a police officer, there appears to be absent an appreciation of the legal principles involved. Two officers were on trial before Judge Doran on burglary charges, growing out of what apparently was an illegal and unauthorized raid. One was convicted, the other acquitted for lack of evidence. The commission almost automatically reinstated the acquitted officer and drew Judge Doran's fire by so doing. Now it demands to know how it could have done otherwise.

The answer is simple. As almost everybody knows, to secure a conviction in a criminal court, there must be evidence beyond a reasonable doubt, and the testimony of an accomplice requires corroboration. But in hearings before such a body as the Police Commission, there are no such required limitations, and if the guilt of the officer was established by a mere preponderance of evidence, it would be sufficient basis for his dismissal. It is evident from Judge Doran's remarks that he considered there was at least very strong evidence against the officer; it is evident from the Police Commission's reply that it is unaware that such evidence is sufficient for its purposes, and that it need not set up the same standards of proof that are required in a criminal court.

The acts of an officer may easily fall short of actual criminality, and yet make him unfit for his duties as a public servant.

HERMITS STILL EXIST

In these days of intensive gregariousness, when human bees are hiving so thickly in large cities, one marvels to read of a man who for a quarter of a century has preferred a lodge in some vast wilderness to a place where he might see a movie show, ride in a street car or take dinner in a restaurant. But that there still are such people as hermits is evidenced by an occasional news item such as that telling of the history and death of Oliver P. Justice, who for twenty-five years isolated himself from the world in a wild place thirty miles up San Gabriel Canyon, his little cabin being so seldom visited that it was several days after his demise that his body was found by a forest ranger.

This man had outlived nearly all his old-time friends and relations and had been forgotten by the world. Great battles had been fought during his long period of retirement, the automobile and radio had been perfected and men had flown across the ocean. But if ever he heard of these things he was not moved to leave his wild retreat and discuss them with other men. He had solved the problem of loneliness, the specter from which so many men and women flee as from a plague, and preferred a solitary life to a social one.

He must have been able to answer Cowper's question,

> O Solitude, where are the charms
> That sages have seen in thy face?

And to tell of what those charms consist, but he could not have persuaded the average mortal of this hurly-burly age that they were superior to those to be found under the bright lights.

Here enters a question: What profit is there in self-exile? One likes to be alone at times, but no matter what may be the excuse for carrying the idea so far as to choose permanent aloofness from the human race, one really can find no great and lasting good in a hermitage.

A NEW NERVE TONIC

By James J. Montague

I see in the daily dispatches
That a German professor observes—
If I get him aright, that to toil at a height
On a skyscraper steadies the nerves.
Growing used to the danger of falling
(Which makes timid people feel queer)
Which the workman may do in a fortnight or two Removes the sensation of fear.

But if skyscrapers, why not volcanoes?
Why could not neurotics be cured
If to Etna's rude way of emitting hot spray
They got themselves fully innured?
Why could not a timorous person
For firm-fibered nerve tissue hope
If he set out today in a casual way
To stroll up Vesuvius' slope?

And then there is always a nose dive
Which a person could take in a plane.
A man, bit by bit, if he lived when he lit,
Might look upon fear with disdain.
There are dozens of ways to brave danger,
Each one of which probably serves,
If continued a while in a nonchalant style,
To steady the wobbliest nerves.

But there seems to be just one objection
To this plan the professor puts out.
Only strong men, he'll find will be ever inclined
To prove it beyond any doubt.
And strong men don't need to climb buildings
To a lofty and dangerous height,
For men of that sort do not care to resort
To cures, for their nerves are all right.

Views of High School Students

EAGLE ROCK, June 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In reading this column I find that people are interested in that bugbear of the high school student—home work. On thinking this over (yes, we of the younger generation do think once in a while) I am not going to utterly condemn home work. In certain quantities it can be endured by the ordinarily patient student. But—

When our English teacher demands the analysis of twenty-five impossible sentences; when our French teacher tells us only to read and translate a five-page story, and only to write a full resume of it, and only to be prepared to have a test on the vocabulary; when our history pedagogue presents us with a test on "Progressive Democracy" the same day as the civics teacher pops another exam on "State Government;" when our 2000-word term projects are due tomorrow; when our book reviews are due in a week; when spring is in the air and all outdoors is calling; that, dear Editor, is when the student objects.

PHYLLIS POTTER.

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I would like to voice my opinion in regard to the prevailing condition at the beaches. Nowadays, it is impossible to find a public beach near Los Angeles that is not crowded to capacity on a hot day. As one progresses up or down the coast highways leading from Los Angeles, for miles and miles he sees nothing but fences on the side of the road with signs bearing the inscription, "Keep Out, Private Property." Behind these restraining lines are stretches of beautiful sand which cannot be enjoyed by the public at large. In fact, if one cares to find a place where overcrowded conditions do not prevail, he must do one of two things: either go miles away from home where the sands are not restricted, or buy a sand lot.

This, in my idea, is not beneficial to the public welfare, for the public should be privileged to enjoy the beauty of all the beaches. I am sure that a very favorable impression is not created on the mind of the easterner, who, after reading of the wonderful public beaches of California, comes only to find the majority of the beaches marked "Private Property, Keep Out."

LILLIAN DRUMMOND.

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Recently I read the advice given by a college professor to his students, which was to be a snob. Judging by the number of comments submitted by many people I hardly think I am mistaken when I say he is decidedly wrong. To begin with a young man out of college, or for that matter, any young man, is in most cases not making enough to lead the kind of a life the professor advocates, such as having many clothes and belonging to an exclusive club.

An inquiry directed to successful business men would show that they didn't start life as snobs, and what could be more advisable for young men than to follow those who have successfully gone through the various stages. He who can "deliver the goods" will succeed. Material wealth and show can only play a minor part if one belongs in this group. Snobbishness is employed by those who are conscious of inferiority and attempt in this way to conceal it.

JUANITA PARRY.

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read in a newspaper a few days ago that Billy Sunday came to Los Angeles for a visit of one day. He was all set for a "three-round knock-'em-down-and-drag-'em-out fight with the devil."

Mr. Sunday says that Los Angeles needs what every other city in the country needs, a tidal wave of old-fashioned religion. I disagree very strongly with Mr. Sunday. This blary type of evangelism may for a time rule over the emotions of the people who are listening to him, but every one's sins cannot be washed away clean by listening to one man very violently gesticulating and "shooting off his mouth." I believe that an earnest interest in the things of God is going to go a great deal farther in making this a more Christian world than listening to a man strain his vocal cords wrestling with the devil.

BARBRO YTTERBERG

INVESTMENT AIDS

Roger W. Babson, authority on finance and investment, points out that the number of investors in stocks and bonds has increased at a remarkable rate. Fifteen years ago only 500,000 people in the United States were holders of stocks and bonds. Today there are 7,500,000 listed investors. He remarks that a growing body of literature on investments and finance has accompanied this widespread interest in money-making and securities. Whether you wish to be a long-term investor, a seller on the high market, or to place your money in a young industry which may grow like the proverbial beanstalk, Mr. Babson believes that there is a book which will aid in your understanding of the situation.

HOOVERIAN LOYALTY

BY CHARLES COKE WOODS

The Hooverian declaration of loyalty to the American people and their government has been plainly made in the hearing of the whole world. Here are the words clean, clear-cut and straight: "I have been selected by you to execute and enforce the laws of the country. I propose to do so to the extent of my own abilities, but the measure of success that the government shall attain will depend upon the moral support which you, as citizens, extend. The duty of citizens to support the laws of the land is co-equal with the duty of their government to enforce the laws which exist. No greater national service can be done by men and women of good will—who, I know, are not unmindful of the responsibilities of citizenship—than, that they should, by their example, assist in stamping out crime and outlawry by refusing participation in and condemning all transactions with illegal liquor."

Here are a few well-authenticated samples of the preprohibition days: Annually, 2000 smothered babies; 5000 suicides induced by liquor abuses; 60,000 fallen girls; 10,000 annual liquor-induced murders, 3000 wives murdered annually. Put over against this, a New York lawyer's recent statement (supposing it to be true) that "there have been more than 255 prohibition killings in the last nine years." The difference between 255 killings in nine years under prohibition and 10,000 annually under ante-prohibition is quite impressive. Under prohibition, twenty-eight and a fraction killed in a year. Under liquor, 10,000. Then it should be remembered that the twenty-eight and a fraction killings under prohibition, annually, are incidental to the enforcement of a great law against crime and criminals.

In the former days 40,000 mothers were made widows annually by drink. How many widows does prohibition make annually? Licensed liquor gave us, before prohibition, 100,000 orphans annually, 100,000 drink-crazed, 100,000 dead drunkards, 100,000 liquor-made criminals.

The loyalty of President Hoover to the Constitution and his promise to the American people are steadily gathering strength throughout the nation. More and more the moral dynamic of the nation is allying itself with the Hoover administration. Twenty-four or more outstanding business men of the nation, including Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, Capt. Robert Dollar and J. C. Penney, with many others are calling for a loyalty league to stand by the President for "The Protection of the American Home." A "loyalty-to-Hoover" message has been sent out and signed by scores of our largest business concerns and their representatives.

The billions and billions of money represented by these great business companies, together with the moral impact they carry, means vastly for loyalty to President Hoover and his law-enforcement program.

Sunday, June 30, has been selected as the day for special loyalty-to-Hoover rallies of 10,000,000 or 15,000,000 of church people.

YOUR VOICE

Now I know, O, my Beloved,
Why it is that when I sing
You only smile at me,
And answer not in words.

Long I wondered at your silence,
But at last I understand you—
For the blessed night breeze whispered
The sweet secret to my soul.

Long ago, as you were sipping
Nectar from the fount of Fancy,
And beheld your face reflected
From the water, deep and clear,
Joy and adoration thrilled you
And your heart almost ceased beating.
In that moment, your voice left you
And went singing through the spaces,
Leaving you in speechless wonder.

I am your Voice, O, Beloved!
To your own glad song you listen
When I call you in the morning,
When I sound your name at noontide
Or at midnight's quiet hour.

Take me back to you, Beloved,
And I never more shall leave you—
Yet your song shall flow forever
From the heaven of your lips.

JAMES M. WARNACK.

UNITED STATES ON WHEELS

Thirty years has witnessed the startling growth of the habit of automobiling until the latest Washington report states that in the United States every 5.6 persons own a passenger auto. Though many industrial and economic causes contribute to the fact that in this country are driven almost 77 per cent of the world's wheeled gasoline buggies, yet there are many who agree with Charles Merz, who makes one man largely responsible for the phenomenal rapidity in the development of the family car. "And Then Came Ford" is a book just published which points out that in 1899 10,000,000 people rode bicycles in the United States; that in 1900 the government census called the gasoline-buggy industry a joke; that in 1903 there were two automobiles to every thousand families; in 1910 there was not one mile of national highway. Whether we believe all the claims Mr. Merz makes for Ford or not, we agree that "mass production," cheap transportation and the ubiquitous filling station have wrought tremendous changes in the life of America.

Many of the stars remained away from the course today, resting for the later ordeal. Others spent their time in last-minute practice sessions and the rest feverishly galloped over the course, playing eighteen holes and even thirty-six holes. Leo Diegel, who has been suffering from a lame back, was much better today and had a snappy 70 on his last practice round. Harry Cooper, the Buffalo pro, favored by many to be among the leaders, scored 76, taking seven at the thirteenth hole. Horton Smith said he was "round eighty," MacDonald Smith had 77, which has been about the number of strokes he has used in most of his practice rounds. Joe Turnesa and Ed

Possibly the less said about yesterday's game the better, for the score gives a very good idea of just what kind of a mess it was. FOREIGN STARS STRUGGLE FOR CRACK AT LAURELS

Winner of Benefit Bout May Face Sharkey in September; Basque Boasts Iron Constitution

BY EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—A bundle of German T.N.T., wrapped in leather and potentially a high explosive shell, will search the armor tomorrow night of that Spanish chunk of human reinforced concrete—Paulino Uzcudun.

The youngster who throws his right hand with the deadliness of a six-inch projectile is Max Schmeling, Teutonic picture of the mighty, scowling Jack Dempsey of 1919. Between them the German seaman and the burly Spanish wood chopper represent the greatest menace to American heavyweight supremacy since James J. Corbett crushed the Englishman, Charley Mitchell, and the savage Dempsey battered down the hulk of Luis Angel Firpo.

MAX SCHMELING

These two foreign gladiators will battle fifteen rounds in the big ball yard of the New York Yankees for the right to continue the quest for Gene Tunney's vacant heavyweight title. The winner may fight Jack Sharkey in September. They will fight in the name of Charity for Mrs. William R. Hearst's milk fund.

The five members of the big six, who played yesterday had plenty of action, but the American League members got the best results. Babe Ruth got four out of five in the first game and one more hit in the second to lift his average to .333. Lou Gehrig hit three times in four attempts in the opener, but failed entirely in the second and lost his tie with Ruth for fifth place. Jimmy Foxx hit twice in three trips to the plate.

COLLEGE GOLF FAVORITES UPSET IN TITLE TOURNEY

DEAL (N. J.) June 26. (AP)—Great names in the world of college golf meant nothing to the traps and bunkers of the tricky Hollywood course today and some of the outstanding contenders for the intercollegiate championship fell as the field was slashed from thirty-two to eight.

When at last the flying sand divots cleared away, Yale had three of its men among the eight survivors, Georgetown had two and Princeton, Oregon and Minnesota one apiece.

The members of the "charmed circle," in the order in which they meet in the quarter-final round tomorrow morning, are:

J. H. Beger, Georgetown, vs. Fred Bannerot, Yale; Marshall Forrest, Yale, vs. Don Moe, Oregon; Maurice McCarthy, Jr., Georgetown, the defending

AUSTIN SENSATION OF TOURNEY

Youthful British Player Upsets French Ace in Straight Sets; Two More Americans Eliminated from Ranks of Wimbledon Contenders; Helen, Tilden Win

BILL TILDEN

Displaying an improved all-court game, complete with deadly cross-court volleying, the youthful English Davis Cup net ace further tangled the British championship outlook as he eliminated the veteran Frenchman in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0. As the result of his sensational victories over two of the United States and French stars in as many days, the former Cambridge University student appears certain to be one of the semifinalists.

COEN BEATEN

While nearly 15,000 English fans cheered numerous British victories, the Americans continued their parade through the singles and dougles play, losing only Wilbur Coen among the men and Marjorie Morrill and Mrs. Mallory of the women invaders. The Kansas City youngster dropped his match to Christian Boussus of France, 6-1, 10-8, 7-5. Miss Morrill lost her second-round mtch to Miss Eileen Bennett, British star, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3.

"Big Bill" Tilden, displaying as fine form as he has ever shown at Wimbledon, had his German opponent, D. Prenn, at his mercy, as did Miss Helen Wills with her German girl opponent, Mrs. Schromburgh. Tilden won, 6-0, 6-0, 8-6, while Miss Wills ran her wins to twenty-four consecutive games with a 6-0, 6-0 victory.

Little Fraulein Aussem partly revenged the defeat of her fellow-countrymen as she forced Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory of the United States to taste defeat, 6-4, 6-1.

Eliminates Oregon Player in College Net Tourney in Hard Battle; Oxy Doubles Team Best

HAVERFORD (Pa.) June 26. (AP)—The remaining three Oxford and Cambridge players fell by the wayside today as eight tennis stalwarts, six of whom are seeded, hammered their way into the quarter-final round in the singles of the intercollegiate championships at the Merion Cricket Club.

Paul De Ricou of Oxford University, a 19-year-old Frenchman, a former junior champion in his country, fell before the strong game of Harris Coggeshall of Grinnell College by the scores of 3-6, 6-1, 6-1.

BEN GORCHAKOFF

In another three-set match E. R. Avory of Cambridge, a former British boy champion, sank before the well-rounded, aggressive game of Gregory Mangin of Georgetown, eastern intercollegiate champion. The scores were 6-1, 4-6, 7-5.

R. R. T. Young of Cambridge was eliminated by Julius Seligson of Lehigh, the defending title-holder. Yesterday E. O. Mather, a former Texas University player, but now a Rhodes scholar, was defeated by Berkeley Bell, who today entered the quarter-finals after a 7-5, 6-2

LUTZE MASTERS STASIAK

Nick Defeats Giant Pole in Straight Falls in Daro's Star Attraction at Olympic

BY FRANK ROCHE

Barnum never had a better clown than Stanley Stasiak, the giant Polish wrestler—nor for that matter a more sinister villain. Stasiak was both last night at the Olympic Auditorium, but he wasn't good enough as a wrestler to beat Handsome Nick Lutze, the Adonis of the mat game.

Lutze won the feature event on Carnation Lou Daro's wrestling program in straight falls from Stasiak to the great satisfaction of 8,500 cash customers. Nick obtained the first fall with a backward body slam in 1h. 1m. 55s., and the winning fall in 28s., with a jacknife scizzors.

Lutze collected the falls and Lutze won the match, but it was Stasiak, who provided the entertainment. Stanley had the fans roaring with laughter one moment with his antics and the next they were yelling for his head because of his brutal tactics. Stasiak used every trick known to the mat game and then some of his own which are certainly in a class by themselves.

Stasiak tried several times to break Nick's arms and legs and one time after he had rolled clear of Lutze he almost broke his own leg while in a furious rage.

Lutze tried hard to wrestle according to Hoyle, but Stanley, being from Poland, evidently never

Divot Diggers Battle Today for Low Net Trophy

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Bob Hunter, who rates an eleven handicap at the Flintridge Country Club, but secured a 7 just to play in the championship flight of the Pasadena city golf championship, yesterday upset Ernie Combs, Jr., of the Virginia Country Club, 5 and 3, in a second-round match.

All other favorites advanced to the third round. Jack Gaines of Girard defeated Bob Robinson of Fox Hills, 4 and 2; Dave Martin of California won from Max Blixt of Virginia, 2 and 1; Harry Eichelberger, Jr., of Los Angeles trimmed N. S. Griffin, 2 and 1, and Dick Russell of Rio Hondo won from Joe Rey on the twentieth hole.

From all indications, barring the possibility of a most unexpected upset somewhere along the line, Gaines and Martin should clash in the finals of the upper bracket, and Eichelberger and Russell in the lower bracket. The victors in the lower and upper brackets will clash for the title.

Both Martin and Eichelberger turned in fine rounds yesterday with medal scores of 71.

JUNIOR CHAMBER SPONSORS TOURIST GOLF TOURNEY

That the first annual winter tourists' golf tournament, occupying an important place on the Junior Chamber of Commerce's golfing program, will be held this winter loomed as likely yesterday. Through Clifford Rawson, secretary-manager of the junior body, it was announced that plans are now being formulated for the staging of this event in the winter of 1929.

It will eventually take its place alongside the Los Angeles $10,000 open, according to present plans. Contemplated for more than two years, it is only now that the tournament shapes up as an important part of the winter golfing program for this year.

Seeking the opinion of local golfers and business men, the junior chamber has received very favorable comments on the undertaking of such a plan. Various eastern golfers and men who have followed the game for years have given their hearty indorsement to the plan.

Actual details will be worked out at a later date, it is learned, but it seems a certainty that the first annual winter tourists' tournament will soon become an important adjunct to the golfing schedule here in Southern California.

PADDOCK TOSSES HAT IN RING

Goes Forth to Battle Once More in National Trackfest at Denver; Under Los Angeles Athletic Club Colors; Enters Fifteenth Year of Competition

BY BRAVEN DYER

Nine years ago this summer Charles Willyum Paddock took part in his first national A.A.U. track and field meet. Saturday the perennial Pasadenan goes forth to battle again, headed for Denver where he will once more carry the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

No other track athlete in the country can rival this record of Paddock's, unless it be Jackson Scholz of New York. We understand that Scholz also started in 1920, but with all due respect to "Jack" he has never been the sprinter that Charley was.

Other stories to the contrary notwithstanding Paddock will confine himself to the relays next week. The L.A.A.C. has entered Charley in the 100-yard dash but it is extremely unlikely that he will go to his marks in this event. "I'm not as young as I used to be," is the way Paddock puts it, "and although I feel fine and have plenty of zipper, I know I can't run as swiftly as these youngsters coming up."

Charley will team with Frank Wykoff, Milton Maurer and either "Red" Guyer or Joe Treharne in the relays. The last two are comparatively unknown among big-time competition. Guyer hails from Santa Ana Junior College, while Treharne runs for Pasadena Junior College. Both are mighty promising youngsters.

Paddock's career has been a most remarkable one. He started running at the age of 13 while attending the Polytechnic Elementary School in Pasadena. That was fifteen years ago, this being his fifteenth season of competition.

Charley had several coaches in those days. He used to watch Forrest and Ed Stanton in action, also Warren Bovard and Fred Kelley. Ed went to California and was track captain there. Forrest, if memory serves correctly, went to school down South. He's one of the star handball and squash players at the L.A.A.C. now. Kelley had just returned from the 1912 Olympic Games and naturally Paddock was interested in him.

At Pasadena High School Charley was coached by Duffy Seay, who later went to Stanford. Paddock did some great running as a prep but did not begin his record-breaking feats until he had entered the University of Southern California.

Paddock has competed in five national A.A.U. meets over that nine-year period. Last year he placed second in the 200-meter finals at Cambridge for the Olympic tryouts, this meet also constituting the national A.A.U. championships. In 1927 Paddock ran only in the relays at Lincoln, Neb.

During his four years of running in national A.A.U. championships Charley won five firsts, one second and one third.

Paddock's Olympic Games record is the best of any sprinter that ever represented the United States. Despite the fact that he scored no points last summer, Charley has totaled one first, two seconds and one fifth. Scholz is not far behind, having one first, one second and one fifth. Charley placed in each of his four races in the 1920 and 1924 Olympic Games.

In 1921 Paddock was national A.A.U. champion in both dashes, his times being 9 3-5s. and 21 4-5s. Following the Olympic Games in 1924 he came back to Newark and annexed both titles again, his furlong time being cut to 20 4-5s., while he again did the century in 9 3-5s.

We have an idea that Paddock's presence at Denver will help swell the attendance considerably. Charley is that aggressive type of athlete who is always popular with fans, whether he wins or loses. "Give 'em action" has always been Charley's motto.

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—Al Singer, brilliant young Bronx lightweight, gained an easy decision over Dominic Petrone of New York in the ten-round main bout at the Queensboro arena tonight. Iowans Star in Golf Event

FIELD CLUB, OMAHA (Neb.) June 26. (AP)—Golfers from the tall corn regions of Iowa dominated the two opening match play struggles in the trans-Mississippi championship today, four of them blasting through stiff opposition to enter the quarter-final round.

Arthur Bartlett, the golfing court reporter from Ottumwa and the defending title-holder, headed the Iowa parade, and was joined by "Bud" Maytag, Newton millionaire; Denmar Miller, Des Moines College student, and Bob McVrary, a Des Moines bond salesman who chalked up the most surprising upset of an upset day by eliminating Art Tveras, a heavy favorite from Minneapolis.

Four other States were represented among the survivors—Nathan Grimes, 21-year-old medalist of Denver; Logan Van Zandt of Tulsa, Okla.; Lee Moeller of Quincy, Ill., and Carl Mogenson of Omaha. Of the entire field, Bartlett and Grimes ranked as the heaviest favorites for the title.

LOUGHRAN PICKS PAULINO IN BOUT WITH SCHMELING

BY TOMMY LOUGHRAN
Light-Heavyweight Champion of the World

[Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

PHILADELPHIA, June 26.—I think Paulino will defeat Max Schmeling in their fifteen-round fight at the Yankee Stadium in New York tomorrow night.

I hold to this despite the fact that the German is a strong favorite in the betting and that most of the experts are shouting his praise.

It isn't necessary to go far for my reasons.

In the first place, Paulino is much more experienced. His experience has come not through a vastly greater number of fights than Schmeling's but through facing much better opponents. His rivals have been, among others, George Godfrey, Johnny Risko, Tom Heeney, Harry Wills, Knute Hansen and Jack Delaney. Max has met only one fairly good man, Johnny Risko, and Risko wasn't as tough when he faced Schmeling as when he took on Paulino.

Again, the Spaniard is a lot tougher. He has never been floored for the count, while Maxie has been toppled five times—and by fellows who were not such hard hitters, either. Paulino is awful tough and is a lot harder to hit than most people think.

For a third reason I might point out that Schmeling has only one effective hand. He has a great right—a sharpshooting right with lots of dynamite. If it lands properly it will knock almost anyone out, but I can't figure any fellow to be a great fighter if he hasn't a good left. The left is the mainstay of boxing. No man can call himself a champion unless he has one. Paulino is no boxer. He just keeps crowding in. He has no jab, but he has an effective left hook and a hard right to back it up. At infighting he is likely to prove the better man, for Schmeling has shown no great ability at this.

Schmeling is faster on his feet and in hitting. He is the harder puncher, and there is no reason to believe he isn't game. However, don't forget that in his sensational knockout of Risko he was trailing almost until the moment he landed that right of his, and Paulino will keep crowding him just as much as Risko did.

There is an element of chance in landing a knockout punch. Max will have fifteen rounds to try, but all through the fifteen rounds Paulino will be in close, hammering away at body and chin. Unless Max has improved a lot at that style of fighting it is likely to prove his downfall.

It may be that the Basque woodchopper has been softened by the punishment he has absorbed since coming to America. If he has, then Schmeling has a great chance to win. However, I fail to see any indications that Paulino is not as good physically as he ever was—and if he is I think he'll win.

Deadline Set Tonight for Net Entries

Junior tennis players of Southern California who wish to play in the first annual San Gabriel Valley junior tennis championships, scheduled for July 1-4, must have their entries in tonight. Entries may be phoned to Stanton Welsh in Pasadena, Terrace 7995.

The tournament is to be played on the new San Marino grammar school courts, with the following events carded: Singles for boys and girls under 18, singles for boys and girls under 15, singles for boys and girls under 13, and doubles for boys and girls under 15.

It is believed that this junior meet will be followed by a senior meet to determine the San Gabriel Valley senior champions at the nets, sort of a revival of the event which the Crown City annually staged a number of years back.

Wrigley Will Arrive Today

If there are to be any fireworks over the poor showing of the Angels this year, the explosion should take place a little before July 4, because William Wrigley, Jr., multimillionaire owner of the Los Angeles club, will arrive in the Southland today. Before leaving Los Angeles for Chicago last spring, Wrigley thought he had furnished the Angel fans with a strong club, but right now the Krugmen are reposing in fifth place.

Wrigley does not reach Los Angeles until this evening, and is scheduled to be out at Wrigley Field tomorrow for the purpose of talking over what's to be done about the Angels.

Vittmen Sell Dick McCabe

Dick McCabe, veteran right-hand pitcher, has been sold by the Hollywood Stars to the Fort Worth club of the Texas League, it was announced yesterday by Bill Lane. McCabe will leave immediately to join Fort Worth.

McCabe, who has been on Lane's pay roll since the days of the Salt Lake Bees, has always been a consistent pitcher, but this year has not been able to get going. Last season he won sixteen and lost ten games for the Stars.

KENTUCKIANS PLAN MAN O' WAR STATUE

FRANKFORT (Ky.) June 26. (AP) Plans to immortalize Man o' War with a life-size bronze of the famous race horse were disclosed here yesterday by Gov. Flem D. Sampson, following an exchange of letters with Frank C. Reilly, New York, who conceived the idea.

Mr. Reilly said he has obtained the consent of F. G. R. Roth, sculptor, to model Man o' War. Mr. Reilly wired the Governor that the consent of Samuel D. Riddle, owner of Man o' War, has been obtained.

It is planned to have the bronze cast from the sculptor's model by Bertelli, and to place it at Churchill Downs, the course over which the historic Kentucky Derby is run annually.

PRIMO CARNERA WINS TITLE BY KNOCKOUT

PARIS, June 26. (AP)—Primo Carnera, Italian boxer, who is 6 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 265 pounds, won the ultra-heavyweight championship of Europe tonight by knocking out Jack Humbeck of Belgium, who stands a mere 6 feet 3 inches and weights 225 pounds. The knockout came in the sixth round of a ten-round bout.

Carnera followed his victory by bellowing from the ring a challenge to the winner of the Uzcudun-Schmeling battle.

LEO DIEGEL DRIVING
WEIGHT BACK ON RIGHT HEEL—BODY TURNED ON HIPS—WRISTS COCKED
HIPS LEAD SHOULDERS—LEFT LEG BRACED.
STRAIGHT THRU BALL HIT WITH STRAIGHT RIGHT ARM UNLEASHES WRISTS
Sol Metzger

BY SOL METZGER

Over the fairways at Winged Foot today few golfers will be driving farther than Leo Diegel, who is one of the favorites for this great golf event. His flop on the last day of the British open this past month, when leading Hagen, ought to prime his determination for this money event.

Diegel believes in getting plenty of body and wrist into a tee shot, as much as anyone can. He's a loose-muscled hitter. Hence the tremendous wallop. Note how far around his shoulders are at the top and how far he cocks his wrists. Leo believes in getting his weight back at this point and succeeds by a wide hip shift laterally to the right.

Starting down he slides his hips with some force laterally to the left, swings down from the inside with a straight left and just before he meets the ball he drives into and through it with a straight right arm. That unleashes all the power of his cocked wrists. Tomorrow—the brace for such a wallop.

A few simple but vital points to remember in putting will keep your score down. Write Sol Metzger, care of The Times and get his leaflet on Putting which is free. In writing enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Ewing to Aid Mesa Outfit

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 26. (AP)—Assurance that the stability of the Arizona State League is not endangered by financial difficulties was further evident today when it was revealed that the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League is negotiating to establish the Jewels as a farm during the second half of the split season. The recurrence of this report, which had its origin early this spring, came today when Judge G. A. Rogers of the Mesa Club stated that a deal was pending with the Oaks.

Communication between the Jewel Club head and the secretary of the Oakland team has been under way for several days, it was disclosed.

Consummation of the deal would fully solve the financial troubles that have swamped the Jewels in recent months. Reports current within the last week were that the Mesa team would not be able to enter the second half of the flag race. However, the sudden decision of the Jewel directors to remain in the league directly preceded reports from the Northern California city.

EWING CERTAIN TO USE MESA AS FARM

CATELLA, June 26. (AP)—J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland baseball club, announced here today "it was practically certain the Oaks would use the Mesa team of the Arizona State League as a farm for its recruits during the rest of the Coast League season." Ewing said he would complete arrangements upon his return to Oakland, Saturday. The Oaks' official, who is vacationing here, said his club had several promising youngsters to send out for further experience.

LLOYD TOPS BATTERS IN ARIZONA LEAGUE

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 26. (AP)—Ernie Lloyd, hard-hitting erstwhile Mesa pilot with an average of .398, led the Arizona State League in batting during the first half of the split season which ended Sunday, according to unofficial averages compiled. Lloyd, having played thirty-four games for the Jewels, topped the regulars, though Ed Olie, having played only twelve games, came through with the highest average with .409.

Among the first twenty State loop players who had played twenty games or more are three Senators. They are Holmes, with .379; Ornelas, with .340, and McAdams with .330.

In second place is Parker of Bisbee, with .395. He is followed by Prince Quana of Globe, who has a mark of .394.

The leading hitter will be lost to the Jewels during the second half, he having been given his release upon his own request.

SOUTHLAND POLO STOCK SOARS

Southern California's Summer Mallet Program Takes Step Up as Uplifters Announce Tournament Plans; Midwick Twelve-Goal Team to Play Here Sunday

BY FRANK ROCHE

Summer polo is at last coming into its own in the Southland. The best indication of this was given yesterday in the announcement from polo officials that the championship Midwick Country Club twelve-goal team will compete, starting Sunday, against the pick of the Uplifters Club teams on the field of the Santa Monica organization for the next five weeks. It is quite a big step for summer polo, which has been staggering along in the Southland on an uncertain basis for several seasons. The entrance of the Midwick forces into the picture at the Uplifters puts the game up a good many notches on the sport barometer.

Midwick has heretofore held its polo teams down to competition during the winter and spring seasons. This year, however, a twelve-goal team representing the Purple Club, composed of Dr. H. H. Wilson, Neil McCarthy, Gordon Cronkhite and Howland Paddock stepped out and captured the circuit cup championship of the Pacific Coast. By virtue of that they became eligible to represent the west coast in the national circuit cup play at Chicago during the latter part of August.

The Midwick players decided they had to stay in shape during the interval which is this month and July. They decided to enter the Uplifters' tournament play and as a result local fans will have the best summer polo season in history if everything goes according to Hoyle.

In addition to the Midwick Club the Uplifters also announced that Santa Barbara has also agreed to take part on the summer program. Long-legged Elmer Boeseke, Jim Colt and Maj. Max Fleischman will bring a team here for games at the Uplifters.

Polo officials in the Southland are more than anxious to establish the game on a firm basis here during the summer as well as the winter. The United States Polo Association has sent out a call for all the clubs in every section of the country to develop young players to stimulate the sport. The Uplifters and Midwick are eager to fall in line with this request—hence the summer program of much activity.

More than 200 polo ponies are now situated at the Uplifters, among which are some of the most famous playing horses in the game. C. B. Wrightsman's string is valued at more than $100,000.

Polo officials point out that the game is utterly simon pure. The players receive no compensation from the game other than the sport they get out of it. On the other hand, they dig down in their own pockets for from $5000 to $20,000 a season to keep up their ponies and game.

Uplifters have named several teams already to furnish the opposition for Midwick. Sunday the Uplifters four will be composed of Will Rogers, C. B. Wrightsman, Hal Roach and Clair Brunson. Rogers is making his first appearance of the year.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30.

Orange to Put on Marathon

Orange county is following the example set by Pyle and will hold its first marathon race tomorrow. The course will cover about twenty-one miles, the starting point being Santa Ana, the finish being at Placentia in the northern part of the county. Unlike Pyle's bunion derby this race is for amateurs only. About a hundred high school boys from various institutions in Orange county have entered their names as participants in the contest. The occasion is the celebration of the turning on of the lights in the newly installed ornamental lighting system in the town of Placentia and the race is timed to start from the Court House at Santa Ana at 5 o'clock, so that it will finish in Placentia just before time to light up the town. Charles E. Lee, a wealthy orange grower of the Fullerton-Placentia district, is handling the race which is being sponsored by the Placentia Chamber of Commerce and allied Orange county organizations.

The contestants will be preceded on the highway from Santa Ana to Anaheim by a motor-cycle squad. The official starters have been selected. The Mayor of Santa Ana, President of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and editor of the Santa Ana Daily Register will act as a starting committee.

Registration is still open according to Lee. And high school boy in Orange county is eligible to make the race. All he need do is to send his name to C. E. Lee, care of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce, Placentia Cal., with his address, age and school.

WEISSMULLER HAS ENVIABLE RECORD

Johnny Weissmuller, world famous swimming champion of the Illinois Athletic Club, who has retired at the age of 26, has shattered over 185 records since 1921. Weissmuller held world's records over every distance from 100-yards free style to one-half mile for about six years, shattering the majority of these marks from one to six times.

The "human fish" retired undefeated, with the reputation of being the undisputed world's sprint champion. Numerous backstroke records are also credited to his string of swim marks.

JAPANESE MERMAIDS IN HONOLULU RACES

For the first time in Japanese history, a women's swimming team, recently organized, will appear at the women's outdoor national swimming championships to be held August 8-11 in Honolulu. In the men's outdoor championships of 1928, a team of Japanese men swimmers won places in the breast stroke and free-style championships. A women's Japanese track team has also been formed, which will probably be entered in the international A. A. U. track meet for women next year.

Colima Rules Favorite for Hollywood Go

Bert Colima is favorite over Everett Strong but the short-ender may cop at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tomorrow night.

Joe Roche was matched to fight Vincent Porgione next week and the winner of that fight will probably meet the victor in the Strong-Colima fight. That would bring together the claimants of the Pacific Coast middleweight title. Homer Sheridan is in the fuss and will end up by fighting someone.

There may be a knockout at Hollywood because Strong is putting all he has into this one shot so he can get the winner of next week's main event. Strong has had Colima on the floor. He should have won by a knockout, according to Billy Uvick, his manager, who is asking that a competent referee be named to handle the fight.

A new sensation in local boxing circles is Harold Matthews, who fights Clayton Gouyd in the semi-wind-up. According to Dan Tobey, Matthews will be the outstanding fighter on the Hollywood card. He is a flyweight and a great performer. He hails from Nebraska.

Bert Sampson is a favorite over Ole Nashiem in the special event. Nashiem is a newcomer and may pull a surprise and beat Sampson.

CARDS TRIUMPH IN EXHIBITION CONTEST

GALESBURG (Ill.) June 26. (AP)—Grover Cleveland Alexander pitched here today for the first time in nearly twenty years as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Galesburg Independents, 5 to 3, in an exhibition game.

Alexander, who started his professional career here, was the guest of honor and received several gifts from local fans. He pitched the first two innings and finished the game at second base. Score:

Johnny Lancaster and Ray Regalato went six rounds to a draw in the special event. Kenneth La Salle won a four-rounder from Johnny Martinez in the four-round opener. Jimmy Penway won over Eddie Lozano by a knockout in the second round.

WIGGINS FINISHED UP BY "GAWGE" GODFREY

CLEVELAND, June 26. (AP)—George Godfrey, negro heavyweight, won by a technical knockout from Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis, in the seventh round of a twelve-round bout here tonight. Godfrey weighed 239 and Wiggins 194.

The giant negro knocked Wiggins through the ropes and as Chuck re-entered the ring dazed, Godfrey landed a series of blows to his face and body and Wiggins went to his knees. The referee then awarded the fight to Godfrey.

White Rates Horton Smith Over Mac Smith, Hagen

Dudley scored 75 and Watrous was a stroke behind. Roland Hancock, who had a great chance at Olympia Fields last year, was a bit in and out today with 78 strokes.

Bobby Jones did not play, contenting himself with a brief session on the putting green.

There were five withdrawals from the list of starters tomorrow, expected to number 148. The players who qualified but will not play included: W. C. Gordon, Ill.; Elmer Holland, San Francisco; Harold Long, Denver; Lloyd Gullickson, Wickliffe, O.; Maurice J. McCarthy, Jr., intercollegiate champion, who is defending his title at Deal, N. J.

Jack White, the famous Scotch pro, who was attached for twenty-five years to the Sunningdale Club, generally rated as England's best inland course, is Great Britain's only representative. He played today with his 20-year-old nephew, Jimmie Thompson, Knoxville (Tenn.) pro, who finished in a tie for tenth in the last British open.

The veteran Scot thinks his nephew will do well in this championship. "I don't expect the lad to win, but he should do well, perhaps very well," said the grand former British open champion.

"Old Jack" held the title in 1904 and has been second, third and fourth.

"I fancy Bobby Jones, of course," said White. "I would say he should be about four to one. I fancy Horton Smith, too. I should judge he might be rated about 8 to 1. Let's say Walter Hagen and Macdonald Smith together at 10 to 1. And of course there are others such as this boy, Billy Burke. I have never seen him or some of the other younger players."

The first pair off at 8:30 o'clock will be Couch, Lake Forest, Ill., and Kean Donnelly, Philmont, Pa.

George Von Elm, the Detroit amateur, will start out with John Farnadi, Newton Centre, Mass., at 8:30. George Voigt, another crack amateur, plays with Ernest G. Jones, Pittsburgh, at 9:30. Leo Diegel and Emmett Spicer, Nashville, Tenn., former southern amateur champion, are off at 10:25.

Bobby Jones and Emmett French, Southern Pines (N. C.) pro, start at 10:45.

Walter Hagen and Louis Chiapetta, Hartford, Ct., leave the first tee at 11:45.

TIGERS LOSE

DETROIT, June 26. (AP)—A bit of belated hitting in the ninth broke a tie and enabled the White Sox to defeat the Tigers, 5 to 3, in the final game of their series here today. Detroit won the other two.

The Tigers took a three-run lead in the fourth inning only to see it nullified a few minutes later by three Chicago runners who crossed the plate in the fifth. Johnny Prudhomme and Ed Lyons ran out the next three innings in one-two-three style but in the ninth triples by Cissell and Watwood with the aid of a sacrifice, single and an error gave the Sox the winning runs.

MISSIONS SWAMP SHEIKS

tomers tossed their pride aside and remained until the finish.

Herman Pillette, the lanky right-hander, officiated on the mound for the Reds and did a much better job than was required. Pillette held the Stars to seven hits and, by sagacious use of a change of pace, kept the Vittmen in submission during the major part of the afternoon.

Red Johns, the serious-faced southpaw, was the Hollywood hurler. Johns didn't have his stuff and was blasted rather freely, but had to stay in and suffer because Vitt's mound corps is very much in need of rest, what with no less than twelve hurlers being required during the previous three games. However, Johns's record wouldn't have looked so bad but for the fact that the Stars clustered three errors in the seventh inning to permit the Reds to chase across five unearned markers.

The victory made it two straight for the Missions and enabled them to retain their four-game lead over the second-place Seals.

REDS WALLOP BALL HARD

However, the Stars took a short-lived lead in the fourth when, with two away, Carlyle beat out a hot grounder to Mulligan and Bill Rumler followed with a drive over the left-field fence.

The Missions put on a slugging exhibition in the fifth and five runs came across the plate to give the Reds a lead they never relinquished. Scott doubled for the opening blast and tallied on Slade's triple down the right-field line. A wild pitch scored Slade. Hofmann then walked and Pillette sacrificed. Mulligan, after having a bunt roll foul on him, socked one over the left-field fence. Finn flied out, but Boone homed into the bleachers to account for the fifth run of the round.

Scott clicked another Mission homer in the sixth.

The Stars made a threat to get back into the contest in the sixth when singles by Johns, Lee and Burkett filled the bases with none out. But Pillette settled down and retired the next three batters, so only two runs were gathered out of the promising start.

The Stars went to pieces in the seventh and the Reds combined four hits with three errors to score five more runs and sew up the contest. After Pillette had been retired, Burkett started the trouble by booting Mulligan's roller. On a hit-and-run play, Finn singled through short and took second and Mulligan scored when Funk bobbled the ball. Boone fouled to Heath, but a wild pitch moved Finn to third. Hufft's hit scored Finn and Sherlock followed with another single. Lee's error on Scott's grounder scored Hufft, sent Sherlock to third and permitted Scott to reach second. A double by Slade sent Sherlock and Scott scampering over the plate with the other two runs of the terrible inning.

Boone hit his second homer of the game and his fifth in two days to give the Reds their final score in the ninth.

MULLIGAN STARS AT THIRD

Lest we forget, it is here mentioned that Mulligan did a lot of fancy fielding at third base. Eddie scooped up grounders like an ant-eater laps up those insects that make sandwiches so unpopular on picnics. Mulligan made no less than four great plays, robbing Sypher of two likely hits with a couple of sensational stops.

Vitt will send either Walter Kinney or Buzz Wetzel to the mound today in an effort to halt the rush of the Reds, while Killefer has Bert Cole, Wilbur Hubbell and Ernie Nevers all available for hurling duty. Score: punches in fast and deadly fashion from his right side.

BASQUE CHOICE IN GOTHAM GO

Schmeling has worked for weeks in his training camp at Lakewood, N. J., to bring his left hand up to the same point of efficiency. Upon his ability to absorb Paulino's ponderous smashes to the body, and open the way with the left hand for those right-hand lightning strokes to the head, rests Schmeling's chance of victory.

Paulino is the durable mauler, charging into action with body bent and arms criss-crossed about the head, wading in close to cut and slash to the body. His ability to absorb punishment and still keep coming on strongly so far has been unlimited. The burly Basque has clubbed his way past most of the present crop of contenders. Schmeling's rise took the sensational turn at his seven-round knockout of Johnny Risko.

The prospect of perfect weather for the first big outdoor show of 1929 seems to have had a stimulating effect on the Madison Square box offices. At $50 top the gate may total $500,000 with the battlers sharing 40 per cent of the proceeds and waging their private war before 35,000 customers.

Because of lack of proof of Schmeling's ability to stand up under body punishment, odds on the match today favored Paulino at 6 to 5.

SUHR HERO OF SEAL TRIUMPH

trouble winning his game. Berger won yesterday's game with a home run in the tenth inning, and he belted another round-tripper today in the fourth inning, scoring Webb ahead of him and keeping the Angels within reaching distance. In the sixth inning Berger ripped off a double and scored later, so he was quite a factor in three of the four runs the Angels made.

The Seals made all their runs off Peters, a left-handed hurler. The Seals have looked at so many southpaws this year that they are beginning to like that kind of flinging. Suhr is a left-handed hitter, but he blasted the pitching of Peters for two home runs and a single. Smead Jolley, another left-handed swinger, got two hits off Peters, and Red Wingo, also a southpaw hitter, belted a triple off the Angel southpaw. Score:

GIANTS WIN

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—The Giants conquered their Brooklyn jinx here this afternoon when they shaded Dazzy Vance, 3 to 2, in eleven innings for their only victory in the series of four games. Carl Mays and Jack Scott divided the pitching, holding Brooklyn to five hits, and Scott drove home the winning run when he followed O'Farrell's double with a single after two men had been retired.

The big break for the New Yorkers came in the fourth when, with the bases filled and none out, Umpire Bob Hart, put Mays out of the game for protesting a decision which cost the Giants a run. Scott pulled out of that hole, and had no trouble over the rest of the route, allowing but two hits in eight innings. The score:

Brown Fights Hood Tonight

Newsboy Brown and Ernie Hood, flyweights, meet tonight at the Pasadena Arena in a ten-round scrap that has Pasadena fight mad and is attracting attention all over Southern California. Brown is by all odds the classiest boxer ever to appear at the Arena and he is going against a hard-hitting boy capable of putting him away if one of the Hood right-handers lands.

Hood, Pasadena's pride, has done a marvelous comeback since he suffered the one knockout of his career at the hands of Speedy Dado a while back. Ernie never was going better than now and he is generally regarded as the hardest hitter of his weight in the country. He has the chance of a lifetime to sprint into national fame by beating Newsboy Brown.

The supporting card includes: Six rounds each: Benny Marks vs. Jimmy Martinez, 114 pounds; Kenneth Johnson vs. Dud Eades, 135 pounds. Four rounds each: Sammy Seeman vs. Cerilo Accuning, 118 pounds; Roy Myers vs. Johnny Compton, 130 pounds.

FLUKE SINGLE GIVES SACS OVERTIME WIN

SEATTLE (Wash.) June 26. (AP)—Koehler's fluke single in the thirteenth inning which took a bad hop and spoiled a perfect set-up for a double play, gave Sacramento a 6-to-3 victory over the Indians here today. Two of the three Sacramento scores, made in the thirteenth, were scored on the play.

SAMMY BAKER WINS OVER GEORGE LEVINE

NEW YORK, June 26. (AP)—Sergt. Sammy Baker, New York's soldier battler, trounced George Levine of New York in their ten-round fight at Dexter Park tonight. Baker handed out a bad beating to his tough rival but was not able to floor him. The weights were: Baker, 148; Levine, 150½.

CARPENTIER ON JOURNEY WEST

"Orchid Man" is Anxious to Land Bouts Here

Olympic May Sign Former French Ring Idol

May Get Go With Victor of Daniels-Okun Bout

Georges Carpentier, famous Orchid Man of France, will come to the Pacific Coast shortly. He wants to box here while also engaged in pictures.

Los Angeles has never seen the running-mate of Jack Dempsey who helped draw in the first million-dollar gate.

It is a possibility that Carpentier might box the winner of the Dick Daniels-Yale Okun bout at the Olympic next Tuesday.

The messenger, who brought word of Carpentier's intention here, says that the Frenchman still has that right hand and is in good physical condition.

Daniels, with his record of sixty-three knockouts in seventy-two fights, has made converts of all the fans who have seen him in the Manhattan gymnasium. He is the best looking heavy prospect seen out this way in a long time.

The Minnesota Dane has just begun to speed up. On his arrival here he was slowed down a bit by the change in climate. Okun is boxing at the Main-street gym.

The Jewish heavy has been boxing with Dynamite Jackson and Johnny Barry, hard hitters, in his workouts. Okun isn't a great hitter like Daniels, but he is a splendid boxer.

Tom Morgan, young Irish heavy who has scored three straight kayos since coming over from Ireland, was signed yesterday to box Jack Haywood, Monrovia negro, in the semi to Daniels and Okun. Bobby Herman and Leo Lomeli box the special event.

Earl Mastro, who won a ten-round decision over Fidel La Barba last Tuesday night, will leave for Chicago Saturday with his manager, Art Winch.

COLLEGE GOLF STARS BEATEN

champion, vs. Tommy Aycock, Yale; Lester Bolstad, Minnesota, vs. John G. Jones, Princeton.

Victims of the principal upset which marked the day's play both morning and afternoon, were Chuck Hunter of the University of Washington, who was crushed by a count of 6 and 5 in the opening round by Melville Newman of Yale; George Dunlap of Princeton, the medalist, whose conqueror by a score of 4 and 3 in the second round was a Tiger team-mate, Jones, and Phillips Finlay, long-driving Harvard youth, who fell before Beger's deadly short-hole game in the afternoon round.

Not even the sturdy champion, McCarthy, an experienced golfer, who hits his shots with the poise and ease of a pro, was entirely proof against the wave of form reversals, and he was forced to play an extra hole before he finally defeated Newman, 1 up, in the headline match of the second round.

Newman was having a big day. Everything was dropping and when he did find trouble he had a way of producing the most astounding recoveries. It was in this manner that he won his morning game from Hunter and he was full of confidence in his match against the champion.

They reached the turn with McCarthy 1 down, and, starting homeward, four straight holes were halved before McCarthy evened the match for the first time at the fourteenth. Newman got it back at the short fifteenth, but McCarthy's birdie at the seventeenth made them square.

After halving the home hole in par, Newman finally lost out at the nineteenth, when a four-foot putt lipped the cup and refused to drop, McCarthy's par 4 capturing the hole and match.

Although six of the eight remaining players are from eastern colleges, both Bolstad of Minnesota and Moe of Oregon are highly regarded and both appeared to have a good chance of reaching the final. Moe today defeated Jack Beale of Union, 2 and 1, and Dick Wilson, Georgetown, by the same score, while Bolstad, accounted for F. W. Ryan, Detroit, 1 up in twenty holes, and Frank Hersey, Princeton, 3 and 2.

Two more eighteen-hole rounds tomorrow will pare the field down to two and set the stage for the thirty-six-hole final Friday.

OAKS MAKE IT TWO IN ROW FROM DUCKS

PORTLAND (Or.) June 26. (AP)—Oakland made it two straight from Portland today by the score of 10 to 5. Cascarella pitched better ball than the sixteen hits indicate, slow fielding costing heavily in the first inning, in which the Oaks got a four-run lead. Score:

VETERANS AID MERCURY TEAM

Nineteen Stars Experienced in National Meets

Six Olympic Games Runners Decorate Roster

Maxwell, Grumbles Tied in Short Hurdle Race

Nineteen members of the squad of thirty-five track stars, who will represent the L.A.A.C. in the National A.A.U. championships at Denver July 3, 4, 5, are veterans of previous national meets, according to statistics compiled yesterday by Mercury Club officials.

Many fans have declared this year's team to be too green for high powered competition but of the thirty-five athletes only sixteen of them have never competed in a National A.A.U. championship before and three of that number have taken part in national collegiate meets.

MANY VETERANS

Six members of Olympic Games teams are on the list as follows: Frank Wykoff, Charley Paddock, Bob Maxwell, Herman Brix, Johnny Kuck and Alma Richards. Men who have competed in former National A.A.U. meets are: Wykoff, Paddock, Leistner, Maxwell, Grumbles, Brix, Kuck, Moeller, De Mers, Mortensen, Sturdy, Williams, Barne, Guyer, Oberfall, Halstead, Welsh, Blanchard, Hoover and Patton.

The newcomers are Maurer, Treharne, Guyer, Oberfall, Halstead, Chauen, Carls, Van Osdel, Arthur, Jefferson, Barber, Schleimer, Edwards, Bowman, Perrie and Yancy. These sixteen men have shown enough strength during the current season to warrant their selections as members of the L.A.A.C. junior team, according to Charley Keppen, club athletic director.

L.A.A.C. athletic officials well know what their team will be up against at Denver, but they fully expect to see the boys score thirty-five points in the senior championships on July 4. The Mercuries counted forty-one points to win the nationals in 1928 at Boston and twenty-seven points are gone from that team due to the absence of Bud Houser, Leighton Dye, Levi Casey, Lee Barnes, Chuck Harlow, Charley Borah and Nick Carter. However last year's juniors have been coming fast this year and along with additional strength from Herman Brix, Jimmy De Mers, Eddie Moeller, Jack Williams, Fred Sturdy and Jess Mortensen the team should score thirty-five points.

At least three and possibly four teams entered will be capable of that number, however, so the meet will develop into a great battle between the L.A.A.C., defending champions, the Olympic Club of San Francisco, the Illinois A. C. of Chicago and the New York A. C.

LEAVE SATURDAY

The L.A.A.C. party leaves Los Angeles Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, aboard the Union Pacific.

Four low hurdle prospects galloped through a full flight of 220 barriers in the Coliseum yesterday. Ken Grumbles and Bob Maxwell finished in a dead heat in 23 4-5s, with Carls third and Gilman fourth.

Jess Mortensen, N.C.A. javelin champion, appeared, and worked out with the clubmen. It was his first local appearance since he went east with the Trojan trackmen. Clyde Blanchard worked out a full flight of 440 hurdles by himself.

BRACEY PREDICTS RECORD-BREAKER

DENVER (Colo.) June 26. (AP)—The absence of starting blocks will not prevent a world's record for the 100-yard dash in the A.A.U. track and field championship here next week, in the opinion of Claude Bracey, Rice Institute's flyer.

Bracey, who has been here for several days with his coach, Ernie Hjertberg, getting acclimated, believes that climatic conditions are going to furnish just the factor needed to force a star field to a record performance.

"I don't say that I will win the 100-yard dash," Bracey said today, "but I do predict that if I don't hit that finish line first the man who beats me will break the world's record.

"This track is as good as any I've ever run on, so there will be no kick on that score."

Ray Conger, who will run the mile race for the Illinois A.C., also is enthusiastic about the Denver track. The Iowan is doing his conditioning in true western fashion. He traveled here by auto and is camping out and roughing it to get used to the thin air. Conger and Leo Lermond of the Boston A.A. are expected to put up a great exhibition in the mile.

"Lermond did a mile in 4m. 13s. last week in New York," Conger said. "That's the reason I'm here in advance, getting ready for this race."

MAIN-STREET BOXING PROGRAM COMPLETED

With the signing of four middleweight preliminary battlers next Saturday night's Main-street Athletic Club ring card has been completed.

The full card includes Leo Hernandez vs. Curtis Poet, 147 pounds; Bert Hubbard vs. Sandy Garrison, 150 pounds; Albert Cruise vs. Young Terry, 158 pounds; Manuel Mauricio vs. Jess Babuco, 124 pounds; Jackie Stewart vs. Manuel Victoria, 154 pounds; Johnny Gabuco vs. Castudo Roberdo, 115 pounds.

HAROLD KNOCKS OUT McLEAN AT OAKLAND

OAKLAND, June 26. (AP)—Billy Harold, 128, of Oakland, knocked out Stewart McLean, 130, St. Paul veteran, in the third round of a ten-round main event at Arcadia pavilion here tonight. Harold sent McLean to the floor for a nine count in the third and then knocked him out with a right to the jaw. Harold had an edge in all the rounds.

Polo Riders to Compete for Trophies

Local polo fans are expressing considerable interest in the pace competition which the Saddle Club has scheduled for Sunday. The contest, which will be held in conjunction with the game between the Saddle Club and the Saddle and Sirloin Four, on the Ventura Boulevard Field, is open to all local junior poloists, and expert judges will select the winner on a point basis, that includes judging both horse and rider. The game itself is the second of a series of three contests between the two teams. The Saddle Club won the opening clash last Sunday in a spectacular battle.

GORCHAKOFF IS COURT WINNER

victory over Lawrence Hall of Stanford.

A small upset was registered in the defeat of Donald Cram of Vanderbilt University by Donald Strachan of Princeton. In a second-round match Tuesday Cram made himself conspicuous by eliminating Bradshaw Harrison of Oregon, who had defeated Seligson the week before in the Delaware State tournament. Strachan beat Cram, 6-4, 6-1.

Benjamin Gorchakoff of Occidental College, who has been runner-up in the singles for the last two years and is seeded No. 6, met unexpected opposition in Stanley Almquist, the hard-serving Oregon University player. Gorchakoff triumphed, 8-6, 6-4.

Eddie Jacobs, nonseeded Baltimore star, who eliminated Johnny Doeg of Stanford, seeded No. 2, in a third-round match yesterday, swept by Clifford Sutter of Tulane, 6-4, 6-3, to again his quarter-final bracket.

Emmett Pare of Georgetown, seeded No. 8, was one of the last of the seeded players to move forward when he vanquished Tom Markey, Jr., of Notre Dame, 6-3, 6-3.

In doubles, Almquist and Neer, Oregon, defeated Sheer and Wawaski, Kenyon, 6-1, 6-1.

LUTZE WINNER IN MAT SCRAP

heard of Hoyle and seemed bent on committing homicide. He gouged at Lutze's eyes and ears and bit pieces out of Nick's legs and arms. He threw Nick out of the ring and tried to stamp him into the mat like an elephant does to its victims.

Despite these tactics and others as bad if not worse Stanley could not pin Nick to the mat. Nick gave away forty pounds to the Polish giant, but he proved himself strong enough to pick Stasiak up bodily and hurl him from the ring on several occasions when Stanley overstepped all the wrestling rules by miles. On one occasion Lutze hurled Stasiak over the ropes in the direction of Grand avenue and about forty guys grabbed their Panama hats and sprinted to the exits. Stanley landed without doing any damage, however.

When he wasn't doing his dirty work he was roaring at the referee or the crowd, who booed him continually.

Stasiak, despite everything that can be said about him, is far from a fool. Lutze found that out. Nick had Stanley about as good as cooked with a split hold when Stasiak reached around back of Lutze and patted him on the back. Lutze, thinking it was the referee, released his hold and Stanley got away while the crowd roared.

TURNS TABLE

Lutze obtained the first fall of the match just when it looked as though Stasiak was about to throw him with a body slam. Nick turned the table on Stasiak neatly by tossing him over backward knocking the wind out of him. The second fall came in short order. Stasiak came out of his corner and grabbed Nick by the hair and when Lutze shook him loose he clamped on the jack knife scizzors and the show was over.

Joe Malcewicz, the Utica Panther, lived up to his name in the manner in which he handled Don De Laun of Long Beach in the special event. Malcewicz won the match in short order with a body crotch hold. The Long Beach boy was no match for Joe, who played possum for about fifteen minutes and then tossed Mr. De Laun on his new moustache.

"Deadeye" Dick Daviscourt tossed Wild Bill Beth in the curtain raiser with a series of headlocks in 25m. 45s. Dick and Bill spent most of the time tickling each other in the ribs and when Daviscourt got tired of that he threw Beth flater than a pancake.

SIX RACES SCHEDULED AT ASCOT

Speed Kings to Perform Saturday Night in Card of Sprint Events

A program of six races, with more thrills and more speed than has ever been offered on a dirt track here, appears to be the line-up at the American Legion Speedway for Saturday night, when some thirty knights of the open throttle will face Starter Fred Wagner's flag in the qualifying heats.

Three preliminary races, an American Legion sweepstakes of ten miles, a ten-mile consolation race and a fifteen-mile main event, are the sprints on the program.

Herb Marrow, manager of the Legion track, and himself a calloused driver of many years' experience on the roaring road, declares that night racing has unlimited advantages on the day sport from point of thrills.

"The engines of the cars seem to run faster and there are less breakdowns in the coolness of the night air," declared Marrow yesterday.

Francis Quinn, Nick Martino, Jimmy Sharp, Mel Kenealy, "Speed" Hinkley and "Red" Heisler were being hailed yesterday as the six contenders for the honors Saturday night.

Quinn and Martino stood the fans on their toes nearly two weeks ago in their spectacular nip-and-tuck finish. Kenealy won two big events last Sunday at San Jose, while Hinkley and Heisler, placed. Sharp is the San Pedro boy piloting the fast Mahoney Special.

Race Drivers Seeking Color and Not Speed

Line-up of cars for the start at the Banning American Legion Speedway in the annual July Fourth dirt-track program will present the smartest appointments and color combinations ever boasted by a similar coterie of racing "jobs," it is indicated by announcement just made by the Champion Spark Plug Company that it will present a trophy at the finish of the 1929 season to the driver whose mount has been adjudged the most attractive car in the greatest number of 1929 A.A.A. events.

Its sponsor will award the trophy on the point system, with a committee of judges, including an A.A.A. representative, deciding at each event which car presents the most striking appearance. Points will go to a first, a second, and a third choice at each race. At the end of the season the trophy will go to the car having amassed the greatest number of digits.

Popular Jimmie Sharp, whose silver-colored Mahoney Special has caught the fancy of fans at a number of past races as the best-looking car on the track, is conceded an excellent chance to capture first honors and the attendant points at Banning. Sharp, incidentally, led the main event at Banning on Decoration Day for more than forty laps before he was forced to quit with motor trouble, and he is given a good chance of finishing first in the July Fourth main event.

NICARAGUAN ON CREDIT ERRAND

Consular Inspector-General Arrives on Liner

Says Marine Corps Wiped Out Revolt Thoroughly

Reports All Debts Paid and Cash in Treasury

BY WALDO DRAKE

Nicaragua looks forward to construction of a second trans-Isthmian canal by the United States to place the republic in first rank among Spanish-American nations, according to Constantino Pereira, financial agent and Consular Inspector-General of Nicaragua, who arrived at the port yesterday aboard the Panama Mail liner Venezuela. Senor Pereira will spend two months in California and as long in New York arranging credits of the Nicaraguan government before sailing for Europe on a similar mission.

CONSTANTINO PEREIRA

"The United States has been the savior of my country during the last two years," he declared. "During the last six months we have paid off our entire budget for the year and have a surplus of $1,500,000 in the treasury, something that the country has never known in her history.

"The Marine Corps has so thoroughly wiped out the revolution that the entire effort of the government is now being centered on administrative affairs, rather than fighting for its existence, as we were forced to do before the United States came to our aid. Sandino's bandits have been driven to the mountains, where they are being hunted down by the marines and the Guardia Nacional.

"Next year's coffee crop, which promises to be one of the largest in our history, has already been largely sold at the splendid price of $20 per 100 pounds.

"Nicaragua feels that construction of the trans-Nicaragua canal would be of immense benefit to both that country and the United States and my countrymen are doing everything in their power to hasten its building."

Others of prominence among the 110 cabin passengers arriving on the Venezuela included Prof. P. J. Treat, head of the history department at Stanford, and Mrs. Treat; Miss D. Florence, returning from an exploration of the Sahara Desert; Robert Burns, mining engineer, from Guatemala; E. H. Wilson, W. R. Grace, executive in Salvador, and Miss Mary L. Gibbons, New York delegate to the National Conference of Social Work, to be held in San Francisco from the 26th inst. to July 3, next.

REORGANIZED SHIP LINE OUTLOOK BRIGHTER

Forecast reorganization of the financial structure of the International Mercantile Marine Company, operator of the Panama-Pacific Line, was announced as a reality yesterday by W. F. Ohlson, district manager here, for the I.M.M. Stock of the company went up on Coast exchanges yesterday, there being a general feeling in industrial circles that I.M.M. had turned an important corner.

"Officials of the company feel that they are now free for a program of expansion," said Mr. Ohlson. "The greatest benefit of such a program would naturally accrue to the Panama-Pacific Line, soon to have three fine electric express liners in New York-Los Angeles service. Completion of the Pennsylvania, third of the electric fleet, will give it the finest passenger service under the American flag.

"The earnings of the Panama-Pacific Line have been encouraging and with a compact and sound financial organization, President P. A. S. Franklin will have a freer hand in developing his plans than he has had hitherto. He already has stated that when business conditions warrant, he will order three more electric ships to join the Virginia, California and Pennsylvania in the intercoastal business. How soon the new ships will be laid down of course, depends on various circumstances, but at present it would appear that their construction will be a logical result of present conditions in the trade.

"We have had a large number of telephone calls from stockholders, expressing satisfaction over the reorganization. The new structure wiped out certain paper obligations, in the way of unpaid accumulative dividends and converted a paper deficit of $28,620,000 into a cash surplus of $5,000,000. On the old basis the company's earnings for 1928 would have paid a dividend of about $2 per share. They will be much better this year."

Preparations for resumption of gaming aboard the former barkentine Monfalcone were completed last night when the Red Stack tug Sea Rover towed the three-masted schooned Centennial to a point sixteen miles southeast of San Pedro, within 1000 feet of the Monfalcone. Operators of the Monfalcone indicated that the old schooner would be used as an intermediate barge for transfer of customers bound to and from the gambling vessel.

A boat load of equipment consigned to the barge Johanna Smith was reported delivered early yesterday at her anchorage several miles off Point Dume.

George Bankson, port superintendent of the Dollar Steamship Line, yesterday morning survived the third round of the Bethlehem Trophy golf tournament at Royal Palms, when he defeated Charles I. Houghton, marine insurance broker, 1 up.

Roberts and Robinson, oil producers, yesterday began active drilling operations on the new submarine field at Coal Point, near Elwood. The Matson freighter Mahukona, with a load of equipment from this port, is anchored off the site in use as a floating base. The tug Crowley No. 9, will start today on a contract of towing barges of fresh water from San Pedro to the drilling site.

Mitsui's new Japanese motorship Hakonesan Maru, was in port yesterday from the Orient on her maiden voyage and in addition to discharging 1600 tons of general cargo here, will load out a similar amount of Southland products for China and Japan.

OHIO AIR GUEST LIKES LOS ANGELES

AIR VISITOR THRILLED BY SOUTHLAND

Miss Reinbold Sole Woman on Plane-Train Trip of T.A.T. Corporation

Miss Lauretta Reinbold, sole woman passenger on the Transcontinental Air Transport's cross-country flight from New York to Los Angeles, which ended here Tuesday evening, is thrilled with Hollywood, she said at the Biltmore yesterday.

Miss Reinbold's activities in Toledo, O., where she played a prominent part in developing aeronautics, won for her the recognition of T.A.T. officials in New York. Miss Reinbold is private secretary in the industrial department of the Toledo Chamber of Commerce.

"I have flown before, of course, but this air-rail trip was delightful," she said. "Although the ship started off from New York I did not join the party until it reached Columbus. I left Columbus Monday morning and was in Los Angeles Tuesday night. It seems too wonderful to be true.

"But more wonderful still is Los Angeles and Hollywood. I want to see as much of your country as I possibly can before I fly back on Friday," Miss Reinbold said. Already a guest at the Breakfast Club and at two motion-picture studios yesterday, her desire to see things in Los Angeles will be fulfilled, Chamber of Commerce officials said.

COUNCILMEN TO INSPECT WATER LINE

Party Will See Owens Valley District System of City's Plant

Three City Councilmen-elect will leave this morning, accompanied by H. A. Van Norman, general manager of the department of water and power, for a tour of inspection along the Los Angeles Aqueduct and into Owens Valley.

The party, which includes Councilmen Thomas F. Cooke, Robert L. Burns and Thomas W. Williams and Frank H. Brooks, real-estate man, will spend this evening in Independence and Friday evening in Owens Valley at the department of water and power construction camp on Crooked Creek at the head of Owens Gorge, 350 miles north of Los Angeles.

This will be the first opportunity of these three newly elected Councilmen to inspect at first hand the city's municipal water and power system in the Owens Valley district, 250 miles from Los Angeles at the foot of the high Sierras.

En route the party is scheduled to visit the municipal power-generating stations 1 and 2 in San Francisquito Canyon. They will also visit the city power-generating stations in Owens Valley. It is these generating stations that engineers for the department have recommended be connected by transmission lines to Los Angeles.

BELT LINE POST TAKEN BY HENNING

Harbor Councilman-Elect Tendered and Accepts Place on Control Board

A. E. Henning, Councilman-elect from the harbor district, who replaces Councilman C. F. Colden after July 1, yesterday agreed to accept membership on the board of control of the Harbor Belt Line Railway when questioned by President Walter B. Allen of the harbor board on the subject. There will be a vacancy in the city's representation on the board when the term of Councilman Bonelli expires on the 30th inst.

Henning dropped in at the meeting of the harbor board yesterday and at the invitation of Allen sat in to hear the proceedings and confer with the commissioners on matters of interest to the harbor district. As a former president of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, the new Councilman is considered by the commissioners to be well informed on harbor matters.

After Henning formally takes office as Councilman, it is understood, the harbor board will take official action toward placing him on the board of control of the belt line. This board has four members representing the city and four from the railroads.

AIR-BRAKE TEST TO BE GIGANTIC

Trains Mile and Half Long Will be Employed

Northern California Chosen for Demonstration

American Rail Association Studies Safety

Northern California and Southern Oregon will be the proving ground of the most extensive test of air brakes in the history of transportation, according to Harley A. Johnson, general manager of the Chicago Rapid Transit Company (elevated lines,) who made his report on safety appliances yesterday at the second day meeting of the mechanical division of the American Railway Association tenth annual convention at the Alexandria.

HARLEY A. JOHNSON

"The test will be under way August 1 and will cost more than $1,000,000," said Mr. Johnson. "Already $1,000,000 has been spent in research work begun in December, 1924, at the laboratories of Purdue University, La Fayette, Ind., and it will take at least one more year to complete the tests and arrive at a conclusion which should take care of the requirements of railroads for the next twenty years in the adaptation of air brakes in freight transportation.

EQUIPMENT PURCHASED

"After an exhaustive survey of all railroads in America and Canada, the association selected the 260 miles of the Southern Pacific Railroad between Hornbrook, Cal., and Eugene, Or., as being best adapted for the tryout. The American Railway Association has purchased outright the equipment which will be used in making the tests and will lease the freight cars to be used both loaded and empty in test trains of 150 cars, making a train one and one-half miles long.

"The Interstate Commerce Commission is vitally interested and will have from two to five representatives present at all times while the tests are being made.

METHOD OF TESTS

"The method of the tests will be as follows: Fifty car trains, representing fast freight, will be subjected to every actual working condition on three types of grades and the same research will apply to 100-car trains and 150-car trains.

"The result of these tests should make for maximum safety and minimum loss or damage to freight in transit as the result of slack bunching, sudden stops or jolting. It is the aim of the American Railway Association that this nation shall lead the world in efficiency and safety of railroad transportation."

Mr. Johnson is director of research in charge of the power brake investigation for the association and, incidentally, has been with the elevated lines of Chicago for twenty-four years.

YESTERDAY'S SPEAKERS

W. J. Patterson, assistant director of the Bureau of Safety of the Interstate Commerce Commission was present yesterday when Mr. Johnson submitted his report and will proceed to Eugene, Or. to witness the tests. "This is to be the most comprehensive undertaking in the history of rail transportation and reflects credit on American endeavors toward safety," he said.

W. J. PATTERSON

Addresses were given by M. J. Gormley, chairman of the car-service division and by Charles Dillon, vice-president and managing editor of transportation of the association, at the morning session.

The former discussed capital improvements made by the railroads during the last five years, aggregating a total expenditure of $836,000,000 and tied this into a consideration of transportation expense with particular attention to the earning capacity of freight cars per mile.

Mr. Dillon discussed the relations between the railroads and the public, emphasizing that public relations is a topic fully as important as mechanical research in railroad transportation. He pointed out that "the railroads employ 387,000 people, with 14,000 locomotives, 12,000 passenger cars, 540,000 freight cars and other railway facilities to the total value of $5,800,000,000."

Today will be playtime for the delegates to the convention. There will be no business session and the day has been set aside for a trip to Catalina Island. The Union Pacific Railroad Company has donated its band to furnish music for the voyage.

Yesterday 335 members and relatives of the association visited Mt. Lowe.

Mrs. Caris Given Divorce Decree

Mrs. Floris Caris was granted a divorce yesterday by Superior Judge Westover from V. H. Caris, a civil engineer. Mrs. Caris was given a decree and $75 a month alimony.

Mrs. Caris, represented by Attorney R. M. Trezevant, told the court that her husband struck her and that later, when she sent her dress to be cleaned of the blood spots on it, he complained bitterly about paying the bill.

PROTESTS TO BE HEARD

Today the Council is scheduled to take up protests against the improvement of Wendell Place between Shields Drive and MacArthur avenue, the acquisition of the proposed Reseda park and setback lines on Fair avenue between Roscoe Boulevard and Strathern street and on Blackburn avenue between Orlando avenue and La Cienega Boulevard.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Of more than usual interest to society of the Southland is the wedding of yesterday afternoon in New York City, when at 4:30 o'clock in the Church of the Resurrection Miss Catherine Ware, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Edward James Ware of New York City, became the bride of Edward Everett Robbins, Jr., of Cleveland, son of Mrs. Edward Everett Robbins of Washington, D. C., a reception and wedding dinner at Sherry's following.

Although she was born and brought up in New York, Miss Ware has made her home in Los Angeles for the past nine years. She was vice-president of the Pasadena Junior League but resigned this season on account of her approaching marriage, as she has been in New York most of the last winter.

She also was vice-president and secretary of the Spinsters, from which, of course, she automatically is dropped by reason of her marriage. Assisting as attendants at the ceremony were Mrs. W. Barlow Ware, Mrs. Sturtevant Erdman and her cousins, Mrs. John Bonner Semple, Jr., of Sewickley, Pa. (Harriet Cheeseman of Pasadena,) and Mrs. Winslow Kane. Dr. Ware gave his sister in marriage, and her aunt, Mrs. Jane Cheeseman of Pasadena, went east with her for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Robbins are sailing tonight aboard the S.S. Olympia for a six months' tour of Europe and after their return will make their home in Cleveland.

Mrs. Robbins is a niece of Dr. Walter Jarvis Barlow of Sierra Madre and Los Angeles, and has a host of friends here who will be much interested in the wedding.

Wedding Data

Miss Elizabeth McArthur, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William T. McArthur of 2025 South Western avenue, has chosen July 24 for her marriage to Henry Duque, the ceremony to be a quiet home affair with only relatives and a few close friends.

Miss McArthur has chosen her sister, Miss Mary McArthur, to assist as maid of honor at the ceremony, the other attendants including Miss Anna Katherine Flint, Mrs. Artemus Dwight Lamb (Eleanor Wailes,) Miss Alice McReynolds, Miss Jane Hall of Santa Barbara, Miss Catherine Vail, Miss Louise Macy, Mrs. Rea Callender (Barbara Burke) and Mrs. Edward Dryden Thompson (Luigina Carpenter,) while Ernest Duque will serve his brother as best man and Roy Bushee, Roger Bixby Smith, Edwin Harback, George Wigmore, John Winfield Winnett, Archie McCall, Frank Ely and McClure Kelly of San Francisco will usher.

Many lovely affairs are being given in honor of this attractive bride-elect, among them being the dinner with which Mrs. Oscar Lawler and her son, Charles Lawler, are entertaining in the gardens of the home of the former in Beverly Hills Tuesday evening, while over the week-end of July 6-7 Miss Alice McReynolds and Miss Catherine Vail are having a house party at the home of the latter in Santa Barbara. At both of these affairs Mr. Duque is sharing the honors with his fiancee.

Penry-Houlgate

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Curl Penry of 1134 West Seventeenth street announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Penry, to Carroll Everett Houlgate, the ceremony taking place last evening in Redondo Methodist Church.

Many lovely prenuptial affairs were given in honor of this attractive bride, a swim, breakfast and shower being given in her honor last Thursday at the Castellamarre Inn with Miss Rose Marie Racine as hostess, the guests including Kappa Delta Sorority sisters of the honor guest and hostess. A green color motif was charmingly carried out in the decorations and appointments of the breakfast tables.

Welcome Home

Honoring her daughter, Miss Thelma Hardwick, who for the past two years has made her home in New York City, Mrs. Charles Buchanan entertained Tuesday afternoon with a welcome home luncheon and bridge at her home in San Pedro, forty guests being bidden. The decorations were charmingly carried out with summer flowers in pastel shades and a profusion of ferns and the guests included old-time friends of the honoree, who will accompany her family on a summer's outing at their cabin at Idylwild, and after August 1 is returning to New York, dividing her time between here and Idylwild during her stay in Southern California.

Colton-Lavenson

The marriage of Miss Rosalind Brown Colton, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walter Colton, to George Lavenson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lavenson of San Francisco, was solemnized yesterday, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's parents, 356 South St. Andrews Place, at high noon.

The bride, who was unattended, was charming in a gown of white satin with rope of pearls in her hair, and she carried an arm shower of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

A wedding dinner followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Lavenson left for their honeymoon. They will come to Los Angeles August 1 to make their permanent home.

Lovely Affair

Misses Mabel and Marjorie Reed, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reed of 509 North June street, were hostesses recently at a bridge luncheon at the Los Angeles Tennis Club. Both are members of the Chi Omega Sorority at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Miss Mabel Reed was graduated from University of California at Los Angeles with honors in English the 14th inst. CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

GOOSEBERRY PIE

Take four cupfuls of gooseberries, put them in a saucepan, adding two or three tablespoonfuls of water and allow to cook until soft; when cool, beat the yolks of three eggs with two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and a cupful and one-half of sugar, stir into the cooked gooseberries, pour into a pie plate that has been lined with paste, and bake in a hot oven, make a meringue of the whites of the eggs, cover the pie with this, place in a cool oven and brown.

TOMATO COCKTAIL

For each service, choose a firm ripe tomato of medium size, cut a slice from the stem end, scoop out the soft part, take one large cucumber, and grate it, add to it three finely-chopped green olives, a teaspoonful of onion juice, and a tablespoonful of chopped chicken meat, or flaked cold fish for each cucumber used, season with salt, a few grains of cayenne, and a few drops of tobasco sauce, place this mixture in the tomato shells, add two or three drops of tarragon vinegar, place on a lettuce leaf and garnish with potato chips.

MELBA CHEESE AND MUSTARD SANDWICH

Take slices of white bread and cut as thin as possible, place them on the broiling rack in the oven, have the flame as low as you can, and allow the bread to slowly toast, it should be very crisp, remove from the oven and cover the bread with a very thin layer of made mustard, sprinkle over this grated Parmesan cheese, or American cheese, to the depth of a quarter of an inch, place in a pan, put in the oven until the cheese is melted.

GRAPEFRUIT SHERBET

Soak one tablespoonful of gelatine in a fourth of a cupful of water for fifteen minutes, take three cupfuls of sugar and two cupfuls of water and boil for five minutes, then add the soaked gelatine, to the hot syrup, and stir until the gelatine is dissolved, allow to cool, peel six grapefruit, and remove all the white membrane from it, cut the pulp in small pieces and add to the syrup, place in a freezer and freeze.

PICNIC SALAD

Take an equal amount of romaine lettuce, watercress, tomatoes, and celery, peel, the tomatoes, and cut them in cubes, chop the celery fine, there should be one cupful, cut up a small bunch of water cress, and one head of romaine lettuce, mash the yolk of one hard-boiled egg, and add to it one tablespoonful of cream, one teaspoonful of mustard, a seasoning of salt and paprika, one-half a teaspoonful of sugar and a few grains of cayenne pepper, beat all together until perfectly smooth and pour over the salad. Mix well, when ready to serve, mound on lettuce leaves.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

THE LARD KETTLE

Did you ever try keeping your lard in a mason jar instead of a tin kettle? You will like it much better than the tin for it does not become rusty at the bottom and, therefore, have a slightly rancid taste unless used quickly and you can always see just how much lard you have at a glance.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-suckling, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

Lined Baskets for Babies Popular

Evidently my readers do not share my distaste for lined baby baskets, for several have sent in information on how to line them. One of the easiest suggestions to follow came from a former dietitian in a children's hospital, who followed the plan of folding a sheet into four parts and putting it in the basket first, with the mattress and sheets on top. Then the left-over edges of the sheet were laid back over the basket. This provided a nice, smooth side for the baby in case his fluttering hands should be banged against it, and necessitated only the removal of the mattress and blankets and the replacement of a sheet. Very useful, I think.

Directions for Lining

The following directions were sent in by Mrs. W. J. K. I found them a little confusing, but I'm printing them as she sent them.

"Perhaps the reason," she writes, "that you found the lining unsatisfactory was that the lining was difficult to remove, launder and replace. Our basket was used on a train trip and the lining removed once each week. It was used until baby was 6-months old and weighed fifteen pounds.

"The basket was rectangular, twenty-eight inches by fifteen, with two large handles over the top. I used two coats of ivory paint and one and one-half yards of thirty-six-inch material, with additional material to make a three-inch binding. The baskets, unpainted, (I made two) cost $1.50 and $200 each. The material used was pink lingette, with cream-colored washable silk crepe for binding.

"1. Fold material lengthwise and sew double seams (French seams) on both sides.

"2. Attach binding to top and make second row of stitching one-third inch from this to allow for the draw string.

"3. Cut slits for handles and finish these slits with a binding. If button holes are made on both sides of the slits the draw strings can be run through these and tied. Cut draw string in two or four lengths and run through these buttonholes. The French seams may be finished with a feather stitch for decoration.

"The lining is put in and the binding is allowed to fall over the edge. The draw strings are pulled up in order to fit basket snugly."

ANSWER

If I have this straight in my mind, sewing the two short seams of the material after folding lengthwise results in a canoe-shaped piece, which is edged with a contrasting binding, and this edge falls over the outside of the basket after the lining is laid on the inside. But what about the fullness in the bottom of the basket, shouldn't this be gathered in some way to fit the bottom of the basket? I prefer a larger basket, one of the regulation, square, clothes-basket size, as large as can be bought, and suggest in that case that two yards of material would probably be necessary.

Don't apply new paint over blistered paint without first scraping or burning off the surface until you have a smooth surface. Otherwise the new paint will blister just where the old did.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

Heat Exhaustion and Sunstroke

During the hot weather, many people die of heat exhaustion and sunstroke because they have not taken the proper precautions to make the changes in their diets and clothing, made necessary by the rise in temperature.

Heat prostration occurs when the body is unable to quickly adapt itself to a sudden increase in temperature. This occurs most frequently when the air is very humid or the clothing heavy enough to prevent a rapid evaporation of perspiration. By making sensible changes in our diet and clothing, we can avoid all of the unpleasantness of hot weather.

The danger of heat prostration is that it may occur even when one is not in the sun, especially when coming from a cool room into a warm atmosphere. The heat stroke, which is different from sunstroke, comes on slowly and leaves the surface of the body cool and the temperature sometimes subnormal. The individuals affected always have a sluggish circulation.

The best method of treating heat stroke or heat prostration is to place the individual upon a fruit fast a few days, with frequent tepid or warm shower baths, quite hot enemas, deep breathing exercises and dry friction rubs. The hot enemas sometimes bring about the quickest relief.

The sunstroke differs from heat exhaustion in that it is caused by a congestion of the blood to the head because of intense sun rays. Immediate unconsciousness is often produced by not wearing a hat while for a long time in the direct rays of the hot summer sun. Children, light complexioned people, and those under the influence of alcohol are especially susceptible. Death may occur almost immediately, and even where this does not occur, there are sometimes after effects, such as a partial paralysis of the brain or legs, fever and complete prostration.

Once a person has been affected by sunstroke he is especially susceptible to heat or the direct rays of the sun for a long time thereafter.

Because of the profound shock occurring in this disorder, one must use extreme care in the treatment. Ice packs to the neck will cool the blood and reduce the pressure in the brain. I do not recommend the ice-cold enemas usually given to lower the temperature, since I am of the opinion that it is more important to secure a thorough cleansing, and warm or slightly cool water is more valuable for this purpose. The cooling should be accompanied by sponging the skin with ice water and using cold shower baths.

One who is recovering from sunstroke must conserve his vitality by as much sleep and rest as possible.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Weaning the Baby

Question: Young mother asks: "Do you have a booklet explaining how to wean a baby? If not, where can I secure such instructions?"

Answer: I have written several articles on the subject of weaning and feeding the baby, and they will be sent to you upon receipt of your name and address. Comply with the mailing instructions printed with this column and I will be glad to forward these articles to you.

Catarrh

Q.: Mrs. J. H. writes: "I have catarrh very bad in nose, throat and ears, and am also bothered with indigestion. Would like to try the orange diet if I thought it would benefit me, but I am so very thin now that I am afraid to try it for fear of losing more weight. Would it help any to eliminate starches and sugars instead of taking the orange diet, or what would you advise?"

A.: Do not be afraid of getting thinner on the orange-juice fast, as it cannot hurt you in any way, but will surely bring rapid results in the cure of your catarrhal troubles. Afterward leave out starches and sugars for a period of several months if you wish to entirely drain your system of all excess catarrhal mucous.

Salad Dressing

Q.: Mrs. M. K. J. asks: "Which is the most wholesome salad dressing, mayonnaise or French dressing?"

A.: I do not recommend salad dressings of the ordinary kind which are made of oil and vinegar, or lemon. I have a special article on "Salad Dressings," which I will be glad to forward upon receipt of a stamped self-addressed envelope. In the meantime use a little olive oil, or a dressing made of peanut butter and milk.

Nose Always Red

Q.: S. K. G. asks: "Will you please tell me what I can do for my nose, as no matter how much cream or powder I put on it, it is always as red as a beet."

A.: A red nose is an evidence of continued intoxication, either from the over-use of alcoholic stimulants or from dietetic errors, which produce autointoxication. The latter is the most common cause of red noses, and even our most sincere prohibitionists often carry around a red, shiny nose that, in the old days, we used to think was acquired only by the "town drunkard."

BRIEF THOUGHTS

Velvet can be worked on more accurately if pinned on the wrong side.

A lump of orris root in the boiler on wash day will give a delicate fragrance to the clothes.

Wash the pantry shelves with a hot solution of alum water, a preventive against ants and roaches.

Pour the coffee drains down the sink. They will clear the pipes of grease and keep them in good condition.

Printed Linoleum.

Printed linoleum is very much less expensive than inlaid, therefore is used more. It will wear as well as inlaid if proper care is taken of it. It should be given two coats of waterproof varnish as soon as laid, each coat being allowed to dry for twelve hours before the next coat is applied. Two coats will not be needed a second time but one coat should be applied once a year to insure service.

…to all-day kinder-… …s thrived …wo weeks …and by the time it was over she was a wreck. She had circles under her eyes and there wasn't a bit of color in her face. When she went back to school I breathed a sigh of relief. After three days of it she was her old self again."

"It sounds as if we had led Anne a hectic life at home, but as a matter of fact, we were extremely careful to observe her routine. We saw to it that she got her customary sleep and rest and that she ate quietly.

"But you see, we live in a small apartment and Anne loves sociability with grown-ups better than anything else in the world. I have watched her closely and I know that as long as she can be with her father and me she tries to keep up with the pace of our conversation and our doings. It's no wonder she is exhausted."

Perhaps your child, too, gets overtired from too much grown-up society. Perhaps he, too, is nervously exhausted by the constant stimulation of adult ideas and adult activities.

If home affords your child no retreat from the preoccupations of his elders it is worth while making an effort to provide him an environment more nearly scaled to his needs.

During the winter months send him to kindergarten. In summer let him join a summer play group in the park. If there is no such group, you and your neighbors can organize one of your own. For youngsters of school age there are many fine summer camps which offer an almost ideal solution for the problem of too much grown-up society.

Botanic Membership

In honor of Mrs. Charles F. Gray, the Presidents Association has taken a membership in the California Botanic Garden.

Mrs. Gray is retiring from the presidency of the association after four years of brilliant leadership, her grasp of civic affairs, national and local, having been of great value to the exclusive group. In addition to assuming an active interest in the American Citizenship Department of the District Federation of Woman's Clubs, however, Mrs. Gray will remain on the board of directors.

Election of officers in the association will take place at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the Hotel Figueroa.

Birthday Luncheon

The Philanthropy and Civics Club closes its season today with its birthday luncheon and installation of officers for the coming year.

Under the presidency of Mrs. Berta Bonhaus, who has held the office for two successive years, the membership has nearly doubled, and during the season just closing several life memberships have been received, while from the financial standpoint the club also has been highly successful.

Today's program will be given by the club's choir under the direction of Hugo Kirchhofer. Ruth B. Payette will be the pianist and will sing two numbers.

The new officers include Mrs. Nellie Dean Graham, president; Mrs. E. C. Pyle, first vice-president; Mrs. Alfred W. Hare, second vice-president; Mrs. William K. The chief topic for discussion at this session will be the completion of plans for an annual State convention of the Federated Business and Professional Women's Clubs of California, which will be conducted this year in Pasadena, September 5, 6 and 7. This congress of women will attract delegations and members from all parts of California.

To Meet Artists

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Owen Shuey of the Los Angeles Opera and Fine Arts Club, for a reception at which Mrs. Mary Carr Moore and Mrs. Carolyn B. Eager will be honored guests. The affair will be an event of the 30th inst., from 3 to 7 p.m. at 12915 Venice Boulevard.

Garden Party

The home of Mrs. L. D. Thomas, 2934 South La Brea avenue, will be the setting at 2 p.m. today for a garden card party to be given by the West Adams Women's Club. An instructor will be present to teach beginners in bridge, dainty refreshments will be served and prizes awarded.

Annual Jinks

"Come and see the fashions. Take a peep into the future. Have your palm read, your fortune told. Go fishing with the juniors. Play bridge for prizes."

Thus read invitations sent out by the Republican Study Club of Los Angeles for its only social affair of the season, an annual jinks to be given tomorrow at the Polly Anna Tea Room, 2228 West Seventh street. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Clara Lane.

Europe Knows Just One State

Los Angeles and Hollywood are the most widely known American cities to Europeans and California is the only State known to them, Rowland V. Lee, Paramount director, asserted yesterday following his return from a three months' tour abroad.

With Mrs. Lee, he revisited the trenches of France where he had spent eight months during the war as a second lieutenant of the One Hundred and Thirty-second Infantry. Lee reports that England, where he studied the talking-picture situation, is tremendously interested in dialogue film.

"Critics make only one demand, that stage English be spoken by players who do not carry distinct character parts," he said.

WOMEN WILL PLANT TREE THIS MORNING

Members of the Women's Breakfast Club will plant the first tree of a "Friendship grove" at the club grounds on Riverside Drive this morning. More than 500 women are expected to participate in the ceremony, according to Mrs. Hascel Freeman, president. The actual planting will be done by George Wellington, founder of the Mission Friendship Gardens on Mt. Washington. He will be assisted by Gabriel Ravenelle, artist. Among the speakers will be H. M. Davis, United States forester; George Barnes and Mrs. Erwin P. Werner. Guests of honor will include Alice Williamson and Helen Luken Gaut, authoresses; Alice Calhoun and a group of motion-picture stars, Mrs. May Sumay Enderly and Amelia Johnson.

SWEDISH FESTIVAL PLANNED SATURDAY

Arrangements are in charge of the Swedish Central Committee of which G. Echdahl is chairman. Dr. Albin Peterson is chairman of the program committee. The chief speaker is to be Frithjof Werenskjold, writer and lecturer. The Swedish glee club and the Vasa Singing Society will be assisted by a chorus of singers from the Swedish churches. Mme. Renay Shryock is to be the soloist, accompanied by Paul Hultman, eastern pianist. Folk dances by children in picturesque costumes will be a feature. Bands with trombone and cornet duos are on the program. Linnea Erickson has been chosen as queen. Pearl Pierson is to represent Svea and Florence Sugustin, Columbia. There is to be a series of races and field events. About 5000 persons are expected.

WITHOUT WARNING

Yet one simple precaution would perhaps have prevented it. Everyone past 40 should heed this important medical advice.

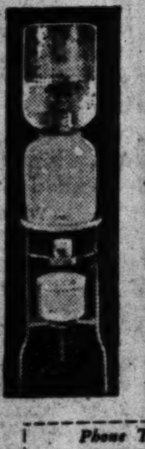
WHY is the turning point of health, in average life, at 40? What measures can be taken to lengthen life's most important span, the years past 40?

The Medical Profession has come to this important conclusion: One of the most prevalent causes of health breakdown is kidney ailment. Over half of men and women past 40, unknowingly, are so afflicted. Caused, it says, by overwork of these vital organs.

75% of waste matter from the body is excreted by kidneys, much in too concentrated form. Breakdown of tissue is inevitable. Kidneys become clogged, throwing back into the system poisons which should be eliminated.

Medical authorities now urge a simple preventative measure. It is this: Drink six glasses of a pure, mineral-free water each day.

Here it dilutes poisonous waste, flushes and washes it away, easing the burden on kidneys. Then, mineral-free, it leaves no deposit of minerals in kidneys, thus preventing added congestion.



Thus thousands are now drinking Puritas because it is mineral-free; it is water in its purest form. Scientifically distilled and aerated, all minerals and impurities are removed. You'll note, with your first taste of Puritas, a flavor entirely different from other waters, which you will increasingly enjoy.

CHINA'S FUTURE CALLED BRIGHT

Will be Southland's Best Buyer, Speaker Says

City Club Hears Dr. Pettus, Peking School Head

California Praised Over Study of Orient

Predicting that China, within the next decade, will be the heaviest buyer of Southern California products, Dr. William B. Pettus, head of the Language School at Peking, told members of the City Club yesterday that China's economic troubles will end when the central government becomes more firmly established, making possible greater production and better transportation by the introduction of machinery.

"China's problem is not overpopulation, for many European countries are more densely populated," said Dr. Pettus. "Her greatest problem is underproduction, but that problem can and will be solved."

CALIFORNIA PRAISED

"I have been asked if the western world will succeed in civilizing China," said the speaker. "No, for they have beaten us to it. The Chinese lived in marble houses, dressed in silks and wrote philosophy when our ancestors dwelt in caves and trembled at the thunder and lightning. The Chinese always have been a democratic people in spirit and, although living under a theoretical absolute monarchy, nine-tenths of the functions of their government has been carried on by families, guilds and villages. The need now seems to be for them to develop their community institutions in a manner that will enable them to function in a national way. Their problem is to limit their democracy and develop a more centralized government."

Discussing the attitude of Californians toward China, Dr. Pettus said that he finds more understanding of and sympathy for China in this State than in any other State in the Union, in spite of rumors to the contrary.

WHAT U. C. IS DOING

"The University of California at Berkeley is doing more than any other institution in America to teach our young people the knowledge of China and the Near West," said the speaker. "Our universities are hardly worthy of the name unless they tell their students the story of the civilizations of the Orient, as they now emphasize the history of Europe."

While admitting that 70 per cent of the Chinese people are illiterate, Dr. Pettus said that every Chinaman is well versed in history, religion and philosophy and that this culture is made possible through the drama, China's most efficient and broadest method of education.

The school of which Dr. Pettus is president is the one in which American diplomatic, military, commercial and cultural representatives are trained in the knowledge of the Chinese language, history and customs. In his address, Dr. Pettus commended the plan proposed by several representative Californians to establish a foundation in this State which shall make possible the adoption of the North China Union Language School and the development of fraternal relations between institutions of learning in California and the adopted institution in China.

Berlin Flyer in Tiny Plane Leaves Today

Baron Frederick Von Koenig Warthausen, 23-year-old German flyer who is on his way around the world on an aerial pleasure trip, will take off from Grand Central Air Terminal this morning for San Diego, en route to his home near Berlin.

The young Berlin University student arrived here in his tiny monoplane last week and has visited points of interest here before resuming his odd trip.

A Siamese kitten which the baron picked up in Siam will be the flyer's only passenger. The German is making the 'round-the-world tour with a twenty horsepower motor, said to be smallest in use, on the nose of his ship. His expenses are being paid from a $2500 prize received from President Von Hindenberg last winter for making the outstanding sporting flight of the year in Germany.

Fierce Jaguars Bagged by Young Sportswomen

Distinction of being the only sportswomen to have bagged a jaguar, Central America's giant cat, is asserted by Mrs. Carmen C. Vilanova and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Santiago Vilanova, who arrived yesterday from the Nicaraguan jungles aboard the Panama Mail liner Venezuela.

The two young women, prominent in Guatemalan society, spent several months in the jungles back of the Gulf of Fonseca in search of jaguars, which they characterize as the wildest and most ferocious member of the leopard family. Accompanied by three natives and a pack of dogs, each succeeded in shooting one of the big cats.

The Nicaraguan government is making a determined effort, they said, to wipe out jaguars, which frequently raid outlying settlements.

UNSTEADY DRIVING BRINGS $200 FINE

David M. Finlay, 25 years of age, was found guilty in a non-jury trial before Superior Judge Doran yesterday. He was given a fine of $200, which was suspended. According to evidence introduced at the trial, the young man was arrested at Fairfax avenue and Santa Monica Boulevard when he was driving in an erratic manner. A sobriety test at the Receiving Hospital revealed that he had been drinking but he was pronounced not greatly intoxicated by physicians, it was brought out at the trial.

The New in Stores & Homes

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

Next to "donters" come the "what fors" as paralyzers of progress.

Of course you know the "donters," every family has them. Whatever some ambitious person speaks of undertaking they are told "don't try it." But the "what-fors" are quite as discouraging. Whatever may be planned it is met with a "what for?" and by the time one has explained and expatiated, the reasons for wishing to do or to go, discouragement has set in, and the undertaking does not seem worth while. The best way is to make up your mind, say nothing and start on your way, dodging between, above or below the impedimenters.

Graduated Gifts

The range of gifting to the girl graduate has become quite as broad as that for brides, since everything—almost—has found a way of being beautiful, lately. Of course, personal gifts, such as fans, necklaces of pearl, either say-so or real, handkerchiefs and gloves—any or all to be worn on the eventful evening, long have been usual, but need not for that reason be "mere." But since personality in the surroundings has become the rule, even in most simple of homes, objects of adornment and for use, in the girls' room also make excellent graduation gifts. Many such may, eventually, find their way toward the hope chest, perhaps. "Occasional" chairs, tables, sewing cabinets, even dressing-tables and mirrors, are certain of welcome in the girl's room. Either of classical design and in one of the everlastingly lovely hard woods, or in the "paint-your-own" finish, such objects are of real use as well as beauty.

Stationery for Vacation

Writing cabinets for use on vacation trips, never were more inviting than at present. Compact and easily packed in the smallest space, these cabinets are fitted with writing paper, envelopes and often with all the paraphernalia for correspondence—pencils, ink pens and a place for stamps, as well as for sealing wax. A nice little gift to oneself or to others.

Wise and Unwise

There is a wise and an unwise use of sun-tan, as the best of physicians tell us. While the rays of the sun are beneficial, sometimes they may prove too ardent for certain persons. Especially for those in a run-down condition, too long exposure to the sun, may cause fatigue or even worse. The same is true of the small child. Caution is the watchword, here. Do not overdo the sun vogue. Enough is plenty, even in this beneficial treatment.

Aunt Jane's Way

Aunt Jane, who is nothing if not thoughtful of all possible danger to the family, never allows us to place heavy pictures or other objects above the beds. Angela, inclined to her own way of doing everything, endeavored to violate this rule, but was straightway admonished. "What's the idea?" she asked, pointedly. "Suppose," replied Aunt Jane, "that the house were to have a shaking such as we have known to occur in the past, down would come the heavy mirror or other object and injury would scarcely be avoided." Do you suppose Aunt Jane was thinking of earthquakes? However, she suggested some very unweighty objects to adorn the space above Angela's bed, and inventive girl that Angela is, she installed a row of grimacing Chinese papier mache masques. These are quite enlivening—and far better than her former objects of adornment. They cause a smile upon awakening; so Angela declares. At least they are colorful and we are told that it is inspiring to have color near by, especially upon awakening.

The How of Rings

With the insistent vogue of costume jewelry, there is danger to hands! Danger that rings of unbecoming color will be chosen; danger that too many and inappropriate rings will be worn by the unwary. There is as much in the choice of the right rings in semi—or flat gems, as in the real. First, the color most becoming to the hand should be chosen if possible. Dark stones are best suited to the present-time sun-tanned hands; and in fact, few are the hands fitted to don such stones as turquoise, or other delicate tints. Often, if you will notice the wrong ring presents the hand as unhandsomely as the wrong hat does for the complexion.

A Bow to Bows

Fashion, in an endeavor to slip over on us an entirely new, or a revived, feminine form, has taken to the bow, as a means of killing off—aboriginal means! It is Paris predicted that we are to take on the curves of our forefathers—and that we are to become the victims of the waist-line and the longer skirt. And, in order to do this—to foist upon an unsuspecting femininity—bows are placed wherever concealment is necessary, at waist lines, at neck lines and sometimes all down the front of the dress.

Godets

Our old friend, the godet, has taken a new way of endearing itself to skirts. Pleated godets are the latest form of distension to skirts which are wearied of being straight line. The effect is good, and the make-over possibilities of this pliase godet are beyond reckoning.

SAWTELLE BUS PERMITS GIVEN

Service Extension Allowed by Utilities Board

Purchase of Other Lines Also to be Made

Westwood and University Area Affected

Permission for the Bay Cities Transit Company to make extensions of its motor coach service in the Brentwood, Sawtelle, Westwood and University districts of Los Angeles, and to purchase the bus lines now being operated in the Sawtelle district by A. W. Peterson, N. Woodward and others, was approved yesterday by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation.

Four routes to be served follow: Starting at Carmelina and Montana avenues, thence over Carmelina to Darlington avenue, to San Vicente Boulevard, to Wilshire Boulevard to Sawtelle Boulevard, to Pico Boulevard, to Bundy Drive, to La Grange avenue to Sawtelle avenue and return. This is a considerable change in the present routing.

Starting at Sawtelle Boulevard and Santa Monica over Sawtelle Boulevard, to La Grange avenue, to Sepulveda Boulevard, to Mississippi avenue, to Prosser avenue, to Lauriston avenue, to Kerwood avenue, to Keswick avenue, to Fox Hills Drive, to Pico Boulevard, along Pico to West Boulevard, connecting with the Los Angeles Railway cars at Pico and Rimpau streets and return over the same route. This will provide a new service.

Starting from the entrance of the University of California at Los Angeles on Hilgard avenue, thence over Hilgard to Le Iconte avenue, to Westwood Boulevard, to Pico Boulevard, to Manning avenue, to Motor Drive to Washington Boulevard and return. This will be through territory not now served by any operator.

Starting at Sawtelle Boulevard and Santa Monica Boulevard, over the latter to Sepulveda Boulevard, to Wilshire Boulevard, to Westwood Boulevard, to Le Iconte avenue, to Hilgard avenue, returning same route. It was recommended that this line, where it will be a part of the general transportation scheme, should not be put into operation until the university is in full use.

The board recommended that the applicant should apply for service to replace that between Santa Monica Boulevard and the tubercular hospital.

EX-DEPUTIES FLAY FITTS IN APPEALS

Charges that Dist.-Atty. Fitts has filled his office with "political carpet-baggers" and that he used his service disabilities to get votes enlivened the hearing of the Civil Service Commission yesterday, when four deputies dismissed by Fitts shortly after he took office appeared to argue their appeals for reinstatement.

Neither Dist.-Atty. Fitts nor any of his deputies were present at the hearing of the commission, but Deputy County Counsel McKesson was present at the request of A. C. Malone, president of the commission, to advise the members.

The principal address was made by Edgar T. Fee, one of the dismissed men, who pointed out that he had been in the District Attorney's office for ten years.

"The Supreme Court will tel you that the District Attorney has exceeded his authority in dismissing us," said Fee. "And 40,000 civil service workers in the county are looking with intense interest to you gentlemen for a decision that will save the civil service from exploitation by political greed."

Frank Ey, another of the former deputies, stated that of the four dismissed, three were war veterans, and that in his position had been placed a man who "hid behind his wife's skirts during the World War."

W. B. Heinicke, also an appellant, declared that he was "injured" by being dismissed "so soon after a District Attorney had been tried for bribery," and declared it was unjust to brand him as inefficient. Thomas F. Hart, the fourth ex-deputy, will speak at a future session of the commission. No decision will be made for two weeks, according to President Malone.

MISS PICKFORD ON STAND

Star Argues Cleverly Before Planning Commission Against Permit for Cement Plant

The case opposing a permit to the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company to operate a cement quarry and rock crusher in the Santa Monica Mountains was shrewdly argued by Mary Pickford last night at a hearing before the City Planning Commission in the City Hall. Miss Pickford appeared before the commission in response to a subpoena which had been issued at the request of Rollin McNitt, attorney for the company.

McNitt had stated he wished to cross-examine the actress in regard to a letter she had written last March protesting against the granting of the permit and when she took the stand he endeavored to demonstrate that she knew little about the facts of the controversy. Early in his questioning, therefore, McNitt asked Miss Pickford whether she wrote the protest letter herself.

DANGEROUS PRECEDENT

Miss Pickford replied that she had written the letter herself and then proceeded to demonstrate that she was very well acquainted with the points at issue by cleverly amplifying the arguments she had made in the letter. She testified that she is the owner of two large tracts of land in the neighborhood of the projected quarry.

The lawyer for the Bell interests had her admit that the property is not in the immediate vicinity of the quarry site, and that admission was seized upon by Miss Pickford as an opportunity to make a short but forceful address upon the proper interest of the whole community in the question. She argued that the enforcement of the zoning laws is the best possible guarantee of the future development of Los Angeles along its present progressive lines.

It is not only because she has property in the neighborhood that she is opposed to the cement quarry, she added, but because she regards the granting of the present permit as a dangerous precedent which could be used by others in a progressive destruction of property values.

ARTISTIC PLANT

Some individuals might have to suffer by the strict application of the zoning restrictions, she said pointedly, but from the standpoint of the welfare of the whole community such sacrifices are necessary.

The various promises made by the Bell interests as guarantees against the erection of an unsightly structure and of the absence of either noise or dust from the quarrying and crushing operations were recited to Miss Pickford by McNitt and she said she had heard of all these promises.

"I don't doubt," she said ironically, "that artistically it will be the last word in cement plants, with mission bells and everything else."

BELL CROSS-EXAMINED

The remainder of the hearing was devoted to cross-examination of Bell by Attorneys Smiley and Verge for the protestants. Verge, who represents Harry M. Sexton, the owner of a large tract of land only a little more than a mile from the quarry site, tried in vain to get Bell to admit that the operation of the quarry and rock crusher would depreciate land values for several miles around.

Bell did admit the general thesis that the value of all the property in the Santa Monica Mountain region depends on the enforcement of the zoning ordinance, but insisted that his is a special case, made so by the fact that all the property near enough to the site to be harmed by the plant is owned by himself.

Bell was asked whether he would approve of an application of a rock quarry in the vicinity of Bel-Air. He would not object to it, he replied, if the site were as far away from his subdivision as the proposed quarry in the Santa Ynez Canyon will be from the nearest neighboring properties.

MAKING OF WILL LAID TO FRENZY

Mrs. Hemsworth Declared to Have Been Unbalanced When She Named Church

Mrs. Mary E. Hemsworth was in a state of religious frenzy when she made her will leaving property worth $40,000 to the Church of the Nazarene, it was testified in Superior Judge McLucas's court yesterday, where a suit to set aside Mrs. Hemsworth's will is in progress.

Relatives of Mrs. Hemsworth are plaintiffs, including Howard and Elizabeth Elliott, Mary Hardison, Gertrude Coffield and Loretta Wissenberg. They assert that officers of the church influenced Mrs. Hemsworth wrongfully, telling her they did not love her, and asking that she give the church everything. She also was mentally incompetent, it was testified.

The will left the one nephew and four sisters $5 each, and the church described real estate to the general board of the Nazarene Church. Mrs. Martha J. Smoot, 150 West Thirty-second street, was given the furniture in Mrs. Hemsworth's home, 4917 Maplewood avenue.

ACCIDENT CLAIM REFERRED

A fall in a hole in the sidewalk on Broadway was the basis for a claim of $5000 against the city, filed with the Council yesterday by Maria T. Evans. The date of the accident was December 24, 1928. The claim was referred to the City Attorney.

GIGANTIC BLAST AIDS DAM WORK

Ninety Tons of Powder Used at San Gabriel

Side of Canyon Seems Molten Before Explosive

Engineering Feat Figured to Exact Result

Ninety tons of black powder exploded with a muffled roar under 300,000 tons of decomposed rock overburden on the site of the east abutment of the $25,000,000 San Gabriel Dam at 6 p.m. yesterday. The rocky side of the canyon heaved convulsively and shook itself into ripples, as though its soil, solid for ages, was suddenly melted into fluid. Smoke and dust arose in a low cloud, gilded by the sun's twilight rays that filtered in between the steep walls of the San Gabriel Canyon.

And a solid hill, 400 feet wide and 400 feet above the floor of the canyon, was ready for the steel teeth of electric shovels.

EXPERTS SET BLAST

Explosive experts for the contractors and the county worked for two months preparing the 300 charges of black powder, used instead of dynamite, because its slower rate of combustion does not shatter the rock foundation. There were sixteen large tunnels or "coyote holes" drilled in the canyon walls. From these holes 150 cross-tunnels penetrated, and engineers calculated the weight of rock and soil above each tunnel. Diamond-drill borings guided the placing of the powder so there would be no seams opened in the granite upon which 425 feet of concrete will rest.

WATER ALSO USED

During the last sixty days more than 300,000 yards, or 600,000 tons, of material have been moved from the west abutment site. Streams of water under 200 pounds pressure are directed against the mass, washing it down to where the electric shovels can toss it, four tons at a scoop, into the waiting dump cars.

Work on the San Gabriel Dam started last February, and has proceeded a little faster than schedule, according to E. C. Eaton, engineer for the Los Angeles county flood-control district, who is in charge. By March, 1930, Engineer Eaton estimates, pouring of concrete will begin.

"At all points where foundation rock has been uncovered it has proved to be sound and of the finest quality," said Mr. Eaton. "Every prediction regarding the site made by our geologists, who drilled 500 cores, has been fulfilled. There is no obstacle in sight to hinder the contemplated progress of the work."

Organist Finds Satisfaction in Only One Radio

Milton Charles, concert organist, yesterday was discovered passing the time between his stage appearances by listening to organ music which he received on the new Sparton Equasonne Model 301. He explained that his approval of the Sparton was due to its ability to meet a musician's exacting demands for tone quality.

MILTON CHARLES

An appeal to the taste of all artists in the Sparton's looks as well as its tone was admitted by Walter M. Fagan, president of Pacific Wholesale, Inc., Southern California distributors of the Sparton Equasonne Radio. The black walnut cabinet is Italian Renaissance, with the wood carving designs being reminders of ancient Greek and Roman arts. Mr. Fagan asserted that with only 9,000,000 radio sets in the 28,000,000 homes of this country, the industry is far from the saturation point.

MAP GIVEN APPROVAL

Council yesterday adopted a report of the Street Opening and Widening Committee recommending the approval of the assessment district map for the opening and improving of Ninety-fifth street between Wilmington and Graham avenues.

Witness for Company Gives Promoter Credit for Discovery of Elwood Field

While oil companies contesting the $2,500,000 suit for damages and accounting brought by Warren K. Deuel, oil promoter, in his fight for a share of profits derived from the Elwood Field near Santa Barbara, admit he was responsible for them having the field they will not say his agreement with them was valid on July 26, 1928, the date the first well came in.

At the hearing, one of the most important of its kind ever tried in California courts, L. M. Lockhart of the Rio Grande Oil Company, one of the defendants, yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich, gave Deuel credit for his company having the field.

Lockhart's statement was made during cross-examination by Attorney Kemper Campbell, one of the attorneys representing Deuel.

"I made some remark there," Lockhart answered, "either to Deuel, or I believe in Deuel's presence and in the presence of others there, that through him, or it was through his having called the property to our attention, or some such thing, that we were there, or that we had the field."

Deuel, who contends he promoted the field, asserts he had an agreement with the Rio Grande Oil Company and the Barnsdale Oil Company to exploit 1000 acres in the field, that he, Deuel, was to get 100 acres outright for himself and the companies 300 acres. As to the rest of the acreage they were to share half and half in leases, sale of the land, or oil production. He contends the companies dug a well and, after striking pay sand, held back on him telling him they were of the belief the well would never produce and would probably be abandoned. Deuel further asserts the defendants obtained a release agreement from him for $2500; that after it was signed, they brought the well in. He asks that the release agreement be set aside, that the court order an accounting of the profits made from the land involved and that he further be allowed damages in the sum of $2,500,000.

Lockhart declared the company's hopes for a producing well were at low ebb when they paid Deuel his $2500 for his release.

The hearing will continue today.

HARBOR MAPPING ORDERED

Harbor Engineer Nicholson yesterday was authorized by the harbor board to proceed with preparation of city-owned water-front property maps showing all city-owned property in the harbor district under jurisdiction of the harbor board, in form of subdivision maps, at a cost of $1150.

SUPERVISORS WILL RIDE IN BLIMP TODAY

Major Airport Site to be Inspected from Air by Board Members

Members of the Board of Supervisors will take to the air this morning aboard the Goodyear blimp, Volunteer, from Ross Field for their second aerial inspection of the proposed Los Angeles county major airport near El Monte.

The five board members are to be guests of the Foothill Breakfast Club at 8:30 a.m. and then board the Volunteer. Lieuts. Kar. Lange and Bud Campbell, pilots of the Volunteer, plan to cruise slowly over the proposed 968-acre airport site at the intersection of Peck Road and the Pacific Electric tracks, one mile east of El Monte.

The Volunteer will have an escort airplane, a new seven-passenger Fairchild Aerial Surveys cabin plane piloted by Leon T. Eliel. Members of the Breakfast Club will be aboard the Fairchild, it was stated by Harry A. Schenck, civil engineer, who presented a report on the El Monte site to the Supervisors last March.

Since their first inspection of the site, the Supervisors have had the leasing or purchase of the field under advisement. The second inspection is being made in the blimp so that members of the board can come closer to the ground and cruise slower than was possible on their first trip, made by airplane.

City Attorney to Open Office

City Attorney Stephens will form a partnership with Assistant City Attorney Green for the general practice of law, under the name of Stephens & Green, on and after July 1, he stated yesterday.

The offices will be at 709 Rowan Building, Fifth and Spring streets.

Mr. Stephens will leave the office of City Attorney after having been in that position for more than ten years. During that time he has established a nation-wide reputation for the cases he has fought through the courts to the United States Supreme Court, notably the Los Angeles zoning ordinance, the Plaza Terminal case and the Gandier ordinance.

"Sheik" Bandit in Two Hold-ups

A lone bandit, wearing a flashy suit of clothes, a rakish Panama hat, and wielding a black automatic pistol, yesterday robbed two service stations of $37, according to a police report. He drove up to each place in a stolen automobile. First he held up a station operated by L. Goldring at 2900 South Main street, forcing the proprietor to turn over $12, the contents of the cash register. From there he went to a station at 902 Venice Boulevard and took $25 from D. M. Buskin, the proprietor.

Both Goldring and Buskin reported the license number of the bandit's car to the police, who ascertained that it belonged to M. Walker of 4070 East Boulevard, Culver City, and had been stolen from a downtown street shortly before the first robbery.

TAXI CURB PLAN MADE FINAL

Public Utilities Board Approves Action Limiting Cabs; Movement Indorsed by Civic Bodies

Final approval was given yesterday by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation to its resolution of the 18th inst., providing that permits for operating autos for hire, taxicabs and sightseeing cars shall be granted only after the board has determined that public convenience and necessity require operation of such vehicles upon the public streets. Letters commending the board for the resolution were received.

The resolution follows:

AS RESOLUTION READS

"Whereas, applications for permits for automobiles for hire, taxicabs and sightseeing automobiles are being received by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation from time to time from persons, firms and corporations transporting passengers for hire or sightseeing purposes upon the public streets of the city of Los Angeles, and

"Whereas, the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation is of the opinion that in the interest of the public general welfare, public convenience and necessity should exist for the operation of such vehicles for hire prior to the granting of permits therefor;

"Now, be it resolved by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation of the city of Los Angeles that permits for the operation of automobiles for hire, taxicabs and sightseeing cars, as defined by existing ordinances, shall be granted only after said board shall have determined public convenience and necessity require the operation of such vehicles for hire upon the public streets."

A letter from the Commercial Board of Los Angeles, favoring the limitation of taxicabs to those actually required in the city, was received yesterday by the board. The Commercial Board "opposed unnecessary duplication of taxicab service and further traffic congestion" and pointed out that companies now operating at a loss should have a chance to make a success before the city should license additional lines of taxicabs.

The California Development Association of which William M. Garland is president, sent the following letter:

"We are pleased to note the recent ruling by your board providing for the regulation of taxicabs in the city of Los Angeles.

"We feel that this action will result in better service to the public and also provide necessary protection to the substantial taxicab companies that are serving your city.

"We will also bring this action of your board to the attention of other California cities where a similar service may result in material benefit. We strongly commended your board for this constructive action."

An enemy force landing at the harbor not only would have Los Angeles at its mercy but also would have access to the tactically valuable stores of oil in the Los Angeles basin, it is declared, and it would be foolhardy to allow such a military prize to go without protection.

The War Department recently published reports of a movement of railroad artillery to the Pacific Coast. These guns are to be based on Fort MacArthur, but if the garrison is removed, they would have to be taken elsewhere.

Letters from several local posts of the American Legion have been received by the board asking cooperation in a joint protest to the War Department against the abandonment of the harbor defenses.

Paul Clifford Shell, the woman's husband, had asked that he be granted custody of the children following her failure to obtain a divorce in Superior Judge Baird's court three months ago.

JACKIE LOGAN IS WITH LASKY

Universal Makes "Varsity Show"—Promotes Nat Ross; Sally Blane Takes Big Role in "The Very Idea;" Rosetta Duncan Returns to Start Work

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

JACQUELINE LOGAN

Jacqueline Logan seems to have more of a varied career than any girl in the picture business. She is either at the heights, in a wonderful role—in which she always makes good, by the way—or you do not hear of her.

Now, after testing a score of Hollywood's feminine favorites, Paramount has selected Jacqueline Logan to portray one of the two featured leading feminine roles in "The Mighty." Esther Ralston has the other lead, while George Bancroft is the star. Announcement of Miss Logan's engagement was made yesterday by B. P. Schulberg. What's more, we understand there is a chance that Miss Logan will sign a long-term contract with Paramount.

"The Mighty" is to be directed by John Cromwell, noted New York stage director and actor, who collaborated with Edward Sutherland on the making of "Close Harmony" and the talking film version of "Burlesque."

Incidentally, this is the first Paramount picture in which Miss Logan has appeared since she completed her contract with that organization about four years ago. As will be remembered, she made a striking hit in "The Ten Commandments," directed by Cecil B. De Mille.

William Slavens McNutt, creator of the "Whining Kid" race-track stories in the Saturday Evening Post, and Grover Jones, well-known scenario writer, penned the screen play and dialogue of "The Mighty." McNutt recently was placed under contract on Paramount's writing staff.

LEWIS AND GRANGE TO COSTAR FOR U

At last Universal's promise to George Lewis is to come true. He is to be starred in feature-length films.

GEORGE LEWIS

In his first picture he will be costarred with Red Grange, the football player, who made one characteristically colorful splash into pictures, you remember, when he appeared in a football film for F.B.O. something like two years ago, and then went out, so far as pictures were concerned, like a dying rocket. He has lately been signed by Universal, as announced, for one picture.

The picture in which Lewis and Grange will appear is to be called "The Varsity Show."

Nat Ross will direct the feature, which will be a talker. And thereby hangs a tale. Ross has done so excellently well in directing the Collegian short comedies that Universal officials, headed by Carl Laemmle, Jr., have decided to assign him in future to feature-length films.

Red Grange is now in New York, but will come west within the next week or two to start work in "The Varsity Show."

In the meantime the Collegians are all graduating, presumably; at any rate Carl Laemmle, Jr. has decided to end the series.

Ben Holmes has been given the job of directing the last of these, work on which will be completed soon.

But young Laemmle isn't going to desert youth entirely. He is to make a whole new series, to be called by the general term of "Sporting Youth," to be made with an entirely new set of players. Work is already going forward on the first script.

Sally Blane's New Role

Sally Blane yesterday was given her second role under her long-term contract to R.-K.-O. studios.

SALLY BLANE

William Le Baron has selected Sally for a featured part in the forthcoming Radio Pictures version of Le Baron's successful stage play, "The Very Idea." She will take the ingenue lead opposite Hugh Trevor, who is playing his initial feature role under his long-term contract with R.-K.-O.

Frank Craven has one of the leading roles in "The Very Idea," and has also charge of the dialogue direction of the talker, with Richard Rosson on the pictorial end of the direction.

Fred Niblo Departs

With a long-term directorial contract tucked safely away in his vault, Fred Niblo has departed from Hollywood for a motoring vacation with his wife, Enid Bennett.

Signing his new contract after directing his first talker, "Redemption," starring Jack Gilbert, Niblo has set out for an extended automobile tour of California, Washington and Oregon, stopping at the principal mountain and lake resorts en route.

Lupino Lane is Busy

Now that Lupino Lane has treated himself to a two months' vacation, he is embarking upon his talking picture career in earnest. The diminutive comedian will divide his time for the rest of the year between starring in his own comedies for Educational and occupying featured comedy roles in bigger productions with other companies.

Two weeks ago he was signed by Paramount to play a featured comedy role in "The Love Parade," Ernst Lubitsch's production starring Maurice Chevalier. But first Lupino had to begin his own comedy series at Educational. "Fireproof" is the title of this first talking comedy starring Lane.

Betty Caldwell, Robert Graves, Wallace Lupino and Lorraine Rivero, the last named a new find, are in the cast.

Rosetta Duncan Returns

Leaving sister Vivian and big St. Bernard dog Major up in Yosemite, Rosetta Duncan, of the noted Duncan Sisters, has come back to Hollywood to begin the preparation of her story, "Cotton and Silk," for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. She went into conference yesterday with Director Sam Woods regarding the story, on which work is to commence early in July.

ROSETTA DUNCAN

"We did everything up there but yodel for the Indians," said the lively Rosetta yesterday. "Major had a great time chasing the bears. It's honestly the first time that Vivian and I ever visited Yosemite, though we are native Californians.

Edna May Oliver In It

Brought west to play in the supporting cast of Clara Bow's next talking picture, Edna May Oliver, noted character actress from the stage, arrived in Hollywood yesterday.

Signed to a contract by Paramount, Miss Oliver obtained her release from the Boston "Show Boat" company the 1st inst., and departed immediately for the Coast. This is Miss Oliver's first visit to Hollywood. However, she has appeared in numerous pictures made in New York.

Water Profits Split Opposed as Penalizing

Participation by the Harbor Department in profits to be derived from an additional water supply planned at the harbor by the Water and Power Department would penalize the development, according to a communication read to the Harbor Board yesterday which asks the latter to reconsider.

The Water and Power Department plans an expenditure of $200,000 in drilling for water on Terminal Island for the fish canneries and the Harbor Board granted the permit with the understanding that the department should share in profits from any additional patrons served other than the canneries.

A complaint from the fishermen of the harbor district against the dockage tax at Fish Harbor for their boats was forwarded by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce.

The tax was ordered rescinded pending investigation.

The board granted the application of the Southern Counties Gas Company for permission to install a gas main on Dock street, near Mormon street, Terminal Island.

CITY PIONEER STARTS TO CHICAGO FOR VISIT

Mrs. Mary Urgo of 521 Coytino Place, accompanied by her youngest son, James Urgo, left last night over the Union Pacific for a month's stay in Chicago, where she will visit relatives, some of whom she has not seen for thirty-five years. This is the first time Mrs. Urgo has been out of California since she arrived in the United States from Italy thirty years ago. Mrs. Urgo has resided at the Coytino Place address for twenty-four years of the time she has been a resident of Los Angeles. She has nine sons, four of whom are married, and all of them living in Los Angeles.

PICNIC WILL BE HELD SUNDAY BY 233 CLUB

Once a year the 233 Club of Hollywood holds an outing which is the gala outdoor event of the year. This season Whiting Woods at La Crescenta has been chosen as the location and the date is Sunday. Many stage and screen players are members and they will attend to take part in the various contests, with music by the Stockade Cafe Boys, and to enjoy with others the barbecue lunch. The Los Angeles Fire Department Band will supply concert music on the grounds throughout the day. Charles Eng is chairman of the executive committee of the picnic.

These young moderns—so delightfully insouciant are they, so charming withal, that no matter how bizarre the mode introduced, they eagerly adopt and convert it into something at once so becoming and practical that they actually make us like and approve it. Speaking of the ubiquitous "pants," call them tennis rompers, divided golf skirts, lounging or beach pajamas, garden overalls, shorts, or what you will, they still remain a garment borrowed from brother's wardrobe. In grandmother's time they were much beruffled and dignified with the appellation of "pantalettes." Today we strip them of all their silly flummery and recognize them for what they are—the most versatile and adaptable garment ever invented.

If you have "gone Hollywood," as it were, then there's no discussion of the point, the midsummer theme of your wardrobe is white. White as a flattering foil to your sun-tanned skin, white for sports, in washable silks or pique, white for afternoon bridge-ing and tea-ing—fluttery, graceful georgette or crisp organdie; white for formal evening wear, glittering with crystal beads, or of bouffant tulle. From dawn to dawn you are wearing it, knowing that you are perfectly keyed to the sun-tan vogue.

A special program of music will be rendered by Irving Aaronson's Commanders in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel tonight, when Filmland's celebrities will welcome to Hollywood, Harry Richmond's night club, King of New York and famous Broadway stage star. Richmond will be master of ceremonies.

It probably is a fad which will not attain popularity overnight, though it creates quite a sensation on the boulevard, when a certain motion-picture actor appears with a monstrous black eagle perched on the rumble seat of his classy sport roadster. A pet? Well, maybe.

BOY BEATS WAY FROM PORTO RICO

Ordeals which the conquistadores survived in their search for California's fabled golden cities were little worse than the obstacles overcome by Luis Carlos Moerlando, 15-year-old Porto Rican stowaway, who yesterday arrived here aboard the Panama Mail liner Venezuela, after two weary years striving to reach Los Angeles.

Luis was so inspired, he said, by the letters from his brother Richard, about Los Angeles, that he decided to make his way here. He has been an orphan since he was 3.

He stowed away at Ponce, Porto Rico, in 1927 aboard a British tramp steamer and came to Tampico on the Mexican east coast. Two whole years that followed were spent in crossing the deserts and mountains of Mexico. Luis said that for days he climbed mountains and hiked over the desert without food.

At Mazatlan, a week ago, he stowed away in one of the Venezuela's launches when it put ashore for passengers. Yesterday, his brother could not be located. C. G. Gatley, port immigration chief, is detaining the youngster unless he can prove that he is a Porto Rican and, therefore, entitled to free entry into California.

Luis hopes that his brother will see this story and vouch for his citizenship.

WIFE ASSERTS GIRLS' NAMES IN POCKET

When Edwin Blankenship came home with the names and telephone numbers of girls in his pockets, his 16-year-old wife, Ruth, told Superior Judge Rosenkranz, at an alimony hearing, she was sure he had been in improper company. In her divorce complaint, Mrs. Blankenship had accused her husband of beating her 2-year-old child. Blankenship was ordered to pay his wife $35 a month for the support of the child, and Mrs. Blankenship was ordered to find employment if she wants to have the custody of her child.

Hysteria Leads to Disappearance

A police search was instituted yesterday for Della Stanford, 28 years of age, of 1556 Clay street, following a report made by her sister May that after a night of hysteria spent in the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital she became lost in the shopping crowd on Sixth street between Hill street and Broadway and failed to return to her home.

Miss Stanford said her sister collapsed from the heat and became hysterical on the Ridge Route while they were motoring here from San Francisco Tuesday. She took her to the hospital, she said, where the stricken woman throughout the night had a delusion that her sister wished to kill her. Yesterday morning, however, she had recovered sufficiently to return to her home, and later in the day the sisters went downtown together, the separation following.

The missing woman is described as weighing 140 pounds, with red, curly hair and gray eyes. She was wearing a gray coat, pink dress and white felt hat, and had $45 in her purse.

DAMAGES REQUESTED

John E. Staley, operator of the Hot Shot Cafe at 471 San Fernando Road, yesterday appealed to the City Council for redress in the amount of $95, assertedly resulting from damages to his property from the tunneling of a contractor building a sewer. The Council referred the matter to the City Engineer for investigation.

CELEBRATION FUND ASKED

The Hollenbeck Heights Improvement Association yesterday petitioned the city for an appropriation of $250 for a Fourth of July celebration. The request was referred to the Finance Committee.

MORE ACTORS IN TAX WEB

Raymond Griffith, Raymond McKee and Adviser of Former Named in Federal Indictments

With the return of three true bills yesterday by the Federal grand jury, two more motion-picture actors and their adviser were added to the list of those indicted for making false and fraudulent income-tax returns.

The defendants are Raymond Griffith and Raymond McKee, motion-picture actors, and Edward H. Hayden, income-tax adviser. Griffith is accused of making a false return for the years 1925 and 1926. The government asserts that his gross income for 1925 was $65,596.70, with deductions allowable of $4974.20, and that a tax of $6989.48 should have been paid. It was stated that he claimed deductions of $18,646.64.

For 1926, it is asserted, his gross income was $115,154.79, with allowable deducations of $9131.10, and that a tax of $17,624.67 should have been paid. It is asserted that for this year he claimed deductions of $30,996.23.

McKee is accused of false returns for 1925 and 1926. It is asserted that in 1925 his gross income was $27,445.71, with allowable deductions of $3780.23, and that a tax of $1068.63 should have been paid. It was stated that McKee paid a tax of $42.90, stating his income was $18,608.93 and claiming $11,305.23 in deductions. For the year 1926 it is charged that his income was $31,841.47 gross, with allowable deductions of $2477.60, and that a tax of $1681.06 should have been paid, whereas only $56.02 in taxes was paid. McKee is asserted to have said his income for this year was $23,425 and claimed deductions of $15,035.30.

Hayden was indicted for making an asserted false return for Griffith for 1927. Bail for Griffith and McKee was set at $5000. Hayden is out on bail on another charge.

STATE DEMANDS HOWARD DEATH

Pasadenan's Fate Will Go to Jury Today Noon

Fervent Plea for Asserted Cooley Slayer Made

Instructions May Include Five Verdict Forms

John L. Howard should die upon the gallows for the murder of Victor A. Cooley, Pasadena automobile man, or should be acquitted as an innocent man.

Upon this point the State and defense made their opening arguments to a jury yesterday in Judge Hardy's court, where Howard has been on trial for the past ten days on a charge of murder growing out of the fatal hammer attack on Cooley in the latter's apartment April 16, last.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Aggeler, making the opening plea for the State, reviewed the evidence and concluded with the remark that "this man is an atrocious, cold-blooded murderer, and there should be but one verdict, first-degree murder — and one penalty, death."

DEFENSE ARGUMENT

John A. Deweese, opening for the defense, was likewise insistent in his demands that the jury should avoid a compromise verdict, but he interpreted the evidence as indicating clearly that Howard is an innocent man, that some other person beat Cooley with a hammer.

"We do not want you to try and find any excuse for acquitting Howard," Deweese told the jurors. "If this man is guilty it is cold-blooded murder, but if he is not guilty of that then he is not guilty of anything."

Arguments to the jury got under way following the examination during the morning session of Ralph Hanan, concluding rebuttal witnesses for the State. Hanan is the former husband of Mrs. Evelyn Merritt Hanan of Pasadena, who at one time was mentioned in the investigation of the case as being Cooley's intended bride.

Hanan came from Carson City, Nev., to testify that he was in that city during the time when Cooley was attacked last April. Hanan declared that he had not seen Cooley since March, 1928.

AGGELER SCORES HOWARD

The testimony was given to offset a statement by Howard that he had "suspected another man."

In pleading with the jury for a first-degree murder verdict, Dep.-Dist.-Atty. Aggeler branded Howard as a "coward, who sneaked up on his friend and employer while the latter slept and beat his life away."

"He has tried to throw up smoke screens in this case, to cast suspicions on other persons," said Aggeler.

Defense Attorney Deweese, however, painted the entire case against Howard as one of a flimsy nature that was based on a worthless confession, a statement that had been obtained from Howard under duress and did not contain a true set of facts.

Court will convene an hour earlier than usual this morning. Judge Hardy planned to give the case to the jury at noon.

Defense Counsel Josiah Coombs will make the closing argument for the defense and will be followed by Chief Deputy District-Attorney Jordan, who will deliver the final plea for the prosecution. It is expected Jordan will attempt to convince the jury that Howard was in love with Mrs. Pearl Cooley, widow of the slain man, and killed Cooley to remove the latter as an obstruction in his pursuit of the affections of Mrs. Cooley.

JURY INSTRUCTIONS

Howard testified that he had "kissed and hugged" Mrs. Cooley, but was never in love with her. Mrs. Cooley, however, declared that she inferred from his actions and conduct that he was in love with her and wanted to marry her. She testified she told him she could never love any other man so long as Cooley was alive.

It is understood Judge Hardy will instruct the jury to bring in one of five possible verdicts: First-degree murder carrying the death penalty, first-degree murder with life imprisonment, second-degree murder, manslaughter or acquittal.

COLISEUM LEASE UP IN COUNCIL TODAY

The Council this morning is scheduled to take up the report of the Finance Committee submitting the revised form of the contract between the city, county and Community Development Association, whereby the Coliseum is to be leased to the association and the latter reconstructs and enlarges it.

HER AUTO INJURIES HELD UNAVOIDABLE

Lucille Collins

A traffic crash at Santa Monica Boulevard and Van Ness avenue, which knocked out Lucille Collins, stage and film dancer, for thirty minutes, was unavoidable, a jury in Municipal Judge Walter B. Thompson's court decided yesterday when it found George Barrett, taxi driver, not guilty of reckless driving.

Miss Collins told the jury she heard breaks squeal and felt the car in which she was riding, driven by Russell Coles, film actor of 5817 Virginia avenue, overturn. Her head hit the pavement and she was knocked out, but suffered no permanent injury, she said.

Officer Gets Commendation for Heroic Act

Detective Lieutenant W. H. Schubert, attached to the vice squad, found himself commended in the daily police bulletin yesterday for an act of heroism performed last Sunday but about which he had had nothing to say until it was called to Chief Davis's attention in a letter from E. Bittke, Playa Del Rey life guard. Schubert, it developed, dragged a woman from a watery grave.

According to Bittke's report, the woman, Mrs. Norma Wooley of 416½ West Forty-fifth street, ventured 150 yards from shore and was unable to get back. Schubert, who was spending the day there in a bathing suit, observed her distress, swam through the heavy surf, reaching her as she was about to go down, and brought her to shore. Bittke was too far away to be of any assistance in the rescue, but arrived in time to help Schubert resuscitate the woman, the work of reviving her requiring two hours.

GALA EVENT LISTED AT CRITERION

"Madame X" starts at the Fox Criterion Theater today. Lionel Barrymore and a large studio party will be present at the evening performance.

RUTH CHATTERTON

Metro - Goldwyn-Mayer studios and West Coast theaters have combined their resources in the launching of the noted all-talking play with its all-star cast, and anticipate both a longer run and a greater patronage for "Madame X" than for any other serious photoplay produced at the M.-G.-M. studios during the past five years.

Reports received at the theater indicate that "Madame X" will make its strongest appeal to the younger generation, curious to see and hear the original dialogue and situations from which not a line has been deleted by Director Lionel Barrymore and Willard Mack.

Ruth Chatterton, now at Paramount; Raymond Hackett at First National and Lewis Stone at M.-G.-M., will attend the opening day performances at the theater, where they will be joined by Barrymore.

Miss Chatterton has the title role and enacts the part of an erring mother who, torn from her child, sinks to life's depths. The Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Berth-marks," just completed, has been added to the Fox Criterion program in addition to the feature picture, Mickey Mouse cartoon and Fox talking newsreel.

Story of Prize Ring to Start Paramount Run

"The Man I Love," an all-talking romance of the prize ring, comes to the Paramount Theater today, and will introduce Richard Arlen and Mary Brian in their most important talking roles to date.

The young players are supported by a cast of Paramount notables, including Baclanova, Harry Green, Jack Oakie and Pat O'Malley. Arlen scored in "Thunderbolt," Mary Brian in "Varsity," Baclanova in "The Wolf of Wall Street" and "A Dangerous Woman." Harry Green in "Close Harmony," and Jack Oakie in the same picture as well as "The Dummy." Pat O'Malley did notable work in "Alibi," in which he was featured.

Arlen is seen in "The Man I Love" as a prize fighter who attains the right to battle for the championship. Mary Brian appears as his wife who sacrifices everything to be with her husband and help him gain the championship. Baclanova has the role of a wealthy woman who is fascinated by Arlen and endeavors to introduce him into her circle of friends. Harry Green takes the comedy end of the story as Arlen's manager.

Smith and Dale head a new musical revue on the Movietone, "Dear Teacher."

Fejos Invents Camera Device for 'Broadway'

Overshadowing other technical achievements in the filming of "Broadway," Universal's Carl Laemmle, Jr., production, current at the Biltmore Theater, is the camera crane, invented by Paul Fejos, director of the film, to photograph the elaborate sets featured as backgrounds for the emotional sequences.

This device, weighing twenty-eight tons and resembling a large derrick on a universal-joint fulcrum, with the camera mounted on a platform at the extreme end of a fifty-foot boom, brings to the screen photographic effects and angles never before accomplished, it is said. Particularly effective is the photography of the interior of the Paradise Night Club, with its chorus of thirty dancing girls, and modernistic decorations. Many sequences of "Broadway" are also photographed in technicolor.

Glenn Tryon, Evelyn Brent and Merna Kennedy have principal roles in "Broadway," which closely follows in dialogue and action the stage play by George Abbott and Philip Dunning on which it is based.

Warner Picture Requires Much Research Work

A study of the statistical figures in the production of "Noah's Ark," the Warner Brothers Vitaphone production that is now at Warner Brothers Theater, shows that fifty technical experts were engaged in research work for data on the actual construction of the Ark and the other ancient sets. An army of skilled artisans worked in three eight-hour shifts daily for three months preparing the temple and courtyard scenes.

Sewing machines worked on costumes that required 18,000 yards of material and almost a half-million yards of silk braid for the 10,000 extra people that were used in the filming of this spectacle. There were requisitions for 3000 wigs and 6000 beards, when research revealed that hair and beards of cord, silk, gold and other materials were used in that period.

Dolores Costello is starred in the opus, with George O'Brien, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Guinn Williams in the supporting cast. Michael Curtiz directed and the production was supervised by Darryl Francis Zanuck.

"Hindu" Offers Contrasts

Franc Hale

A blond, will occupy the role of leading woman opposite Walker Whiteside in the drama of the Orient, which starts Sunday at the President.

ROXY OF WEST TO OPEN

Described as "an acoustically perfect palace" the new Fox Theater in San Francisco will throw open its doors to the public tomorrow evening. A civic celebration is to signalize the premiere in the northern city, and a number of city officials, stars, studio executives and others will leave here tonight on a special train to be present.

The delegation attending will be headed by Harold B. Franklin, president of the Fox West Coast Theaters. Mayor-elect John Porter, Capt. Walker and Fire Chief Scott will be present.

Among the stars who will attend are Warner Baxter, Edmund Lowe, Mary Duncan, Paul Muni, Janet Gaynor, Lois Moran, William Collier, Charles Farrell, George Jessel, Victor McLaglen, George O'Brien, Joe Brown, Will Rogers, Renee Adoree, Norma Shearer, George K. Arthur, Nils Asther, Wallace Beery, Joan Crawford, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Buster Keaton, William Haines, Bessie Love, Anita Page, Karl Dane, Charley Chase, Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Harry Langdon, Reginald Denny, Lois Wilson, Loretta Young, Lupe Velez, Lily Damita, Gary Cooper, Richard Arlen, Charles Murray, Alice White, Polly Moran and Julia Faye. Studio and theater executives will include W. R. Sheehan, Louis B. Mayer, J. L. Warner, Irving Thalberg, Harold B. Franklin, Sid Grauman and others.

Features of the new theater that will draw the attention of all visitors crystallize in its exceptional sound equipment. The entire structure has been built to achieve the greatest efficiency in sound projection and amplification. The cost is stated at $5,000,000 and the theater is referred to as the "Roxy of the West," though it is said to be finer even for sound than its eastern counterpart.

FILM CAST WILL APPEAR

Practically the entire cast will attend in person when "She Goes to War" starts tomorrow night at the United Artists Theater. Eleanor Boardman, Edmund Burns, John Holland, Al St. John and Yola D'Avril of the cast, and Henry King, director, are among those who will be present.

The premiere of the first war story to portray the woman's side of the conflict is of particular interest, it is said, and many film celebrities are planning theater parties for the first night.

"She Goes to War" has been filmed on a large scale, presenting battle scenes never before shown on the screen. The plot is said to be a gripping and human one, with Eleanor Boardman in the role of a girl who goes overseas for a thrill—and stays to risk her life for her fiance, with strange circumstances bringing her at last into the front-line trenches, where she fights alongside the men.

COMPOSERS WILL HEAD LATE SHOW

"Tin Pan Alley" Moves to Hollywood for Matinee at Chinese Theater

Featuring nationally known writers of popular songs, a unique musical fiesta will be presented on the program of the midnight matinee Saturday of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Hollywood Revue of 1929" in Grauman's Chinese Theater, according to an announcement just made by H. B. Wright, managing director.

Scheduled to appear in the novelty are such writers of song hits as Gus Edwards, Nacio Herb Brown, Jesse Greer, Louis Alter, Fred Fisher, Fred E. Ahlert, Dave Dreyer, Herbert Stothart and Milton Ager. Famous popular songs of past and present written by these composers will be featured in the musical novelty.

The fiesta of song will be directed by a nationally known master of ceremonies and ten pianos will be employed in the presentation. Several of the composers to appear contributed song hits to the "Hollywood Revue." All are members of M.-G.-M.'s aggregation of song writers, creating melodies for sound films.

Loew's to Show Billie Dove on Talking Screen

For the first time Billie Dove's voice, said to possess the same lovely romantic quality that has characterized her personal charm in the silent drama, is heard in "Careers," the First National all-dialogue drama, starting today at Loew's State.

Cochin China is the oriental locale for the drama, which concerns a young French magistrate and his beautiful wife. The magistrate, after enduring with his wife the rigors of a virtual exile in the province, fails to secure a promotion. His wife then is placed in the position of making a sacrifice to aid her husband's career. Noah Beery portrays the resident chief.

Thelma Todd, Carmel Myers, Holmes Herbert, Robert Frazer and Sojin are also in the cast. Rube Wolf and Renie Riano provide the eccentric comedy in the Fanchon and Marco stage offering, "The Love School." Miss Riano, known as the girl with the India-rubber legs, is featured as an eccentric comedienne.

LOVE IS FASHIONED

Paramount announces that Adolphe Menjou's first all-talking picture, from Hermann Bahr's play, "The Concert," will be released as "Fashions in Love."

Hillstreet to Screen Feature Sound Pictures

Three outstanding film attractions of the season will be shown almost concurrently at the Hillstreet Theater, following the close of the all-girl R.-K.-O. collegiate show.

The three pictures are "The Squall," an all-talking adaptation of the stage play of the same name; Billie Dove's talking picture, "The Man and the Moment," with Rod La Rocque, directed by George Fitzmaurice, and Corinne Griffith's epic of the sea, "The Divine Lady," produced under the direction of Frank Lloyd.

"The Squall" starts at the Hillstreet Saturday with Myrna Loy portraying the role of Nubi, gypsy flame. The film also marks the return of Alice Joyce to the screen. Alexander Korda directed.

"AYONA" GIVEN AT MEXICAN THEATER

Catalina S. De Gonzalez

A theatrical event of the day which is keeping the Spanish-speaking circles of Los Angeles in high expectancy is the premiere of the comedy, "Ayona," which will be staged in the Teatro Mexico this evening. The writer of the play is Catalina S. De Gonzalez, who descends in direct line from the oldest line of Spanish aristocracies.

She has cultivated belles-lettres from her early youth, and it did not take her long to attain an enviable position among contemporary Mexican intellectuals as a dramatist and poetess of inspiration.

PLAYERS IN NEW DRAMA ANNOUNCED

Hilda Vaughn to Support Helen Menken and Boyd in "Top o' the Hill"

Felix Young, producer of "Top o' the Hill," which comes to the Mayan Theater July 8, today disclosed the complete cast which will support Helen Menken and William Boyd, cast in opposite principal roles.

Hilda Vaughn, late star of "Tempico," and Anderson Lawler, New York juvenile, are cast in the two outstanding suuporting parts, and the remainder of the company includes the names of players known to the Broadway stage, but who have appeared in local productions previously. They are Alden Gay, Kate Campbell, John Webb Dillion, Ida Darling, Jean Temple and Russell Morrison.

The presence of both Miss Menken and Boyd, surrounded by a list of well-known stage players, gives Young's new production a brilliant ensemble.

Orpheum Adds Buster West to New Bill

With Buster West, late feature of George White's "Scandals," and Herb Williams included on the program, the Orpheum next week will present a triple-headline program, the third attraction being Harry Carroll, who will appear in an offering of song with Ann Greenway.

John West and Ada Broadbent will assist Buster. Other R.-K.-O. acts announced include Glenn & Jenkins, blackface funsters; Edythe Marcelle and Ted Williams in "The Kitchen Pirates" with George Andre and Salve Gianino; Chase & Latour company in "Around the Corner;" a skit by Paul Gerard Smith; Tyler & St. Clair, "Plank Spankers," and the Mangean Troupe in "Sensational Wild West Pastimes."

Helen Hayes to Portray Flirt in "Coquette"

"Coquette," the searching tragedy of a southern flirt, in which Helen Hayes comes to the Belasco Monday night for a limited engagement, was produced in its original form at Maxine Elliott's Theater in New York in November, 1927. A year later its producer, Jed Harris, sold the motion-picture rights to the play to United Artists as a vehicle for Mary Pickford's debut in talking pictures.

When the release date for the picture was set by Mr. Harris, he did not contemplate sending the play to this coast, as Miss Hayes was then scheduled to open in "Coquette" in London under the joint management of Harris and C. B. Cochrane. These negotiations did not materialize, however.

With Helen Hayes in "Coquette" at the Belasco will appear the same cast identified with the year's run of the play at Maxine Elliott's Theater in New York.

Lucile Nikolas Takes Original Role in Drama

Lucile Nikolas came to the Pacific Coast for a summer holiday following the close of the season of the play in which she was appearing on Broadway. She had been here only two weeks when Henry Duffy engaged her to enact her original role of the daughter in "The Big Pond." She will be seen in the part when Robert McWade and the Henry Duffy Players present it at the Hollywood Playhouse, starting Sunday.

The actress has appeared in numerous productions, such as in "Time," "Sisters," "Across the Street" and "The Tightwad." "The Big Pond" was first produced in Baltimore and Miss Nikolas appeared as Barbara.

Others in the cast will be Donald Randolph, James Bush, Leah Winslow, Jane Morgan and John Mackenzie.

Noted Cast to Offer "Hamlet"

"Hamlet" as portrayed by a man who is an authority on psychiatry, and who conceives Hamlet as a clear case of lunacy, will be offered at the Windsor Square Theater for three nights starting tomorrow. The proceeds of the performances will be given to the Nurses' Home of the Hollywood Clara Barton Hospital.

Included in the noted cast of characters are the following: Montague Love as the King of Denmark, who has played with Matheson Lang in India, South Africa, China and other countries of the world—Elly Malyon as the Queen, who took this role with H. Irving, Jr.; Lionel Belmore as the First Grave Digger, who has been playing Shakespeare since 1886; Fritz Feld, known as the Piper in "The Miracle," and Edgar Lear, an active amateur in theatricals since the age of 10. Lear takes the part of Hamlet.

CHEVALIER FILM STARTS

Norma Shearer will be seen and heard for the last times at the Fox West Lake tonight in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," her first all-talking production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The current Fox Westlake bill also includes Fox Movietone News and new talkie shorts. Maurice Chevalier, comes tomorrow for a three-day engagement in "Innocents of Paris." Paramount has surrounded the famous French star with a fine cast of favorites for his first American film.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Through narrow, winding alleyways Tarzan went. Then up a rickety stairs. Behind a lighted window he saw two men talking. One was the suspected French officer, in the act of handing the other some papers. Then he left the room. Silently Tarzan opened the door as the second fellow turned his face. It was Rokoff, the Russian!

The villain's face paled as he saw Tarzan. With a shriek he sprang up. The ape-man leaped upon him, iron fingers choking him into insensibility. The papers proved to be the missing state documents! With them Tarzan hastened to Algiers, en route to Cape Town, learning meanwhile that Rokoff's accomplice, the traitor, had shot himself.

As Tarzan walked up the ship's gangway, two men could have been observed watching him closely. He settled himself for the long voyage, congratulating himself that he had seen the last of Rokoff. Every night he spent hours on deck watching the endless sea. And always his every movement was being secretly observed.

Tonight the last straggler had left the deck. From the shadows two men crept. Quite close now, they crouched behind Tarzan. Suddenly they leaped for their victim. Before Tarzan of the Apes, lightning though he was, could save himself, he was pitched over the rail and was falling into the deep Atlantic.

WITHINGTON'S WILL UPHELD

Tia Juana Gambling House Proprietor's Widow Loses Again in Fight for $878,000

Mrs. Georgia May Withington, widow of Carl Withington, Tia Juana gambling house proprietor, who died October 23, 1925, yesterday lost another step in her four-year old battle for control of Withington's $878,000 estate. The District Court of Appeal upheld the judgment of the Superior Court of San Diego county, which instructed a jury, in a contest over Withington's will, to return a verdict for the respondents.

In the will, made eight days before Withington's death, the testator left his widow only certain community property under the law.

OTHER BEQUESTS

To Lucille Moore, with whom, the opinion states, Withington is asserted to have been living in San Diego at the time of his death, there was left $20,000. To Louis Kucick and Peter Donarlache, friends, was bequeathed $10,000 each. The residue went to Lyle Woodward Withington, a brother, and to three sisters.

The widow contested the will on three grounds: First that Withington was of unsound mind; second that Lucille Moore exerted an influence on Withington that kept him away from his wife and that she exercised domination and control over him, and third; that because of Miss Moore's actions, Withington was induced to provide for her in his will.

There was no evidence to prove any of these claims, the Appellate Court declares, and, in the opinion, it point out that the widow and Withington once discussed divorce and that he offered her $250,000 as a settlement, which she refused.

MONEY UTILIZED

The opinion further points out that both while living with her husband and afterward, Mrs. Withington accepted for her maintenance and support, money derived from the operation of Withington's various establishments, and that she frequented these places.

The court held that there was no evidence at the trial to show that Lucille Moore was instrumental in any way in influencing the text of Withington's will or that he was not of sound and disposing mind when the will was executed.

The opinion was written by Justice Craig of the Second Division, District Court of Appeal, and concurred in by Justice Thompson.

BALTIMORE ELKS TO LEAD

Maryland Delegation Scheduled to Arrive July 6 for National Convention

First delegations to the sixty-fifth national Elks' convention here July 7 to 13 will arrive Saturday evening, July 6. The official delegation from Baltimore will arrive at 7:30 p.m. that day and will be followed by the New York contingent at 9:45 p.m. Each delegation will arrive on special trains and will be greeted by the White Squadron of Lodge No. 99 and bands and escorted to their hotels amid singing and band music.

The arrival of these delegations will mark the beginning of an influx of visitors expected to surpass the 100,000 mark before the formal opening of the convention on Tuesday morning, July 9. Elks will arrive by steamer, rail and airplane from points as distant as Alaska, the Hawaiian Islands and the Panama Canal Zone. They will arrive by the tens of thousands from States in the Middle West, the South and the Atlantic seaboard.

MANY DRIVING HERE

Carl E. McStay, general chairman of the conclave, says more people will come to the convention in automobiles than have used that manner of transportation to come to all conventions staged in Los Angeles during the past ten years.

Executives of the local lodge in charge of the convention donned their official conclave uniforms yesterday to pose for pictures. The costumes, suggestive of early California history, are of the caballero type and will be worn by hundreds of California lodgemen.

TICKET SALE HEAVY

Heavy sales of tickets to the Elks' Coliseum events, which will climax the convention on Thursday, July 11, are reported at convention headquarters. On that afternoon 10,000 Elks garbed in historical costumes will march in a spectacular dress parade.

A polo game will be staged early in the evening, to be followed by the final presentation of the augmented and reconstructed $1,000,000 motion-picture electrical pageant. The pageant of illuminated floats, with Monte Blue as grand marshal, will be presented by the motion-picture industry. Tickets admitting to these events cost $2.50 and may be obtained at B. H. Dyas stores.

GHOST TALE UNFINISHED AS WRITER DISAPPEARS

Police of the missing-persons detail were asked yesterday to search for Robert Gallin, 38-year-old World War veteran and author of war and mystery stories, who, it is reported, disappeared on the 8th inst. without revealing his destination. His disappearance was reported by W. A. Bertelson, manager of an apartment-house at 739 South Coronado street, where Gallin registered May 19, last.

In search of a clew, Detective Lieutenant Fibley of the Georgia-street division went to Gallin's apartment and reported he found the place in order. All the man's belongings were intact and there was about $50 worth of groceries in the larder and an unfinished manuscript of a ghost story in a typewriter.

Police believe it is possible Gallin went to a ranch he is said to own in Arizona or New Mexico, but his literary agent, Dr. Walton of the Van Nuys Hotel, was unable to confirm this theory, disclaiming any knowledge of his client's whereabouts.

CORNERO NAMED IN TRUE BILL

New Federal Indictment Returned Against Three Freed in Recent Rum Trial

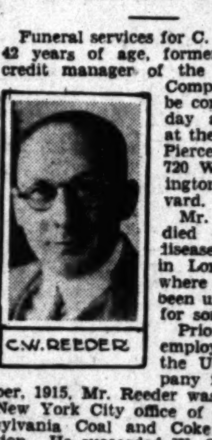
Frankie Cornero, brother of Tony Cornero, asserted to be connected with the liquor traffic, was indicted again yesterday by the Federal grand jury on a charge of violating the tariff act by smuggling into the country large quantities of liquor. With him were indicted his sister, Mrs. Madeline Stralla Crank, and her husband, Lewis Crank. All three recently were acquitted of similar charges by a jury in United States District Court.

The new charges in the true bill are that the three landed about 300 cases of liquor near Sunset Beach in November and December of 1927 in three loads. This charge constitutes three asserted offenses and makes up three counts. Three other counts charge that the three received and concealed the liquor that was landed.

Deputy marshals last night began a search for the three to place them in custody. It is expected they each will provide bail of $5000, which is required.

Funeral Service of C. W. Reeder Will Be Today

Funeral services for C. W. Reeder, 42 years of age, formerly general credit manager of the Union Oil Company, will be conducted today at 10 a.m. at the parlors of Pierce Brothers, 720 West Washington Boulevard.



C.W. REEDER

Mr. Reeder died of heart disease Tuesday in Long Beach, where he had been under care for some time.

Prior to his employment with the Union company in December, 1915, Mr. Reeder was with the New York City office of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Corporation. He succeeded W. C. Trew as general credit manager of the Union Oil Company, February 14, 1928.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Helen Reeder, two sons, Robert, 12, and Donald, 7; a brother, Clinton F. Reeder, and relatives in the East. The Reeder home is at 1523 West Fifty-fifth street, Los Angeles.

ART COLLECTION CENTER OF SUIT

Dealer Charges Worthless Land Given Him

Antiques Frauds, Defendants Say in Answer

Heavy Damages Sought by Both Sides in Deal

An antique collection which one side contends contains rare objets d'art with a total value of $200,000, and the other side asserting it is of no intrinsic value except as modern pieces of goods, occupies the center of the stage in a hotly contested court fight begun by Jules Ratzkowski, art collector, against W. J. Hole and his wife, Mary Hole, now being waged before Superior Judge Archbald.

Ratzkowski, in his complaint asserts he turned the valuable collection over to Hole and his wife for $50,000 in cash and approximately 200 acres of farm land in Riverside county. The land, he declares, was represented to him as fertile California farm land worth $600 an acre.

ANSWER CHARGES FRAUD

In their cross-complaint in the action, Mr. and Mrs. Hole say they gave the art collector $50,000 in cash and the land.

In the trial now going on Ratzkowski avers the land was not what it was represented in the deal and asks damages in the sum of $89,978.

Answering the charges of Ratzkowski, Mr. and Mrs. Hole say the antique collection is not what the collector represented it to be, also that he failed to furnish documentary proof as to the genuineness of pieces in the collection as promised, therefore they are out $50,000 in cash and a fine California rancho. All they got, they assert, is a collection, whose value will not exceed, all told, the sum of $50,000.

DEAL MADE IN 1927

The agreement between Hole and his wife and the art collector was made on March 3, 1927. Ratzkowski said at the time he was a citizen of France and unfamiliar with land and land values in California.

On their side, Hole and his wife assert that when they entered into the agreement with Ratzkowski he told them the collection they were getting was a part of one formerly owned by Ferdande de Conde, a direct descendant of the Prince de Conde who was a member of an illustrious branch of the royal family of France. He told them, they say, that it was a part of an extensive collection from the Chateau de Biarge in France and was moved en bloc across the Atlantic.

One of the pieces of the collection, according to the complainants, was supposed to be a magnificent inlaid rosewood cabinet, chiseled and sculptured cuivre dore, a piece that was an undisputed masterpiece of the great artist Reisner of the eighteenth century, bearing the signature of the maker. The value was said to be $30,000.

PIECES DESCRIBED

Another one of the pieces was a mineralogical cabinet on which was a bronze tablet with a presentation inscription from Gustav III, King of Sweden, to Prince de Conde, dated 1774. It was supposed to have been given by Louis XVI to a Princess de Conde as a wedding gift. Also in the collection was a large Renaissance dish of enamel silver of various shades which was a masterpiece that never could be reproduced and valued at $30,000.

Other rare pieces include a silver clock worth among antique collectors, if genuine, the sum of $30,000.

Hole and his wife then go on to complain in their cross-complaint that Ratzkowski agreed to furnish them with documents authenticating the antiques and verifying their genuineness. This, they assert, he failed to do. They also assert that after receiving the antiques they learned that most of the collection consisted of pieces that were modern reproductions of antiques and had no intrinsic value as antiques. They assert the cabinet mentioned above was not made by the great artist Reisner, that the piece is an imitation, also that the collection never was in the Chateau de Biarge in France.

Hole and his wife accuse the art collector of misrepresenting the rarity of the antiques and ask damages in the sum of $150,000.

Halem Baker of 2204 South Carmona street, is reported by police to have struck Stanton, but he was released following statements of witnesses that Stanton was at fault and dashed in front of Baker's automobile. Stanton received a crushed skull and severe leg injuries, a hospital report stated.

RULING ON DIVORCE DELAYED BY JUDGE

Maybe it was because Arthur Q. Hagerman, publicity man, had to talk so much in line of duty away from home, that he had few words for his wife, Gladys McConnell, film actress, she asserted in Superior Judge Edmonds's court yesterday. Anyway, according to her statement, he was "sullen and morose" in her presence, and wouldn't speak for hours. This, Miss McConnell thought, was cruelty, and she asked a divorce on that ground. Judge Edmonds said he would take the case under advisement. He will have to think it over, he said, before he can allow a divorce on the evidence.

With just a suggestion of formality a group of company officials assembled at the plant to watch the 5-year-old son of B. F. Schleicher, vice-president, start the machinery moving.

The group included beside Vice-President Schleicher, A. Schleicher, president and founder of the company; E. L. Davis, vice-president in charge of manufacturing; H. H. Clark, process development engineer, P. J. Messerschmitt, engineer, C. L. Remy, production superintendent, and F. M. Stebbins, assistant superintendent.

Two complete mill lines embracing eight large machines were set in motion in the first operation, which is is expected will be followed by other units before the plant is completed. Although the six-story administration building has progressed only to the finishing of the structural steel work, the roof and walls of the factory building are complete, the roof, it is said, being the largest west of the Mississippi River.
